A POPULAR CALENDAR.

CALENDAR AND ALMANACK.

The word CALENDAR (which is sometimes spelt Kalendar,) is properly a register of time or dates; in which acceptation it was used by the Romans, as the word ALMANACK was by the Germans, and our Saxon forefathers.

Calendar, as some state, is derived from the Latin Calendarium, which was the account-book kept by the Roman usurers, of the money which they lent out upon interest, and which they were in the habit of calling in, or claiming, on the Calends or first day of each month. But it is more probable that the words Calendar and Calendarium are both to be traced to the ancient Roman Custom of publicly proclaiming or calling the Calends and other periods of each month on the appearance of every new moon. This practice continued until the year 450, after the building of Rome, when Caius Flavius, the Ædile, or chief magistrate, ordered the Fasti, or Calends to be affixed upon all the places of public resort, in order that the dates of the approaching festivals might be more generally and exactly known. In fact, these public notices or registers of coming events, were called Fasti Calendares.

The etymology, or derivation, of ALMANAC has been much disputed; many writers derive it from the Arabic article Al (the) and the Greek word manakos (a lunar circle); others from the Hebrew manach (to count), whilst Dr. Johnson says that the Greek word men pronounced maen (a month), enters into its composition. The explanation given by the celebrated antiquarian Verstegan, of the origin and use of this word, seems worthy of notice. He says, 'Our Saxon ancestors use to engrave on certain squared sticks, about a foot in length, the courses of the moons of the whole year; whereby they could certainly tell when the new moons, full moons, and change should happen; as also their festival-days: and such a carved stick they called an AL-MON-AGHT; that is to say, Almon-hred; to wit, the regard or observation of all the moons: and hence is derived the name of Almanack.'--An instrument of this kind, of a very ancient date, is to be seen in St. John's College, Cambridge; and there are still, in the midland counties, several remains of them.

YEARS.

The word YEAR is pure Saxon, and is supposed by some to be derived from æra; whilst others deduce both words from the Greek ear, or Latin ver (Spring,) because many of the ancients were in the habit of dating the commencement of the year from Spring. In the Hebrew, Greek, and Latin languages, the word year is expressive of a ring or circle; the Egyptians, also, represented it by a snake placed in a circular position, with its tail in its mouth; whence, perhaps, the name of the Zodiac, or that imaginary circle which is made by the sun in the heavens, during the twelve months.

The time in which the sun performs its journey through the twelve signs of the Zodiac, comprehends 365 days, 5 hours, 48 minutes, and 48 seconds; and is therefore styled the NATURAL, SOLAR, or TROPICAL Year.

The SIDEREAL, or ASTRAL Year is the time which elapses from the sun's passage from any particular fixed star until its return to it again; and is just twenty minutes and twenty-nine seconds longer than the natural or Solar Year.

The LUNAR YEAR, consists of Twelve Lunar months, or that period during which the moon passes twelve times through its various phases, or changes.

The COMMON, or CIVIL Year, in use with us, and established by law, contains 365 days, during three successive years; but in each fourth year, an intercalary or additional day is inserted, in order to make up the number 366; such additional day being considered equivalent to the time lost by not counting the five hours and forty-nine minutes at the end of each of the four years from one BISSEXTILE, or LEAP Year, to another. The word Leap, sufficiently explains the act of passing over the hours in question. This plan was invented by Julius Cæsar or by Sosigenes, the Egyptian mathematician, who assisted him in rectifying the Calendar. The additional or intercalary day, is with us, always placed in the month of February, which consequently, in Leap year, consists of 29 days; the usual number being 28. Cæsar placed it in the month of March, by reckoning the 6th day of the Calends of that month twice over! hence the term Bissextile, from the words bis (twice) and sex (six,) or sextiles (sixth day.) But, by the Gregorian alteration, the fourth year coming at the close of a century, is not a leap year, unless the number of hundreds be a multiple of four. Thus 1600 was a leap year, 2700 and 1800 were not, 2000 will be.

The reckoning of time by the course of the sun or moon, was attempted in various ways by different ancient nations; but they finding that their minor divisions of time did not correspond with the courses in question, endeavoured to prevent confusion by ordaining a certain number of days to be intercalated or inserted, out of the common order; so as to preserve the equation of time. The Egyptian year (as used by Ptolemy) consisted of 365 days, which were divided into twelve months of thirty days each; besides five intercalary days at the end. The Egyptian Canicular, or Natural year, was computed from one heliacal rising of the star Sirius, or Canicula, same to the next.

By the regulation of Solon, the ancient Greek year was lunar, and consisted of twelve months; each containing thirty and twenty-nine days, alternately: and in every revolution of nineteen years, the third, fifth, eight, eleventh, sixteenth, and nineteenth, it had an intercalary month; in order to keep the New and Full Moons to the seasons of the year.

The Turkish year consists of twelve lunar months of thirty and twenty-nine days, alternately; some times of thirteen.

The ancient Roman year, as settled by Romulus, was lunar, but contained only ten months, which were irregular, and comprehended 304 days in all; being a number fifty days short of the true lunar year, and sixty-one days of the solar. Romulus added the requisite number of days at the end of the year. Numa Pompilius added two months; making the year consist of 355 days; thereby exceeding the lunar year by one day, but being short of the solar one by ten days. Julius Cæsar, during his third consulship, and whilst he was Pontifex Maximus, or high priest of Rome, reformed the calendar by regulating the months according to their present number, and adding an intercalary day every fourth year to the month of February: but he being assassinated before his plan could be fully brought into operation, the emperor Augustus perfected and established what his kinsman had begun. The Julian year, which consisted of 365 days and 6 hours, was however, still incorrect, for it was found to be too long by about eleven minutes which in 131 years would be equal to one day—consequently there was a further reformation of the calendar by Pope Gregory, in the year 1582. He cut off eleven days, by calling the fourth of October the fifteenth. This alteration of the style was gradually adopted in the several countries of the European continent: but in Russia, in some of the Swiss cantons, and in the countries of the East, the old style is still preserved.

The Parliament of England adopted the Gregorian plan, in 1752, by enacting that eleven days should be omitted that year: all dates, therefore, previous to 1752, are said to be according to the OLD STYLE: whilst those since that period, are deemed to be according to the NEW STYLE. In 1800, which was properly a bissextile, or leap year, the intercalary day was omitted: hence, the difference between the Old and New Style in now twelve days. The Gregorian regulation does not absolutely preclude all error in future, but that is likely to be so trifling as not to require particular attention.

The beginning of the year has by no means been the same in different ages and countries. The Chaldeans, the Egyptians, and the Jews, in all civil affairs, began it at the autumnal equinox. The ecclesiastical year among the Jews, the common year of the Persians, and of the Romans under Romulus, commenced in the spring: a mode still followed in many of the Italian States. Both the equinoxes, as well as the summer solstice, were each the commencing date in some of the states of Greece. The Roman year, from the time of Numa, began on the calends of Jan.; the Arabs and Turks compute from the 16th of July, the Christian clergy formerly commenced the year on the 25th of March,(a) a method observed in Great Britain, generally, in civil affairs, until 1752; from which period our civil year has begun on the 1st of January, except in some few cases, in which it still commences on the 'Day of Annunciation,' or the 25th of March. In Scotland, the year was, by a proclamation, bearing date so early as the 27th of November, 1599, ordered thenceforth to commence, in that kingdom, on the 1st of January; instead of the 25th of March.

(a) The Church of Rome dated from the Sunday succeeding the full moon which occurred next after the vernal equinox; or, if the full moon happened on a Sunday, the new year commenced on that day.

The English Church, still, in her solemn service, renews the year on the first Sunday in Advent, which is always that next to, or on, St. Andrew's Day.

Our Ancestors, after the establishment of Christianity, usually began their year at Christmas, and reckoned the commencement of their æra from the incarnation, or birth of Christ. William the Conqueror, however, introduced the method of substituting the first year of his own reign for the Christian æra. At subsequent periods, the English reverted to the ancient custom: but all State proclamations, patents, charters and Acts of Parliament, have continued to be dated from the commencement of the reigns of the respective sovereigns, with, the addition of the words, 'and in the year of our Lord, &c.

The Russian government did not adopt the Christian æra until the time of Peter, in 1725; their previous practice had been to reckon from the world's age or the year of the creation.

MONTHS.

This division of the year appears to have been used before the flood; * and as it was naturally framed by the revolutions of the Moon, the Months, of all nations were originally lunar; that is, from one New Moon to another. In a more enlightened period, the revolutions of the Moon were compared with those of the Sun; and the limits of the Months, as the component parts of a Year, were fixed with greater precision. The Romans divided each month into Calends, Nones, and Ides: the Calends were the first day of the month, the Nones were the 7th and the Ides the 15th of March, May, July, and October; in the other months, the Nones fell on the 5th, and the Ides on the 13th. The days of each, month, according to this form, were counted backwards; thus, the 18th of October was called the 15th day before the Calends of November, &c.—which method of counting we shall further explain on a future occasion.

In the year 1793, the French Government had a new Calendar constructed, in which they adopted the following fanciful designations for each month:—

	French Months.	Signification.	Eng. Months.
Autumn.	1. Vindemaire.	Vintage Month, from	Sept. 22.
	2. Brumaire.	Foggy Month	Oct. 22.
	3. Frimaire.	Frosty, or Sleety Month,	Nov. 21.
Winter.	4. Nivose.	Snowy Month	Dec. 21.
	5. Pluvoise.	Rainy Month	Jan. 21.
	6. Ventose.	Windy Month	Feb. 19.
Spring.	7. Germinal.	Springing or Budding Month	Mar 21.
	8. Floreal.	Flowering Month	April 20.
	9. Prairial.	Hay Harvest Month	May 20.
Summer.	10. Messidor.	Corn Harvest Month	June 19.
	11. Thermidor.	Heat Month	July 19.
	12. Fructidor.	Fruit Month	Aug. 19.

This new Calendar, which, after all was only a plagiarism or copy, of one used in Holland from time immemorial, like many of the absurd institutions which sprang from the French Revolution, was laid aside in a few years, from the circumstance of its utter unfitness for the seasons, even as they occur in the several provinces of France itself;—how much less applicable, therefore, must they have been to other countries, where the climates and seasons vary so much from each other! A Calendar, to be worthy of universal application: not so that of the French philosophers, which, independently of its discordance with those of all civilized nations had not even the merit of indicating those very seasons from which it professed to derive its character. The late Mr. Gifford ridiculed this new fangled method of registering time by the following ludicrous, but happy, translation of the Republican months and seasons.—

Autumn ..... Wheezy, sneezy, freezy;
Winter ..... Slippy, drippy, nippy;
Spring ..... Showery, flowery, bowery;
Summer ..... Hoppy, croppy, poppy.

* Noah, as we find it recorded in the Bible, reckoned by months of 30 days each; and from him that mode of computing the year is supposed to have been adopted by the Chaldeans, Egyptians, and other Oriental nations.

WEEKS.

It is probable that this measure of time has existed in the East from the earliest ages; but the Greeks certainly never used such a mode of division. They divided each month of thirty days into three Decades, or equal portions of ten days each. Thus the 5th day of the month was the 5th day of the first Decade; the 5th was the 5th of the second Decade;- and the 25th of the third Decade This division was adopted by the French in their Revolutionary Calendar, in order to get rid of the Sabbath day.

The Jews have ever marked their time by sevenths, according to the command given by God himself, for labouring during only six days of each week, and resting on the seventh, which was consequently set apart, or consecrated, to the service of their Creator;--nay, they not only hallowed the seventh day, or SABBATH, which formed a portion of their week of days; but they had, also, their weeks of years, which consisted of seven years; and their Jubilees, or rejoicing periods, which were celebrated by many acts of justice, forgiveness, and restitution, at the end of every week of seven times seven years. The Hebrews, the Assyrians Egyptians, Arabians and Persians, all had this custom of reckoning by weeks. The origin of computation by sevenths, has been vehemently contested by some authors; who say that the four quarters or intervals of the Moon (the phases, or changes, of which are about seven days distant) originally gave occasion to this mode of division. But it seems more reasonable to conclude that it arose from the traditional accounts of the first seven days of the world's existence.

Although each lunar month contains four weeks, or four sevenths, the solar month, or that regulated by the passage of the Sun through each of the twelve signs of the Zodiac, generally contains two or three days more; consequently, as we have twelve solar months in each year, we have fifty-two weeks and one day over instead of forty-eight weeks, would be the exact number, were our year regulated merely by the revolutions or changes of the moon.

The word WEEK is of Saxon origin, and signifies a numerical series, generally having nearly the same meaning as way, which is measured by successive steps,) although now expressive only of the space of seven days.

DAYS.

The word DAY is derived from, or synonymous with, the Saxon dacg; and the Saxons are supposed to have had it from the same source, as the Roman word Dies (a day,) which in its turn is said to be derived from Dii, or Gods; by which name the Romans called the planets.

The word Day, in its strict sence, signifies that portion of time, during which we receive the light of the sun: but, more properly speaking, it includes the night, also; and is that space of time during which the Sun appears to us to make one revolution round the earth:--to speak with astronomical precision, it is that space of time in which the Earth makes one revolution round its own axis, during its annual or yearly progress round the Sun.

In different nations and ages the modes of reckoning the beginning of the day have been various. According to the computation of the ancient Syrians, Babylonians, Persians, and the inhabitants of Hindoostan, the day commenced at the rising of the sun; with the other modern Greeks it is the same. The Athenians, and other ancient inhabitants of Greece, as well as the ancient Gauls, began theirs at sun-set, which mode is still followed by the Jews, the Austrians, the Bohemians, Silesians, the Italians, and the Chinese. The ancient inhabitants of Italy computed their day from midnight; which mode is now in common use with us and all other European nations, with the above exceptions. The Mahometans calculate from one twilight to another. The ancient Egyptians dated from noon to noon; which mode is at this day, and has always been, followed by astronomers, because that instant of time can be ascertained with greater precision than any other.

The Romans gave to each of the seven days of their week, the name of one of the heavenly bodies: thus, Dies Solis, signifies the day of the sun (Sunday); Dies, Lunæ; the day of the moon (Monday); Dies Martis, the day of Mars (Tuesday); Dies Mercurii, the day of Mercury (Wednesday); Dies Jovis, the day of Jupiter (Thursday); Dies Veneris, the day of Venus, (Friday) and Dies Saturni, the day of Saturn (Saturday).--From this source the English language has received Sunday, Monday, and Saturday, by translation; but Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, were derived from the ancient Saxon and Danish deities, TUESCO, WODIN, THOR, and FREYA, or FREGA.---In all Parliamentary bills, acts, journals and other documents, the Roman names of the days of week have at all times been used.

PREFACE

It may be proper first to premise, that the Phases of the Moon, the rising and setting of the Sun, the Solar and Lunar Eclipses, and the time of the Tides, are all calculated for mean Solar Time, or that shewn by a true clock at Bombay.

Those who may wish to avail themselves of the Columns of the Sun's rising and setting, for the purpose of rectifying a Clock or a Watch, should observe, that at the time given in the Almanac (which is that when the Sun's centre is really in the Horizon) either at rising or setting, the upper or lower limb of the Sun, will appear to be at least the Sun's diameter above the edge of the water; the Watch &c. should therefore, be set to the time as shewn in the Almanac, when this appearance is seen at sun-rise, or sun-set, when it will shew the true Mean time at Bombay.

The Sun's Right Ascension in Time, Declination, and the Equation of Time, are adopted to apparent Noon, or the instant when the Sun's centre is on the Meridian of Greenwich.

The aggregate population of the globe, according to the foregoing statement, amounts to 829 millions of souls. It may be observered, however, that the number of Jews must be far greater and may be taken at more than eight millions. We have given it at 2,650,000 because that is derived from authentic sources; but these are very uncertain, in Asia and Africa especially. In the same way the number of sunnite Mohomedans may be rated as exceeding the amount above stated by nearly twenty millions,—From the Algemeine Zirchenzistung.

SHORT METHOD TO FIND THE SIMPLE INTEREST OF ANY SUM FOR ANY NUMBER OF DAYS, AT ANY RATE PER CENT. PER ANNUM.

Formula.

Let p denote the principal.

Assume $\frac{1}{10,000}(3pdr \times \frac{1}{a}2pdr \times \frac{1}{30}2pdr \times \frac{1}{300}2pdr)a$

Then $a - \frac{1}{10,000} = i$ very nearly.

Rule.

Multiply the principal by the number of days, and that product by double the rate per cent. Then divide the amount by 3,30, and 300; add these quotients to it; and, substracting the 10,000th part at the sum, the remainder divided by 10,000 will be interest required.

Example.

Required the interest of Rs. 180,000 for 146 days at 9 per cent. per annum? Answer Rs. 6,480.

Principal 180,000 X146 days

Product..26280000 X 18 (double the rate per cent.

Remainder....6480,00000 divided by 100,000, (by inserting the de-

NEW WEIGHTS & LIQUID MEASURES.

COMPILED BY THE HON'BLE J. H. CRAWFORD, Esq.

LATE ACCOUNTANT GENERAL.

New Indian Weights established in Bengal by Regulation VII of 1833; and adopted by the Government of Bombay, at the recommendation of the Tariff Committee in the New Tariff valuation, about to come into operation throughout the Bombay Presidency; with a few memoranda, intended to facilitate the conversions of old weight into new, that may become necessary in Custom House transsctions under the new system of valuations mentioned about (10th December 1840.

1 Tola	=	= 180, Grains Troy.
80 Tolas	= 1 Seer.	= 14,400.
30 Seers	= 1 Indian Maund	= 5,76,000.

	lbs.	voirdupois.
Then as = 7,000 Grains Troy are exactly equal to	1
1 seer of= 14,400 Grains Troy are exactly equal to	2	2 | 35
1 md. of=576,000 Grains Troy are exactly equal to	82	2 | 7

And it follows therefore,

			lbs.	Avoirdupois
That 35 Seers are exactly equal to			72	,, ,,
,, 7 Indian Maunds	= wt. 5 7 .	or	576	,, ,,
,, 49 do.	= ,, 36	or	4,032	,, ,,
,, 245 do. = Tons 9	= ,, 180	or	20,160	,, ,,

The following simple and accurate Rules for the conversion of new Indian weight into avoirdupois weight, and vice-versa, deduced from the foregoing date, are given in the volume of useful Tables published by Mr. James Prinsep, in Calcutta in 1834, Page 66.

Rule 1. To convert Indian weight into Avoirdupois weight.

1. Multiply the weight in seers by 72 and divide by 35, the result will be the weight in lbs. avoirdupois.

2. Or, Multiply the weight in maunds by 36 and divide by 49 the result will be the weight in cwt. avoirdupois.

Rule 2. To convert Avoirdupois weight into Indian weight.

1. Multiply the weight in lbs. avoirdupois by 35 and divide by 72, the result will be the weight in Seers.

2. Or, Multiply the weight in cwt. by 49 and divide by 36 the result will be the weight in maunds.

Since the foregoing Memoranda and calculations were made, I have been able to obtain a copy of the Bengal regulation VII. of 1833, on which the new System of Indian weight is founded, and subjoin the following further memoranda connected therewith, in the belief that they will be founded useful at this time

The firt Section of the Regulation in question, after recting the reasons that render it expedient to adopt the weight and standard of the Furruckabad Rupee (which are the same as that of Madras and Bombay Rupee) in the Calcutta Mint as well as in the Saugor Mint, where they had been introduced as far back as the year 1824 | 25, continues as follows: "It is further convenient to introduce the weight of the Furruckabad Rupee as the unit of a general system of weights for Government transactions throughout India, under the Native and well known denomination of the Tola."

And Section IV. in ordering the discontinance of the use of the Sicca weight of 172,666 grains heretofore employed for the receipt of Bullion at the Calcutta Mint, states that, "in its place the following unit to be called the Tola shall be introduced, which from its immediate connection with the Rupee of the upper Provinces, and of Madras and Bombay, will easily and speedily become universal throughout the British Territories."

"The Tola, or Sicca weight to be equal to 180 rains Troy," and the other denominations of weight to be derived from this unit, according to the following scale.

8 Ruttees = 1 Masha = 15 Troy Grains.
12 Masha = 1 Tola = 180 ditto.
80 Tolas (or Sicca weight) = 1 Seer = 2½ lbs. Troy
40 Seer = 1 Mun (or Bazar Maund) 100 lbs. Troy.

Mr. James Prinsep says, with reference to the foregoing change, in Pages 62 and 63 of his very useful Tables already alluded to in these memoranda, "The Tola is chiefly used in the weighing of the precious metals and Coin; all Bullion at the Mints is received in this denomination, and the Tables of Bullion produce are calculated per 100 tolas. It is also used at the Mints to make the subdivision of the Tola into annas (Sixteenths) and pie, in lieu of Mashas and Rutees

Mashas, Ruttees, and Dhans are used chiefly by native Goldsmiths and Jewellers. They are also employed in the native valuation by assay of the precious metals; thus 10 Mashas fine, signifies 10 | 12ths, pure and corresponds to "10 oz touch." of the English assay report of Silver. There is a closer accordance with the English Gold assay scale, in as much as the 96 Ruttees in a Tola exactly represent the 96 Sarat grains in the Gold assay pound, and the Dhan the quarter Grain, and the Ruttee, of which eight go to the Masha as the above, is not an exact divisor of the latter weight, the following further Table may not be without use in calculations connected with the conversion of precious metals from the Troy weight of Great Britain, into the Tola weight of India·

1	Ruttee	=	Grains Troy	1. 875	decs – or	1⅞ Grains Troy exactly.
2	do	=	do	5. 750	,,	3¾ do
3	do	=	do	5. 625	,,	5⅝ do
4	do	=	do	7. 500	,,	7½ do
5	do	=	do	9. 375	,,	9⅜ do
6	do	=	do	11. 250	,,	11¼ do
7	do	=	do	13. 125	,,	13⅛ do
8	do	=	do	15.	,,	15 do

It will be observed, that the preceding observations, whether extracted from the Regulations of Government (VII.) of 1833 Bengal. Mr. Prinsep's Tables or made by myself, relate chiefly to the Bullion or Mint weights. Speaking of the Tola in connection with Indian weights generally Mr. Prinsep says. Pag. 61, "The unit of the British Indian ponderary system is called the Tola It weighs 180 Grains English Troy weight. From it upwards are derived the heavy weights, viz. Chittack, seer, and mun (or Maunds,) and by its subdivision the small or Jeweller's weights, called Mashas, Ruttees, and Dhans

These last mentioned weights having already been disposed of, it will be sufficient to give the following Table of the larger or Bazar weights

5 Tolas. or sicca weight, = 1 Chittack, or Grs Troy 900
16 Chittack..... .= 1 Seer or lbs Troy 2½
40 Seers.... ....= Maund or lbs. Troy 100 and to add with reference to the Chittack that it is the lowest denomination of the Gross weights; and in Bazar transactions is commonly divided into halves and quarters (called in Bengalee Kacha,) thus marking the line between the two series which are otherwise connected by the relation of the seer, &c. to the Tola. (Prinsep's Table Page 62.) whilst the Government of India, appear by the Tables prepared by their authority for the transactions of the Commissariat and other Public Establishments in Bengal, to have sanctioned the introduction of a smaller denomination of great weight than the Chittack [called tenth parts in the Tables in question

It appears to me, however, that neither of the above subdivisions of the Chittack are so correct in principle, and certainly not more convenient in practice, than the Tola, the unit on which, as observed by Mr Prinsep, the whole pondetary system of India is founded. In the practice adapted in the Bazar transactions as above, subdivisions of one half and one quarter, are not only in themselves fractional parts of Chittack, but represent Toals and their fractional parts also. half a Chittack being equal to two and half Tolas, and the quarter of a Chittach to 1¼ Tola and neither of them carries the subdivision so low in actual quantify as the weight represented qy the ucit itself, whilst in the Tran-sections of Government though the actual quantity represented by the newly created tenth parts, carries the weight as low as half Tolas, it does so, by the adoption of weight not recognized in the general dealings of commerce or by law and as it appears to me whithout sufficient cause, for if a Tola, which is considerably less than half an ounce avoirdupois, is a weight not sufficiently small for the purpose of Government, its Transactions may be carried out in the next lower subdivision to Tolas, Mashas and Ruttees, viz. Grains Troy. But, I believe it will be admitted by mercantile men in general, that the ounce avoirdupois is the lowest denomination or English weight to which recourse need be had in the ordinary operations of commerce, and it therefore seems to me, that the Tola, which, as already stated, is not equal to one half that weight, is as low a standard, as need be noticed in Indian mercantile dealings generally, the more especially as the subdivisions of the Tola (Masha and Ruttees and Grains) afford the means of the most minute calculations in retail transactions, as well as in the adjustment of weights connected with the more valuable article of Trade such as Musk, Opium, Silk, &c. &c. &c., and in all dealings indeed where perfect accuracy is considered necessary or desirable.

The weights of the several Presidencies of India, Travancore, China and England compared with the new Indian Maund introduced into Bengal by Regulation VII of 1833, and adopted in the New Tariff valuation above to come into operation, under the Bombay Presidency, (10th December 1840.)

Making the proportion between the old Wine Gallon and the Imperial Gallon so nearly as 10 are 12, are 5 are to 6, that the difference between converting the former description of Gallon into the latter, according to the proportions just quoted, or working the conversion to the greatest nicety of calculation, will, only occasion a difference of 222 decimal parts of an Imperial Gallon (or say; rather more than 1--5th, of an imperial Gallon) in every one thousand (1000) old Wine Gallons converted as above.

To convert old Wine Gallons, therefore, into Imperial Gallons, we may either multiply by 5 and divide by 6 or deduct 16th, from the number of old Wine Gallons given.

	Old Wine Gallons.	Imperial Gallons decls.
For 1000 ×	10 =	10000 ÷ 12 = 833 333
1000	1—6th, or 166666	= 833 333

Again, taking the converse of this proportion from the date above given, we have the proportions between the Imperial Gallon and old wine Gallon so nearly as 12 are to 10, or as 6 are to 5, that the difference between converting Imperial Gallons into old Wine Gallons, according to the proportions just quoted, or working the conversion to the greatest nicety of calculation will only occasion a difference of 320 decimal parts of Wine Gallon (or say rather less than one third of such Gallon (in every one thousand (1000) Imperial Gallons converted as above.

To convert Imperial Gallons therefore into old Wine Gallons we may either multiply by 12 and divide by 10 or multiply by 6 and divide by 5 or add 1--6th, to the number of Imperial Gallons given.

	Imperial Gallons.	Old Wine Gallons decls.
For 1000 ×	12 =	12000 ÷ 10 = 1200
1000 ×	1—5ths. or	200 = 1200

Memorandum intended to show the check against fraudulent weights in the Bazar, and elsewhere, which the introduction of the New Indian Maund and its several subdivisions, will prove, wheresoever adopted, to all classes of the community.

Extract being Para. 6 of a Report from the Revenue Accountant (Bombay) to Government in the Territorial Department No. 22 of 1839, dated 25th May, 1839,

6. It has been stated in the 4th para, of this Report, the Revenue Accountant would recommend Indian Maunds, Seers, and Tolas, in preference to lbs. avoirdupois, as the weight to be adopted in Opium purchases & sales hereafter and he would now respectfully state, in support of this opinion, that however much maunds differ in their actual weight, and in their several sub-divisions in different parts of India, still the maund is a weight familar to the Native Population in every portion of it, and that whilst the ompany's or head Rupee, which is exactly a tola, or 180 Grains troy, enables every individual of the better classes of Society, who may possess eighty Rupees of that coinage or of the Bombay, Madras, and Furruckabad coinage of years immediately proceeding the introduction of the head Rupee, to check or establish a standard seer in every part of the country, the poorer individual, to whom our Copper currency may be better known, need only possess thirty six annas (or two and quarter Rupees) of the new copper coinage to command the same cheek against fraud, and imposition, as his more fortunate neighbour, the possessor of Rupees; the weight being in both cases grains troy fourteen thousand and four hundred, and therefore equal to one new Indian seer a per margin.

1 Anna in Copper Grains Troy 400 ÷ 36 = 14,400 as before or one Indian Seer.

N. B. And further if annas 36=1 seer, than 36 annas × 4 annas=144 ÷ 12 rupees in new Copper Curreney=4 seers of the new Indian weight.

Bombay Castle, 1st December, 1842.

Silver do.—Rupee, half Rupee and Quarter Rupee.
Copper do.—Double Pice, Pice, and one-third Pice.

4 Piece, = 1 Anna.
16 Annas, = 1 Rupee.
and 15 Rupees = 1 Gold Mohur.

Accounts are kept in Bombay in Company's Rupees, quarters and reas. viz, 100 Reas (rs.) = 1 Quarter, (Q.) or 4 annas (As.)
4 Quarters or 16 annas = 1 Rupee (Rs.)

The intrinsic value of a Rupee, coined into English money, (less the Mint duty of 4s. per lb.) leaves 1s. 10d. 2f. after deducting the freight and Insurance to England, Charges, Commissions, &c.

On the same calculation, it is equal to 2 francs 34 cents $\frac{331}{1000}$ of French money.

WEIGHTS AND MEASURES.

Extracts from the Appendix to the Itinerary of Western India.

By Captain John Clunes.

Throughout India, and particularly the Deccan, a very considerable diversity prevails, not merely in every district, but in every village, in measures, whether of weight, length or capacity; nor are the subdivisions to be found in a determinate proportion of each other. To whatever this may be owing, whether to the want of a common or universal standard in former times, the decay or abrasion of the measures and weights, the knavery of the owners of them, or to the apathy or connivance of the Native district authorities, is probably immaterial, but the present ill defined system must be felt by all the class of buyers as a hardship, and they doubtless would be grateful for any beneficial amendment.

There are three kinds of weights in use in India; the first are for weighing drugs, gold, silver, &c.--second for all bulky articles,--and the third, for pearls and precious stones.

Those of the first class seem to be founded on the weight of a Tola through India, and the tola under most Governments, seem to conform with the Rupee, or principal current Coin of accounts; in towns, the weights generally are of Iron or Lead, sometimes in a determinate form, but oftener as a shapeless mass. In many Villages however, the shopkeepers have only ballast stones as weights, which are met with in beds of rivers. Indeed, when great weights are required they are generally made of stones, and under any circumstances, considerable advantage would be derived by the people, were the use of stones as weights prohibited under severe enactments. The table of weights annexed, will shew the great variety of the first class, (and corresponding English weights) which exists throughout western and central India. Nor or the weights at the Presidency less multifarious than they are in the interior. In the following table of the various weights, which goods are sold in Bombay, it will strike one as a singular incongruity, that varying as those weights do, with almost every variety of goods, and that serving as such they must clog commerce; this system should be submitted to when the fact is known, that actually every article is weighed by one weight, vizt. the English Avoirdupois, afterwards reduced by calculation, into the great variety of local weights, which are merely nominal.

The small weight, commonly called GOLDSMITHS WEIGHT, is either founded on the Goonj or Ruttee, or the Mustard seed: the Goonj or Ruttee is the small red seed, whether of the white or red species, of the abros precatorious, these seeds are very uniform in size, and the plant producing them, grows wild all over India. Two seeds, otherwise Goonj, make one Waal, a weight represented by a seed of the Cheelur. This weight is further subdivided as follows.

8 Mustard seeds = 1 Barley Corn.
2 Barley Corns = 1 Goonj.

Under different Governments of India, the TOLA is composed of different proportions of the Goonj, or of the massa. The Bengal Tola being of 100 Goonj, or 12½ Massa, the Malwa Tola of 96 Goonj or 12 massa. The Bombay Tola, of 92 Goonj, or 11½ Massa, several districts in the Southern Concan of 92 Goonj, or 11½ Massa and 96 Goonj or 12 Massa. The Pice of Kota in Malwa is equal in weight to 18 Massa, so that from these we may hope to obtai something approaching to the common weight of the Massa or Goonj; the fundamental measures of weight.

The weight of the Bengal Massa, in Troy grains, is 15,353—being 191 916 troy grains, the weight of a Calcutta Sicca Rupee, divided by 125, gives the number of Massa in one tola. The weight in troy grains of the total in Malwa is 190 Grains; which being divided by 12, (the number of Massa is one tola) gives 15,8333 troy grains, for the weight of the Massa.

In ascertaining (says Major Sykes) the weight troy of a Goonj, with a Hydrostatic balance, turning with the 10th of a Grain, the results were as follows; 32 Seeds or Goonj weighed 60.5 grains troy—16 seeds or Goonj, weighed 30.5 grains —8 weighed 15.1, and 56 seeds weighed 105.2 grains, which would give an everage weight of 1.914 grains troy for each seed. 96 of these would make total equal to 183,7536 grains troy. But as the Seer weight of 80 Rupees, 13000 grains troy is to consist of 72 tolas, the tola should weigh 191,6666 grain instead of 183.7536, affording sufficient evidence that the tola in use, like every other weight, is below the proper standard.

MEASURE OF CAPACITY.

Whether of measures of capacity in India are derived from those of length, agreeably to the notions of many able theorists in Europe, and in which they are borne out by very ancient writings among the Hindoos, or whether they were invented originally merely to save trouble in weighing grains and liquids, is a subject of enquiry for the philosopher. I am much inclined to the latter opinion, as far as regards Western India; from observing that the same denominations refer to the measures of weight as to the measures of capacity, and so relatively to the subdivision. In this case it seems to me highly probable that the Tunka or Tukka, a small silver Coin, current during the period of the Mogul supremacy, and in which the Revenue was collected and reckoned throughout the Western Provinces of their Empire, and particularly in the Nizam Shahee's Territories, was the foundation of the weights at present in practice throughout the Deccan. Seventy-two of these Tukkas go to the seer which makes it nearly similar to the Tola and the now-Tanks, or nine tanks is still a measure for liquids in very general use. The Chetak, or six tanks, is the 16th part of a seer or weight in the Deccan; but my enquiries regarding the weights that are in use, and not those that have been. The most popular of the actual measures of capacity are, the NOW-TANK, the SEER, the PUNSEEREE, and the ADHOLEE.

DRY MEASURE.

The ADHOLEE.—The dry measure, called Adholee of two seers, which is the largest in use in the Deccan, is, in Towns and large Villages made of wood turned in a lathe and lackered. It is in form nearly similar to that of an hour glass, and a ¼ seer, and ½ seer and ¾ seer resemble it in form and lackering. In small villages where the dealers are poorer, these measures are made from large bamboos, sawed through at the joint.

The Adholee in the Northern Konkun consists of 3½ and 4 Kutcha seers, and the number of Adholees to the Konkun Maund varies in different towns in the Collectorate from 17 to 24. Where the 4 seer Adholee obtains, there the Maund contains 20 Adholees, and where the Adholee is 3½ seers, there the Maund consists of 24 Adholees; so that the Adholees and not the Maunds, differs; the 17 Adholee Measures, is perhaps confined to Salsette. The Kokun and Arabic Candy, are both in general use in this Collectorate, the first consists of seven maunds, the other of eight maunds. The Catti or Deccan Candy, is also in use and is used for measuring Salt.

The large dry measure in Bombay for Salt is the Phara containing.

10⅝ Adholee = 1 Phara.
100 Phara = 1 Anna.
16 Annas = 1 Rash or 40 Tons.

The Phara measure when used, is struck off even with a run by a rod made for the purpose.

The small dry measure for grains is the seer, whereof

4 Seers = 1 Puheelee
17 Puheelees = 1 Phara
8 Pharas = 1 Candy.

Batty or rice in the Husk is reckoned by Moora of 25 Pharas.

LIQUID MEASURE.

The liquid seer Measure used in Bombay for Spirits, Arrack, and Milk, is equal in weight to 60 Rupees, or 1 lb. 10 oz 7 ewts. 12 grains troy. The maund consists of 40 of these seers, and the seer is subdivided into half seers, quarter seers, and latter into two measures called now—tanks, or nine-tanks tuckka. The measures of Oil, corresponds with the Maund of 28 lb. that is, the contents weigh that, and the contents of the seer consequently weigh 11 oz. 4 dwts.

LONG MEASURE.

The Measures of length, are the KATHFEE the GUZ and the CUBIT, the first is only used as a land measure, the other two are most used by artificers, and sometimes used in measuring Piece Goods, Cloths, Silks, &c.; are not sold by the piece. In most of the Provinces under this Presidency, the Guz is divided into 20 Tussoo. In Guzerat it measures 27.5 inches, making the cubit of 14 Tussoo, equal to 19 25 inches. At Bombay and in Malabar it is 28 inches, and the Cubit 19.6 inches. In the Deccan, the Dooab, the Southern Conkan, Surat, and also in Kutch, the Guz is divided into 24 Tussoo, but of a greater variety of length, and the cubit into 14th tussoo. The Peshwa's Guz, which is in use in the Public Departments at Poona is 33 86 inches. At seven of the principal towns in the Dooab the Guz varies from 34.75 inches, to 34.75 inches, and broad cloth, velvet chintz, and other articles of Europe Manufacture, are mearured by it. An average accurately taken at 12 of the chief towns in the Southern Konkan makes the Guz 33. 438 inches and the cubit 16.08 inches.

The length of the Cubit however, almost every where, is usually determined by the mean length of five different men's arms, measured from the elbow to end of the middle finger; turbans &c. are sold by this measure, but it is seldom met without of Surat as a measure, unless with tailors; purchasers usually measure by their own arm's length. The English yard is in common use at Bombay in measuring Europe manufactures, and indeed in many places in the interior.

SUPERFICIAL AND SOLID MEASURES.

SUPERFICIAL measure, for the Measurement of land, solid measures for ascertaining the quantity of timber, and many kind of artificer's works, are obtained from the same date as the measure of length.

Artificer's work, superficial measurement throughout Guzerat, Deccan, Konkun, and at the Presidency, the reckoning is made by 100 in length, whether Guz or cubit by one in breadth. This rule applies also to the manufacture of carpets, mats, &c.

Masonry is calculated by the brass, which is 25 cubits in length by one in breadth, and one in height. The cubits in use among Masons in Bombay is 20 inches (being 4 longer than the timber Guz,) so that a brass of Masonry contains 115.74 cubic feet.

Timber is measured by the Guz, and the rule for determining the contents is, by the square of the quarter girt multiplied into the length. A sawyer's Guz is 32 inches in length, and 9 inches in breadth; 32-9-88 square inches, 2 square feet.

BOMBAY AND CANARA MEASUREMENT OF TIMBER AND PLANK.

TIMBER. 20 vissvassa = 1 Vassa.
20 Vassa = 1 Covit or Candy.

Plank is measured by the Guz of 28 English inches, or 24 Borels, 24 Borels in length, 12 Borels in breadth, and one Borel in thickness, make Guz. A Borel is equal to 1.666 English inches.

MALABAR MEASUREMENTS.

Timber. Is measured by the Candy or Covit.
16 Moganies = 1 Borel.
24 Borels, = 1 Kol.
24 Kols, = 1 Covit or Candy.

Plank Is measured by the Guz, thus,
10 Moganies = 1 Borel.
92 Borels in breadth, 24 Borels in length, and 1 Borel in thickness, constitute a Guz.

ENGLISH AND BOMBAY MEASUREMENT IN THE DOCK YARD.

Timber. 12 Cubical feet and 1216 inches = a covit or Candy.
3 Covit and 18¾ Vassa = 1 Ton or 50 Cubical feet.
26 Cubical feet, and 206 inches = 100 Guz, the quantity in which plank is bought and sold.

THE BOARD OF CONTROL, OR INDIA BOARD.

In the year 1784, all the political parties in England had become convinced that some very material change in the government of the East-India Company's extensive acquisitions of territory in India was indispensably necessary. In this crisis, Mr. Fox brought forward his famous India Bill, the grand object of which was to abolish both the Court of Directors and the Court of Proprietors of the East-India Company, and to vest the Government of India in the hands of seven commissioners, who were to be appointed by Parliament.

The coalition between Lord North and Mr. Fox had rendered their administration exceedingly unpopular, and their opponents and the Company took advantage of the unpopularity of the ministry to raise an extraordinary clamour agaist this India Bill. The Company stigmatised it as an invasion of their chartered rights, and the opposition party represented the parliamentary nomination of commissioners as a daring invasion of the Crown, and an insidious attempt of the minister to render himself all-powerful by means of the patronage of India. The Bill passed through the Commons, but, in consequence of the popular ferment which had been excited about it, and of the avowed disapprobation of the King, the Lords threw it out, and this defeat overthrew the coalition ministry.

Mr. Pitt formed a new ministry, and in a new Parliament he secured a decided majority in both houses, and carried his India Bill successfully into a law, controlling the Company in the Government of India by a board of Royal Commissioners

On the 18th of May, 1784, the Act of Parliament of the 24th of George the third, chapter the twenty-fifth, received the royal assent. In empowers the King to appoint six Privy Councillors to be Commissioners for the Affairs of India, one of his Majesty's principle Secretaries of State, and the Chancellor of the Exchequer, for the time being, always to be two of them, three of whom shall make a Board, and the Secretary of State to be President, and in his absence the Chancellor of the Exchequer, and in the absence of both, the senior commissioner shall be President. The President has the casting vote. The King may revoke the commission at pleasure and appoint new commissioners.

The powers of this Board are very great; they have the superintendence and control over all the British territorial possessions in the East Indies, and over the affairs of the Unined Company of Merchants trading to the East Indies. The Court of Directors of the East India Company, must, if required, lay all their letters and papers to and from India before this Board, and receive their orders; and if they are not contented therewith, they can appeal to the King in Council.

Neither the commissioners nor their chief Secretary are disqualified from being elected members of Parliament. Commissioners are to have access to all papers belonging to the Company. The Company is bound to deliver to the Board copies of all minutes, &c., of both courts, concerning the Government or revenue; and to obey all orders relating thereto; and in case of delay, the Board is empowered to forward its own despatches to India.

In 1786, the Act of 26th Geo. III., c. 57. ecreeted a Royal Court of Supreme Judicature in India, and provided that members of the Board of Commissioners seould not composed a part of the new court.

The 28th of Geo. III., c. 8, empowered the Board to direct the payment in India, of the expenses of raising, transporting, and maintaining royal troops to the number of 8,045 men, and of Company's European forces to the number of 12,000 men, including, in both cases, the commissioned and non-commissioned officers. And the 31st of Geo. III., c. 10, extended the number of royal troops as much as 2,682 additional.

The Charter Act, the 33rd Geo. III., c. 52, empowered the sovereign to appoint commissioners under the great seal; two Secretaries of State and the Chancellor of the Exchequer always to be included; three commissioners to from a Board; the commissioner first-named in the commission to be President, and in his absence the next; whoever presides to have a casting vote. The Board may appoint secretaries and officers; the salaries of the establishment to be paid by the Company quarterly; those to the Board not exceeding five thousand pounds a year, and those of the officers and others not to exceed eleven thousand pounds a year. Commissioners and officers to take certain oaths. The powers of the first Board not to cease until the second Board is appointed, and their powers respecting troops continued. This act greatly extended the power of the Board over the Company; especially in giving them political power over the commercial affairs of the Company.

The 37th Geo. III., c. 117, requires the consent of the Board to legalize regulations of the Company for the India trade of nations in amity with the crown and cap. 142 obliges the supreme government to transmit to the Board ten copies of the regulations, issued by them in each year, concerning all persons amenable to the provincial courts; also to transmit to the Board, for the royal assent, all new forms of process for the courts of judicature at Madras and Bombay. The 39th and 40th Geo. III., c. 79, makes the Board necessary for appointing what part of the territorial revenue or civil servants under Madras and Bombay should be under Fort William, Madras, and Bombay; and for changing such appointments. The 47th of Geo. III., c. 68, renders the consent of the Board necessary for establishing public Banks in India.

By the 51st of Geo. III., c. 75, the Board received power to augment its own expenses so as not to exceed the sum of twenty-two thousand pounds a year.

The Charter Act of the 53rd of Geo. III., c. 155, again added very greatly to the Board's power over the Company, especially in licensing ships and persons to proceed to India; it also required the approval of the Board to render valid any duties imposed in India; it gave the Board full power over all colleges and seminaries, abroad and at home; also over the apportionment of the territorial revenue, and of loans in India to the Company's trade, and forbade the Company to send out any despatches on the subject until approved by the Board; it forbade the Secret Committee of Directors from disclosing any despatch without the authority of the Board, and forbade the Company from filling up vacancies in India without the approbation of the Board, except in Council, generals on the staff, advocates, attornies, chaplains, uncovenanted servants, writers, cadets, and assistant-surgeons; the restoration of servants was declared invalid without the consent of the Board, and no gratuity above six hudred pounds could be paid without the consent of the Board; this Act also emponered the Crown to grant superannuations to the officers of the Board. Again, by the 55th of Geo. III., c. 64, sec. I, it was enacted, that no gratuity is to be good above £600, unless confirmed by the Board.

According to the established form of the Indian Government in England, the Board of Control consists of a first commissioner, who is President, of two active commissioners, together with several commissioners, inclusive of the King's principal cabinet ministers; but all these ex-officio and extra commissioners may be deemed honorary, as they do not receive salary or perform any duty.

From the year 1784 until 1793 his Majesty's principal Secretary of State for the Home department was always the President of the India Board, without salary; on this footing Lord Viscount Sidmouth, Lord Grenville, and Lord Melville, were successively appointed. In 1793, Parliament changed the system, and the office of President was made a separate appointment, with salary.

The President has now been salaried for a period of forty-seven years, and in this short period no less than eighteen appointments have been made: even three new Presidents have been appointed to the Board in a single year. Sometimes, the Crown appointed a President who had made a voyage to India, as in the case of Lord Buckinghamshire.

The other salaried commissioners are generally appointed in consequence of their claims on the party in power, without any reference whatever to their peculiar qualifications for controlling the affairs of India.

From 1784 until 1832 the India Board had but one secretary, since then it has had two secretaries; the secretary in like manner with the commissioners, is a political partisan of the minister of the day, who can get himself a seat in the House of Commons.

The clerks do not go out of office with their patrons; they are fixed officers, brought up in the office, and rise by seniority. They give all their attention to their respective duties, and they understand the affairs under their superintendence well. Under manifold disadvantages, the clerks are the recognized depositories of the Board's knowledge of the affairs of India.

In the year 1814, the number of clerks below the rank of senior was ten, and there was a precis writer.

On the 7th of May, 1816, the secretary represented to the Board that he had been obliged constantly to employ a private secretary, and that he should on many occasions have been disabled but for such assistance from executing the Board's orders with punctuality and despatch, and that few persons in an official situation such as he had the honour to hold were without the assistance of some confidential and personal clerk.

On the 25th of June, 1816, the Board made a minute, in which they said,—'The secretary, together with the assistant-secretary and chief clerk, having represented to the Board that the number of clerks was by no means sufficient for the current miscellaneous business, and having suggested the expediency of taking advantage of the resignation of the then assistant-secretary to increase the numerical strength in the lower parts of the office, the Board determined not to fill up the office of chief clerk, the duties of which were to be performed by the secretaries, or, under their superintendence, by the junior clerks, whose number it was intended to augment.'—The Board also allowed the secretary to employ a private secretary; and they directed, 'that in consideration of the laborious duties performed by the librarian, and his assiduity and diligence,' his salary should be increased to £300 per annum; and in pursuance of the same minute, the allowance to the assistant-librarian was increased to £80. The number of junior clerks was accordingly increased from ten to thirteen, and a private clerk was allowed to the secretary.

In the year 1817, the removal of the Board to the separate office in Cannon Row, rendered the appointmen t of a porter necessary.

On the 30th of September, 1818, the Board recorded their opinion that, 'considering the great weight of business which fell upon the chief secretary, the unwearied industry and attention with which he discharged it, and the length of time during which he had served, it was just and reasonable to augment his salary by £200, making it up in the whole to two thousand pounds sterling a year;' and, 'that in future it would be expedient that the secretary's salary, commencing at £1,800 a year, should receive an augmentation of £200 at the end of five years, of £200 at the end of seven years, and of £300 (making in the whole, £2,500) at the end of ten years' service.' The Board also 'took advantage of the saving produced by the retirement of one of the senior clerks, who received a special allowance, not continued to his successor, to meet the increased and increasing business of the office, by the appointment of two junior clerks.'

On the 26th of March, 1820, another junior clerk was appointed. On the 15th of April, 1822, the Board expressed their opinion that the office of deputy-accountant might properly be abolished, that the officer performing his duties, should be 'assistant' to the accountant; and in the same year the Board deemed it advisable to establish a new scale of rank in their establishment, by interposing six 'assistant clerks,' between the senior clerks and the junior clerks.

In pursuance of the Board's minute of the 16th of December, 1823, the title of 'accountant' was changed to that of 'senior clerk in charge of the department of accounts,' and the officer having such charge is included among the six senior clerks; and on the 10th of February, 1824, the allowance to the assistant-librarian was further increased to £100 a year.

On the 25th of April, 1826, the Board found it necessary, for the better management of the public business, to separate the judicial from the revenue department, and to appoint a sixth senior clerk as head of the judicial department.

On the 25th of June, 1828, the secretary's salary was fixed at two thousand pounds, without regard to length of service but the Board, 'adverting to the state of the finances of the office, and to the power, vested in them by his Majesty's warrant, of making such suspensions or abatement of the salaries therein allowed, as from time to time might to them appear necessary, in order that the whole amount of the salaries and expenses of the Board might not exceed the sum of twenty-six thousand pounds in any one year,' directed that a suspension should be made of the salary of the secretary to the amount of two hundred pounds; they also suspended from the first assistant clerk fifty pounds, from the ninth and tenth assistant clerks, each twenty-five pounds, from the first messenger twenty pounds, and from the second messenger thirty pounds; and at the same time the Board increased the number of junior clerks by one more to the number of twelve, making in all, below the rank of senior clerk, the number of eighteen assistant clerks and junior clerks; by which the establishment of the Board included the appointment of one senior, one assistant, and two junior clerks to each of the six departments into which it is divided; namely, secret and political, revenue, judicial, military, public and ecclesiastical, and accounts.

COURT OF DIRECTORS OF THE EAST INDIA COMPANY.

This Court is composed of twenty-four (not of 'thirty') proprietors, qualified by Act of Parliament and chosen by ballot from the body of the electors. The necessary qualifications are natural-born or a naturalized subject of Great Britain,—the possession of £20,000 stock, no matter for what previous period in his own right or for his own use, not being a Director of the Bank of England or South sea Company, a Resident in England for two years after holding office in India, or having held no maritime office in the service of the Company for two years previous to his proposed election, and not having under any plea or pretence whatsoever, endeavoured to obtain directly or indirectly a vote for the election of himself or any other person to be a Director. If elected he takes a solemn oath in pursuance of an act passed (the 33d George III.) of which the following is the substance: After binding him to carry on no private trade, to have no dealings with the Company except as a private individual, not to hold any place of emolument under the crown:—He further swears not to accept or take either any emolument or present for any appointment or nomination of persons to any place or office in his gift, or that of the Company, or on account of appointing the voyage of any ships in the Company's employ, or on account of, or any ways relating to any other business or affairs of the Company, and further swears to be faithful to the Company, and according to the best of his skill and understanding to give his best advice and assistance for the support of the good government of the Company, &c.

The bye-laws enact that a Director must make a report to the Court previous to leaving England; he has no power to remain beyond the seas more than one year, and is liable to removal by the Court of Proprietors; every Director absent on a Court day is fined £1. 1s. Six Directors retire annually by rotation and are not again eligible for one year, and in case of death or removal, the Director who may be chosen to fill the vacancy, holds it only during the remainder of the term which his predecessor had to serve. Seven month's public notice is given of any annual election; printed lists of members, qualified candidates, are published thirty days before any election. A chairman and deputy chairman are annually chosen by ballot. The Court must meet at least once in every week; not less than thirteen Directors form a court; on all questions of importance the sense of the Court is taken by ballot, and in case of any equality of votes, the drawing of a lot by the Treasurer determines.

The Court of Directors enjoy full authority over all matters at home as well as abroad, relating to the political, financial, judicial, military, and commercial affairs of the Company, (with the exception of matters of the highest importance entrusted to the Committee of Secrecy) but its proceedings are subject to various acts of Parliament, to the superintendence of the Board of Control, and in several matters to the approval of the General Court as before detailed.

The Court of Directors have the patronage of India, and they have power to remove any officers or servants, except those appointed by the Crown. They are to lay certain accounts annually before Parliament; to frame regulations for the trade of friendly nations with India; and to report half-yearly on recruiting. They expend the revenues of India, and their declaration of an officer not having settled his accounts, renders him ineligible for the direction, for two years after his return. They are to frame estimates of Home expences; and to regulate the promulgation of laws in India. They can suspend the Council boards in India, or reduce the number of their members. The Court of Directors regulate the distribution of patronage in India, and they are specially directed to take into their consideration, all drafts of laws respecting slavery in India, transmitted from India, and to give instruction thereon.

For the better fulfilment of these multifarious duties, the Court is divided into Departmental Committees, with distinct subordinates.

The chief committees, of the Court are as follows:

Secretary Committee.	Finance and Home Committee.
Revenue Judicial & Legislative Committee.	Military and Political Committee.

Committee of Secretary.—The Cabinet Council of the Company,—functions ministerial,—defined by act of Parliament, composed of the Chairman, deputy Chairman, and senior Director, who receive and deliberate on all despatches of the highest importance relative to peace, war, or negotiation abroad, and all matters of a delicate nature at home, confer with the Broad of Control thereon and officially sign private despatches from the Board, the responsibility and power remaining with the latter.

The mode of transacting the business of the E. I. Company with the Governments of India is as follows. Despatches from India are on their arrival delivered to the proper department, and when necessary to address the Governments, either in answer to despatches or otherwise, a draft is framed under the superintendence of the Chief of the Department to which the business belongs. The draft thus prepared is submitted to the Chairman and Deputy Chairman, and when approved by them, is usually (if of an important nature, or upon a subject on which any serious difference of opinion is likely to arise) transmitted in what is called 'previous communication' to the Board, who return it with such alterations as they desire to be made.—The views of the Board having been thus ascertained, the draft is either altered to meet them or not, as the chair may determine, and in the state which they approve, it is laid before the proper Committee, by whom it is considered and forwarded to the Table of the Court. There it undergoes full discussion, and in the form finally determined by the Court is transmitted Officially for the approval of the Board. If returned approved, it is despatched, to India forthwith; if altered, the alterations become the subject of fresh consideration and (if at variance with the impressions of the Court) of correspondence and remonstrance. When the final decision of the Board is obtained, the altered draft is forwarded as a despatch in the form mentioned.

In some cases where no necessity appears for making a Draft, the subject of the proceedings is dispensed with.

The preparation of drafts sometimes requires communications between different departments of the house, these do not assume a formal Character, they are made either personally or by transferring the papers accompanied by short unofficial notes memorandoo.

THE COMMITTEE OF BY-LAWS.

The Charter of 1698 invested the general court with the power of enacting by-laws; and the first general court of the United Company appointed a Committee of fifteen proprietors, of £2,000 of stock, to frame by-laws. Their code ordained that, that, thenceforward, a Committee of seven was to be balloted, annually, in June; but, in 1716, the General court dispensed with the ballot, and substituted a show of hands; and in 1715, a motion to revert to the ballot was negatived. The Charter Act of 1813 rendered a revision of this code necessary, and then much labour devolved upon the Committee. The code is to be read annually in each court. In the long period of the thirty years which elapsed from 1786 to 1816, the Committee of by-laws made but two reports to the general court, and during the space of seven entire years, it had not even met at all. In June, 1814, at the first Midsummer meeting after the Charter was renewed, in consequence of the old Committee having never been in the habit of meeting to discharge their duties, some proprietors intended to expose their neglect, but the chairmain reappointed the old Committee of seven. Even then, the subject was brought forward, and the Company felt the need of a reform in the Committee.

The Committee appointed to inspect the Company's by-laws met at the India House, and, on the 16th of February, 1815, they made a report. recommending various alterations.

Amongst the alterations made, the following may be noticed: the Company's books of Home accounts had been balanced on the 30th June; but, because their India accounts and parliamentary accounts where brought up only to the 30th of April, that date was adopted for the Home account also, as tending to exhibit a more correct view of the pecuniary concerns of the Company. The accounts of each Presidency were in future to be signed by the accountant-general, on pain of dismissal on refusing or neglecting to sign them. In the annual account laid before the proprietors, the proviso for including the guarantee fund was now omitted, because the new Charter Act directed the way in which that fund was to be appropriated. The general accounts of the Company must consequently exhibit its amount and application; and therefore that part of the old by-law became unnecessary. The charter of 1793 had obliged the company to supply tonnage for private trade; but now the India trade was opened to private British ship; and therefore the rule for accounts of this tonnage was abrogated. A more correct check on the treasury account than that resulting from the old by-law was also recommended for adoption. Heretofore, the law was, that every tender should be entered as the same is received, and remain upon the records of the Company; but because many of the offers for goods contained so much extraneous matter, and are so long and incoherent, that the entering of such into a book was a work of very great labour and of no apparent utility, it was now ordained merely 'that an abstract, containing the substance,' should be recorded. As the proprietors of private trade now obtained 'the right to direct the sale of their goods when they please,' the old by-law on the subject became useless, and therefore it was dropped in framing the new code. In drawing from the bank, instead of the cashier's signature being sufficient, it was proposed, as a more secure check on the Company's cash, that the signature of a chairman and of another director, countersigned by the cashier, should be required, and that only the cashier should present the draft for payment. The Secret Committee of Directors, which existed previous to the Secret Committee enacted in 1793, was revived for the management of such part of the commercial affairs as might be of a nature to require secrecy. Committees of Directors had been obliged to report immediately to the Court of Directors; but now, in order to enable absentees to inform themselves on points discussed, previous to reporting, fourteen days were allowed for the report. The Committee of Shipping was abolished, and those of buying and warehouses were united into one.

In order to invest the chairman with the same power as in most other corporations, it was proposed to invest him with power to call a Court of Directors as often as he thought fit, and that no Director should quit the Court without leave of the chairman. Superannuations of the Home Establishment not to be laid before the general court, but gratuities exceeding £600 to be reported to a special general court being submitted to the Board. A Committee empowered to license exports on the Company's ships, as it would be extremely inconvenient to have the sense of thirteen Directors on such matters. Licensed ships to be reported annually. The Company now allowed the Court of Directors to invest the Company's money in shipping for the general service of the Company, that is, to hold Indiamen.

In 1816, the Committee was increased to fifteen members, and was obliged to meet, at least, twice a year; and up to the year 1829, it actually met fifty times. The Court can confer a tribute of approbation and a pecuniary reward on any statesman or warrior whose services may seem to them worthy of such manifestations of popular gratitude; should the donation however, exceed the sums before mentioned, it is subject to the confirmation of the Board of Control; it can also demand copies of various public documents to be laid before it for discussion and consideration; but by Act of Parliament it is prevented rescinding, suspending, revoking, or varying, any order or resolution of the Court of Directors relative to the Revenues, or civil or military Government, after the same shall have received the approbation of the Board of Control.

ORDERS OF KNIGHTHOOD.

ORDER OF THE BATH.

Instituted 1399; Revived 1762; Extended, 1815, MOTTO Tria Juncto in Uno.—RIBAND, Red.

This order consists at present, exclusive of foreign and honorary members, of 724 individuals, of whom 26 are Civil grand Cross, 12 honorary Knights grand Cross, 10 honorary Knight Commanders, 29 honorary Companies and the remainder Naval and Military Officers.

By statute, Jan. 2, 1815, it is ordained, "for the purpose of Commemorating the auspicious termination of the long and arduous contest in which this Empire has been engaged," that the Order shall be composed of three classes, viz:—

1st CLASS.—To consist of Knights Grand Crosses, number not to exceed seventy-two, exclusive of the Sovereign and Princes of the blood Royal; twelve of the number may be appointed from the Civil and Diplomatic Services. This dignity not to be conferred upon any Officer (except the above twelve) who shall not have attained the Rank of Major General in the Army, or Rear Admiral in the Navy, and must have been previously appointed to the second class.

2ND CLASS—Knights Commanders, number not exceeding upon the first Institution, one hundred and eighty, exclusive of Foreign Officers holding British Commissions, of whom not exceeding ten may be admitted as Honorary Knight Commanders; in the event of actions of signal distinction, or future wars, the number of this Class may be increased. To be entitled to the distinctive appellation of Knighthood to have the same rights and privileges as Knights Bachelors, but to take a precedence of them; to wear the badge, and pendant by a red riband round the neck, the star embroidered on the left side.

3D CLASS.—Companions of the Order not limitted in number, they are to take precedence of Esquires, but not entitled to the appellation, style, &c. of Knight. Bachelors. To wear the badge assigned to the 3d class, pendant by a narrow riband to the button hole. No Officer can be nominated unless he shall have recived a medal or other badge of honour, or shall have been especially mentioned in despatches in the Gazette, as having distinguished himself in action.

The new badge for the Military classes of the Order, is a Gold Maltese Cross of eight points, enamelled argent in the four angles a lion passant, guardant, or, in the centre, the rose, thistle, and shamrock, issuant from a sceptre between three imperial crowns, or, with a circle, gules,—thereon the motto of the Order surrounded by two branches laurel, proper, issuing from an escrol azure inscribed "Ich Dien" in letters of gold, worn by the Grand Crosses pendant from a red riband accross the right shoulder by the knights Commanders from the neck, and by the companions from the button hole. The collar is of gold, weighing thirty ounces, of troy weight, and is composed of nine imperial crowns and eight roses, thistle and shamrock, issuing from a sceptre, enamelled in their proper colours, tied or linked together with seventeen gold knots, enamelled white, having the badge of the order pendant thereto. The Star of the Military Grand Crosses is formed of rays of flames of Silver, thereon a Gold Maltese Cross, and in the centre, with the motto, branches of laurel, issuant as above described three imperial crowns of gold and is worn on the left side.

The Civil Knights Grand Crosses retain the old badge and star of the order.

No Knight can wear the collar before his installation.

The Star of the Commanders is in the form of a Cross patee of Silver, having the same centre as the Grand Crosses, but no Gold Maltese Cross thereon.

ROYAL HANOVERIAN GUELPHIC ORDER.

This order was instituted by the Prince Regent in the name of His Majesty Geo. III "King of Great Britain, and Hanover," in 1815. The badge is a gold Maltese Cross of eight points surmounted by a Crown, and bearing on its Centre the white Horse surrounded by the motto "Nec Aspera terrent." Ribbon, sky blue, wattered. On the death of William IV, the power of conferring this distinction passed, agreeably to statue II, to the Crown of Hanover, but it still enrols 525 British Members, admitted before that event—of these 67 are Civil, and 135 are also Members of the orders of the Bath. The following are extracts from the Royal Ordinance of Institution dated "Carlton House, 12th Aug. 1815."

I. This new order of Knighthood is to be considered as instituted from the 12th August 1815, and to be styled the Guelphic order, in Commemoration of several important events. For the more particular splendour of this order the office of Grand Master is for ever to be vested in the Crown of Honover. IV The order is to consist of three Classes, Grand Crosses, Commanders and Knights, VI. Only those of our servants and subjects are to be received into the Order who have not only performed their services according to honor and duty, but who have particularly distinguished themselves or performed extraordinary services for their Country. VII. This order gives to those who obtain it, exclusive of the consideration for their services, not only precedence before those of their rank who do not possess it, but gives to those who are not noble, for their person all the rights of nobility, and the admission to our Court attached thereto.

I. Suplimentary. In order to give this our order greater value and higher dignity we do hereby Command that such persons only shall be received therein who are of good descent, and birth, possess arms, and are of unimpeachable conduct &c.

II It is our Royal will, that the Blank Coursier Herald shall obtain the Arms of the different Knights, and place the same as well on the Chapel of our Palace at Hanover, as in the Ancient Hall of Knights, there, the Arms to be placed on a Copper plate within a Sky blue Circle bearing the Motto "Nec asperater- rent" in letters of gold surrounded, if a Military person, by a wreath of laurel; if Civil, by a wreath of Oak. Under the Arms shall be engraved the name and rank of the knights, and also the date of their reception, as a durable remembrance to posterity of their distinguished merit and services.

III Grants to the grand Crosses, the right of using the Collar Circle, Motto, wreath and badge with their Armorial bearings, and to commanders and Knights the same insignia with the exception of the collar.

In the former case, the general state of the deceased, or such person or persons as he, or she may, by will or assignment, have appointed, shall benefit in the event of a lapse; in the latter, the person who may have subscribed on the life of the deceased shall benefit to the extent of the shares subscribed, for unless in either case such shares be especially declared at the time of subscription to be for the benefit of any other person or persons, or be subsequently made over according to the form hereafter prescribed for the benefit of any other person or persons in which case such person or persons shall be entitled to benefit, in the event of a lapse and no other.

In all cases it shall rest with the Committee to judge whether with reference to the circumstances of situation and distance, the interval which may elapse between the date of any certificate and affidavit of health, and the time of their presentment be reasonable or otherwise, and to admit or reject such certificate and affidavit accordingly. In no case, however, is the party subscribing to have any claim on the funds of the late Society in the event of the life lapsing between the date of the certificate and the date on which the applicant may be admitted a Member, unless where the Directors may at the instance of such applicant have originally permitted the subscription to take effect from the date of the certificate and affidavit of health, which it shall at all times be in their discretion to do, on the arrears of subscription being paid up. In the event, however, of a person dying between the dates of his certificate and affidavit, the amount of premium paid for such Insurance shall be refunded.

18th. 21st. No subsequent increase of shares on any life shall be allowed except on fresh application to be again approved of by the Directors and accompanied by a certificate and affidavit as above. The subscription on the additional shares to be according to the age of the party at the time making the new application.

23d. As often as a sum exceeding Rupees one thousand shall be collected, it shall be laid out in the purchase of Government paper, Bank shares, or in Loans secured by a deposit of Government paper to be granted under the control and authority of the Directors, it being clearly understood that in all cases of Loan the saleable value of the Deposit shall be more than sufficient to cover the sum lent. Should the Directors think however, that the Funds will not allow of an immediate payment of this amount, then such sum only shall be advanced as they may deem proper, and the balance of the prescribed advance shall be paid so soon as the Directors shall be of opinion that the Funds will safely admit of it.

At the expiration of this Society on the 31st December 1843, it is proposed that a new Society, on a similar plan, but subject to such alterations as experience may suggest, shall be immediately instituted, into which Society all Members then holding shares on unexpired Lives in the Third Laudable Society shall be at liberty to transfer those shares without any renewed certificate of health, in consideration of a sum of money to be paid to such new Society, out of the Fund of Third Laudable Society and without taking into account any proportion of the advances previously paid by the society on account of the lapsed Lives, to entitle Members of the Third Laudable Society to transfer the shares held by them into the ensuing or Fourth Laudable Society, no regular form of application shall be necessary, but a certificate of admission into the new society shall be immediately issued to them on the simple payment of the usual half year's subscription in advance, subject, however to the established penalty of two per cent. in the event of the payment being delayed beyond the term of one month, from the commencement of the new Society and to the entire forfeiture of the privilege to transfer (excepting on a new application to the Directors, accompanied by the regular certificate of health, &c. if not made good within the second month from that period. The rates of subscription for Members transferring their shares from the Third to the Fourth Laudable Society shall be according to the respective ages of the parties on whose lives the shares are held on the first January 1844.

27th. It is proposed to render the institution of the Laudable Society permanent by establishing a new Society, in succession to each Society as it expires.

28th. Upon the transfer to the Fourth Laudable Society of any shares in the third Laudable Society, which may stand assigned by endorsement or otherwise, for the benefit of any other person or persons than the person or persons originally interested therein, or upon any subsequent transfer of any share or shares so assigned from the third or any succeeding Society, to the Society next ensuing, such share or shares shall continue in all respect, subject to the lieu of the Assignee, and shall be declared to stand for the benefit of such Assignee in the certificate of admission to be issued from the new Society.

29th. Within one month and fifteen days after its termination, the accounts of the Laudable Society shall be made up and the balance of Funds actually on hand, after deducting for the new Society 12 per cent, on the amount of subscriptions, received during the term of the Society, be divided by the number of shares held on Lives subscribed upon in this Society which may have lapsed between its commencement and its close, and the party entitled to benefit by such lapses shall each receive his or their proportion of the said Funds, according to the number of shares respectively held by them on the several lapsed Lives, the holders of half or quarter shares divided according to those fractional proportions. The "sum of Rs. 10,000 shall be considered as the maximum payable on any one lapsed share and any surplus shall be carried to the credit of the Society."

30th. With respect to any lapses of Lives in this Society which may not be ascertained on or prior to the 15th of February 1839, such lapses shall be at the risk of the next ensuing or third Laudable Society, and the Advances of Dividends to which the parties claiming to benefit by such lapses may be entitled, shall be paid out of the Funds, and agreeably to the Regulations of the said ensuing Society on the lapses being ascertained; but it is hereby expressly provided with respect to any lapses which may have occurred at any place to the eastward of the Cape of Good Hope, that notice of such lapses accompanied by satisfactory proof of the same must be given to the Secretaries of the fourth Laudable Society within one year from the expiration of the third Society on the 31st December 1843, or within two years if the lapse have occurred in Europe or elsewhere, beyond the Cape of Good Hope and that in the event of the party or parties interested neglecting to prefer his or their claim on account of any such lapse within the period here prescribed, he or they shall entirely forfeit all right and title to any benefit whatever, by reason of such lapse from the funds of the third or any succeeding Society.

The Directors of this Society have caused investigation to be made with great care into the existing Institutions for Life Assurance, &c. &c., and they trust they have been fortunate in selecting from each what, as a whole, will place their Establishment on the most judicious and satisfactory footing both to the Proprietors and the Assured. They request particular attention to the rates which being founded on the most accurate observations of the duration of human life are as moderate as is consistent with prefect security.

The plan of this Society is to transact all its business on such terms as to leave, in all human probability a small, but certain excess of profit on the general result of its transactions. A small portion of that profit necessary for defraying the unavoidable expense of the Institution, and who have pledged the subscribed amount of their Capital in order to afford that responsibility which relieves the Assured from any contingency of loss to which they might be liable without the intervention of such a guarantee.

Advantages offered by this Society.

The profits are declared in each year, on the second Wednesday in May, on which date all persons assured in the Society for the whole term of life, whose Policies have been in existence five complete years are entitled to participate.

The practice of an annual division, as observed by Mr. Babbage, "distributes the profits with more regularity and justice than any other," and it is especially advantageous to persons of advanced years, who cannot hope to participate in many septennial or decennial divisions.

One-fifth of the astertained profits of the five preceding years in divided between the Policy-holders, and Share-holders,—three fourths to the former, and one-fourth to the latter. The remaining four-fifths are set apart to enter into the average of the succeeding years, and thus to provide against unforeseen contingencies.

The first division of profits was declared on the 13th May 1840, in London, and on the 15th August in India, amounting to a reduction of 60 per cent, on the annual premium of all policies entitled to participation.

The following table will shew the operation of the reduction made by the Society.

Age when Policy was issued.	Date of Policy.	Sum Assured.	Original Premium.	Reduction.	Annual Premium payable in 1840.
20	May 1835.	Co's. Rs, 10,000	Rs. 420	Rs, 252	Rs. 168
30	"	" 10,000	" 480	" 288	" 192
40	"	" 10,000	" 590	" 354	" 236
50	"	" 10,000	" 740	" 444	" 296
60	"	" 10,000	" 1,080	" 613	" 412

This system of reduction in the Premiums affords immediate benefit to the Assured, or enables them to secure a considerable bonus by effecting a new Policy.

Separate tables, both Civil and Military, have been adopted for the whole of life, at reduced rates for such persons as may prefer a lower rate of Premium to participation in the general profits.

The Society makes a natural distinction between persons exposed to the hazards of Military and Maritime occupations, and those whose occupations are of a Civil nature; but Members of the Military Service holding offices purely Civil and subject to no extra risk, will be charged the Civil rate of premium only while engaged in duties purely civil. It will be in the discretion of the Directors in each particular case to say whether the higher or the lower rate of premium shall be chargeable, and that discretion will be regulated by the particular circumstances of the case.

When application is made for assuring a life subject to more than ordinary hazard, and augmented Premium will be charged proportionate to the increased risk, the rate of which will be regulated by the strictest attention to justice between the Society and the Assured, according to circumstances.

Premiums are ordinarily payable half yearly in advance; but Policy-holders are at liberty to make arrangements with the Society to pay their premiums in one amount, in annual or quarterly payments, or for a given number of years, viz:—5, 10, 15, or 20. Some persons may wish to avail themselves of a present season of prosperity, and adopt the latter course, in which case (although their contributions will cease with the expiration of the term they may fix upon) their share of the profits will continue to be added to their Polices annually during the remainder of life.

The Parent institution being in London, with a similar Establishment in Calcutta for granting Policies, Premiums, as well as claims are payable in either country at the option of the Policy-holder. The appointment of Sub-Committees at Madras and Bombay with power to grant Polices, affords similar facilities to persons residing at either of the sister Presidencies.

All Policies becoming claims on the Society will be discharged within three months after satisfactory proof of the death, and cause of death, of the Assured shall have been furnished to the Directors either in London or Calcutta.

The Directors of the Indian Branch of the Society are empowered to treat for the purchase of Policies on which Premium shall have been paid for a period of not less than five years or to advance, if require on such Policies, by way of loan, two-thirds of the estimated value.

The accounts of this Society, after being investigated by Auditors, chosen as well by the Assured as by the Proprietors, are laid before General Meetings convened twice a year for that purpose:—In like manner the accounts of the Parent Society are regularly transmitted to India for inspection, the Indian Branch enjoying reciprocal advantages with the Parent Society.

Where the application for Assurance makes no mention of the date from which the Assurance is desired to take effect, the Policy will be issued on the date of approval of the risk by the Directors, but no Assurance to be binding on the Society until the first Premium shall have been actually paid to the Agents.

Every proposal for Assurance will be immediately attended to, and the Assurance completed generally within a few days after the application is made.

All applications for Assurance must be accompanied by a Medical Fee of Eight Rupees.

The Tables, Blank Forms, and other particulars requisite to enable persons to effect Assurances, may be had on application to the Agents.

By Order of the Directors.

When a party applies to pay premiums in London for a continuance, he shall be required to state if he wishes to continue his policy in Rupees, in which case the premiums are to be received in such an amount as will purchase a Bill of the East India Company for the amount of premium due in Calcutta, according to the terms of the policy—or should he be entitled to be reduced to the English rate, the premium must still be calculated in Rupees and received in Sterling money according to the Exchange of the day.

The preferable course is for the party to leave the Policy at the office to be endorsed as covering a certain sum of Sterling money, to be calculated at the rate of 2s the Rupee, after which the premium will always be received in Sterling money without reference to the state of the Exchange.

have been effected, it is necessary for the Assured to communicate immediately to the Company any alteration which may subsequently be made in the buildings, or in the description of the goods deposited, or of the trade or process carried on in them; and if any of these changes increase the risk which has been assigned in every other respect to be perfectly explicit in their communication with the Directors, as any omission or misrepresentation vitiates the policy.

II. No claim will be allowed for loss occasioned by the invasion of a foreign enemy, by civil commotion, or by any military power; all Assurances on property in foreign countries are to be suspended during the continuance of any such invasion or civil commotion.

III. Books of Accounts; written Securities, Bills, Bonds, ready money, Tallees, and Gunpowder, are not to be held assured by any policy granted by this Company.

IV. No description of property is to be considered insured by any policy unless specially mentioned in such policy.

V. Assurances, made with other Companies on property assured by this Company must be noticed either in or by indorsement upon the policies granted by this Company. Persons neglecting to notify such assurances with other Companies, will forfeit their right of recovery on this Company.

VI. No Assurance proposed to this Company is to be considered in force, until the premium be paid.

VII. If property assured by the Company should pass by death, assignment or otherwise, into new hands, the interest in the policy may be preserved to the successor, provided succession be allowed at the office, by indorsement on the policy, and if the goods assured be removed to a new situation, the Assurance may be continued by indorsement on the Policy; an extra premium will be charged if the risk be increased by the removal.

VIII. If any loss or damage by fire, be sustained on property assured with this Company, the person assured is forthwith to give notice of such loss or damage at the Company's office, as soon as possible after within three months at the utmost, deliver in to the Company an exact account of the particulars and amount of such loss or damage, as the nature of the case may admit. If it be required, such account shall be supported by the oath or affirmation of the party assured; by the attention of a certificate of some persons who reside within the parish, or in the immediate neighbourhood of the sufferer, and who may be competent witness as to the character of the Assured and to the fairness of the claim, and further by the production of such books, documents, or vouchers, as may appear necessary. If there be found to be any false swearing, or if it shall appear that the fire shall have been occasioned by any wilful act or connivance on his part the policy in such case shall be void and the right of recovery forfeited.

IX. In every case of loss, the Company will reserve to itself the right of re-instatement, in preference to the payment of claims, if it shall judge the former course to be most expedient.

X. If any difference shall arise with respect to the amount of any claim for loss or damage by fire and no fraud be suspected, such difference shall be submitted to arbitrators, indifferently chosen, whose award or that of their umpire shall be conclusive.

Persons desirous of making Assurances for seven years, by one payment, will be charged for six years only.

In annual Assurances, the premium will be calculated for the day on which the Assurance is proposed for one year. On Assurances for less than a year the premium will be reduced. THE AGRA BANK.

Agents in Bombay—Messrs. Dirom, Carter and Co.

THE BOMBAY AGENCY OF THE AGRA BANK is established with Messrs. DIROM CARTER AND Co. Regiments and individuals having Loan Accounts with the Bank are requested to remit their monthly instalments accordingly to Bombay, whence the Agents will punctually furnish them with the usual acknowledgments.

Loans repayable within 12 months are granted at 9 per cent, per annum to Officers, Civil or Military, who can arrange for the regular payment of their monthly instalments at Bombay on the security of 2 approved sureties.

Loans requiring two years for repayment are granted to the same classes, and under the same condition, at 10 per cent per annum with three sureties; and loans requiring three years, at 10 per cent with four sureties.

In the two last cases, where it may not be convenient to give more than two sureties, the Bank requires that the loan should be further protected by a life insurance: but, on application to that effect through the sureties, they consenting to the same, the Directors will be prepared to allow the discontinuance of the policy on a loan of the two year class, after the expiration of the first year, and on a loan of the three years class after two years have expired. In all cases of insurance, unless the debtor himself desires that the policy should be maintained at its original amount, it is reduced from time to time according to the gradual liquidation of the debt.

No private loan is granted which is not conditioned to be entirely liquidated within three years at farthest.

In cases of Furlough on Medical Certificate, Indian Loans granted after 1st October 1840, will, as regards interest, be chargeable with the reduced interest of 8 per cent, per annum, and the periodical instalments will recommence only on the return of the party to his duty.

Regimental loans are granted to Corps to facilitate the establishment and maintenance of Messes, Bands, Libraries, and for other Regimental purposes, which should be particularised in the application, at 8 per cent.

Loans are granted on the Security of Government Paper, and of Calcutta and Bombay Bank Stock at per cent per annum, where the parties borrowing give to the Bank a power to sell the notes or shares forming such security, if, on 3 months' notice of intention to close the account, the Loan shall not then be repaid in full.

Interest on loans is charged from the date on which the amount is placed as a floating balance at the disposal of the borrower, according to notice given, and is allowed, at the same rate, upon all remittances from the date of their receipt.

If a one year, or if a two year loan be not discharged in full within the period for which it was originally granted, but allowed to extend into a second or third year respectively, it will be subject to be charged with the next higher rates of interest, namely 9 or 10 per cent from the commencement of the transaction.

Constituents of the Service when writing to the Bank, are requested to add their rank or official designation to obviate the delay of reference; and with the same view, applicants for loans are also requested, in naming their sureties, to furnish a similar detail regarding them, reporting also their residence at the time, in order that the loan papers may be forwarded to them direct, if they have previously consented to stand as such.

All accounts with the Bank are brought up periodically to the 30th of June and 31st of December, and interest thereon is credited or debited to those dates half-yearly.

Parties already indebted to the Bank cannot have a second loan so as to have two accounts with different Sureties and different terms of payment open at the same time, but the balance due on the former account must be deducted from the new loan.

As a general rule, parties already under engagement to the Bank, or otherwise to an amount exceeding their property, are not admissible as sureties. The Directors give a preference to applications for loans repayable within a short date.

The Bank charges no commission for receiving or paying, either loans or deposits.

Shareholders have no advantage over other parties in borrowing from the Bank but must give similar securities in every respect.

Letters bearing postage will not be received by the Bank, or its Agents at Bombay.

DEPOSITS.—Interest is allowed at 4 per cent, per annum to depositors giving the Bank 3 months' notice of intention of withdrawal, and at 5½ per cent, on deposits subject to a 6 months' notice. Whenever circumstances permit, the Agents will discount the deposits of individuals at any shorter notice at the rate of 1 per cent. per annum.

Gentlemen desirous of investing in the 6 per cent. Deposits of the Agra Bank may have their funds remitted to Agra for that purpose at the exchange of 2 per cent., receiving interest from the date of payment of their funds to the Bank's Agents at Bombay.

Remittances to Agra for the purchase of Bank Stock will be made at a similar rate of Exchange, but, in this case, the money being for investment in shares, must be considered as a floating deposit without interest. Depositors for this purpose may be assured that the purchase will be made with the least possible delay, as to give effect to any such desire which might be found to exist at Bombay, the Directors of the Agra Bank have already resolved that a preference shall be given to applicants from this quarter over the home-purchaser, at the market value of the Stock.

To meet the wishes of Shareholders and Depositors absent in Europe, the Agra Bank undertakes to remit, at the actual exchange of the day, the sale proceeds of shares, the amount of dividends (as regularly declared), the interest on deposit accounts, the principal of all deposits fixed and floating, and generally to transact all such business for the classes before named, WITHOUT CHARGE.

R. G MACGREGOR,
Secretary Agra Bank.

P. S.—A few words seem required as to the form of applications for private loans. The intending borrower, if a Regimental Officer under the rank of a Field Officer, must address the Secretary to the Bank, stating the amount which he desires to take up, the instalment by which he proposes to repay it, he must name at least two sureties for approval, accompanying his application by a statement from the Commanding Officer of his corps to the following effect.

I recommend that a loan of Rs. be granted as likely to be of service to who, with his sureties and will, I have no doubt do the utmost duly to perform the engagements entered into for the repayment of the advance.

Lieut. Col.
Comg. Regt.

Where from any cause, which should be stated, this introduction by the actual Commanding Officer is not obtainable, a satisfactory explanation countersigned by the second in command, and forwarded through the Bank's Agents at Bombay, Messrs. Dirom, Carter and Co., would be accepted in lieu. Gentlemen of the Civil Service, with Field and Staff Officers of the Army, who may be desirous of obtaining loans, are also requested to transmit their applications to the Secretary through the above firm, stating the sum required, the amount of proposed instalment, and the names of their sureties.

PUBLIC BUILDING ON THE MAHABUL E-SHWUR HILLS.

1st. The houses erected by Government for the accommodation of sick officer and their families at the convalescent station on the Mahabuleshwur Hills, are placed under the control and sugerintendence of the Medical Officer of the station to whom all applications for Quarters are to be addressed officially in writing.

2d. Each applicant is directed to state distinctly the description of quarters he desires to occupy, the period for which he requires them, and whether he is proceeding on medical certificate. These applications will be held, and complied with in the order of their dates; preference being given, however, to the claims of officers on medical certificate, and their sick families.

3rd. Officers not on medical certificate, will be permitted to occupy quarters in the Sanatarium, on condition of their being vacated when required for the accommodation of sick officers.

4th. Each applicant will incur the penalty of a month's rent, who may decline on their being offered to him, to occupy such quarters as he may have applied for unless he shall have withdrawn his name from the Roll a month; previous to the time at which he had intimated his intention of occupying them.

5th. No house can be hired for a shorter period than one month, and the tenant shall give a fortnight's notice to the Superintendent, of his intention to vacate his quarters under forfeiture of half a month's rent.

6th. No private transfer of quarters by the tenant is permitted, to the prejudice of the regular succession by the Superintendent's List.

7th. Any tenant who does not occupy his house within a month after engaging it shall be considered as having forfeited all further claim to it, provided there is any other applicant on the list.

8th. The rate of the house rent is regulated to the extent of the accommodation and ranges from (25) twenty five to (90) Ninety Rupees a month ; the quarters of the lowest rent consisting of two rooms with out-houses attached.

9th. The amount of Rent due by officers of the Army or Indian Navy, will be deducted from their monthly abstracts by the Public Officers from whom they draw Pay ; that due by other persons in the public Service is to be paid in cash to the Officer in charge of the Station, on the first of each month, if deducted by him from the amount of advances on account of Pay made to them from the treasure chest under his charge, and that due by persons not in the public Service, is to be paid in cash in like manner, under or by his Bill payable in Bombay, in favour of the Officer in charge of the Buildings, who will transmit to the General Pay Master for recovery.

10th. The tenant will be held responsible for all damages or destruction of Quarter by fine or otherwise.

11th. On the first of each month the Superintendent's Native Agent will inspect all the houses, and report any damages that may have taken place, and should this not be immediately repaired by the tenant, the Government contractor will be directed to repair them at the expence of the tenant, who will not be entitled in such case to object to the contractor's Bill, if countersigned by the Superintendent. All disputes between tenants and the contractor regarding petty damages occurring during their occupancy, are to be referred to the Superintendent to whose decision the parties are to submit.

Bombay Castle, 10th June 1841.

No. 300. The pay of the European Troops at the three Presidencies having been assimilated and the Government of India having authorized the issue of the same in arrear, agreeably to the practice observed under the Bengal Presidency, the following rules are laid down for the gradual accomplishment of that object.

The pay of the European Commissioned officers of the Company's Service will be paid in arrear in conformity with instructions issued to Pay-masters under the decision of Government, dated the 8th February 1838, namely—All Officers entering or returning to the service from Europe and all those promoted, will not be allowed to draw net pay in advance. The period fixed for the commencement of this arrangement was the 1st February 1838, a reference to the date of the Officers arrival in, or return to this country, or to that of the General Order announcing his promotion will enable the pay and audit departments to ascertain readily whether the pay of any Officer has or has not been thrown into arrear.

The pay of the European Soldiers of the Company's service arriving from Europe after the 1st May 1841, will be paid in arrear, and of the Non-Commissioned, Officers and Soldiers previously in the service, (though actually paid in advance) will be considered as paid in arrear from the above date and issued in every respect in the same manner as the pay of the Men drawing pay in arrear, with this exception, namely,—That when such men become casualties the pay overdrawn shall be deducted from the abstract as at present.

Her Majesty's Troops, both Officers and men of Regiments now on this establishment, and all who may hereafter join those Regiments from Europe or elsewhere will continue to draw pay in advance as at present, but those belonging to Regiments placed on this Establishment after the 1st May 1841, will draw pay in arrear.

The aggregate monthly amount of the pay and allowances of the Officers of the relieving Regiments will be precisely the same as that drawn by Company's Officers of corresponding ranks, the following Table shews the item included in the aggregate sum.

No. 436.—The Right Honorable the Governor in Council, with a view to a more complete assimilation of the rules of the three Presidencies regarding the Regimental Pay and Allowances of the European Commissioned Officers of the Honorable Company's Service, is pleased to direct that from the 1st day of October, next, they shall be drawn at the rates laid down in the following Tables, in which the total receipts in each rank correspond exactly with those now existing, the calculations having been made for a period of four years, in order to embrace a leap year.

In drawing arrears for broken periods for any month, they are to be calculated with reference to the number of days in the month, and agreeably to the monthly rates now laid down.

In abstracts for Garrison Pay and Allowances the different items composing the consolidated sum shewn in the Table A. need not be stated but for Officers not entitled to Territories, or for those entitled to only Half Tentage, the total of each in the Abstract must be reduced accordingly.

The House Rent of Officers living in Public Quarters and not entitled to that Allowance, is nevertheless to be included in the total, but the amount must be deducted on the face of the Abstract, and paymasters will give credit for the same in their Cash Accounts under the proper head. Separate Abstracts for additional Half Batta when in the Field, at a Full Batta station, or marching must as heretofore, invariably be made, and the amonnt drawn at the rate laid down in the second column in the Field Table B.; and Staff Officers who receive it in virtue of their Staff Appointments, will draw it in their Staff Abstract.

Officers individually detached from Garrison Station on Court Martial, or their temporary duties which entitled them to both House Rent and Tentage, will, as heretofore, charge the full amount of half Batta in their Field Abstract.

Adjutants and Quarter Masters of Troops of Horse Artillery at Bombay, will be abolished as vacancies occur, and a Brigade Adjutant and Quarter Master in one person, appointed in the allowances above specified.

The Staff to the Brigade of Horse and Battalions of European Foot Artillery at Fort Saint George, and to the European Foot Artillery at Bombay, will, prospectively, as vacancies occur, merge into one Officer for each European Brigade and Battalion, (in conformity with the practice in Bengal) who will draw the allowances above specified.

The duties and emoluments of the Regimental Staff alluded to in the two preceding paragraphs, will remain unaffected until opportunities occur for effecting the proposed consolidation of their appointments.

The separate office of Interpreter to the European Regiment at Bombay, will also be abolished prospectively, and as at the other Presidencies, a Quarter Master and Interpreter, will be appointed on the Scale of allowances here indicated for the Office. In the meantime, the Quarter Master will continue to draw the same aggregate of emoluments as heretofore, but the same will in future be passed under the new heads herein detailed.

The additional Staff allowance of 30 Rupees a month, now granted at Bombay, to Quarter Masters and Interpreters of Native Infantry, and Native Artillery, when Interpreters of both the Hindoostance and Mahratta Languages, will also be abolished prospectively, and in all future appointments, the nominee will draw staff pay at the new rate now assigned of 62 Rupees a month.

The present duties and emoluments of Interpreters of Her Majesty's Regiment of Dragoons and Infantry will both remain unaffected, but as vacancies occur, the separate Interpreterships, whenever existing in each Language, Hindoostanee and Mahratta, will merge into one for both Languages, on the allowances here stated. This rule will apply equally to the Interpreter of the European Regiment.

The allowance of 21 Rupees a month, granted at Fort Saint George, to the Adjutants of Corps, European and Native while in the Field or marching; for the carriage of Regimental Books of their own, and the Quarter Master's Department, will likewise be prospectively abolished, and the bonâ fide expenses incurred for those purposes, will be drawn when actually marching, as in Bengal.

2. The vacancies which may from time to time occur in this limited establishment, will be filled up by General Officers recommended to us by the General Commanding-in-Chief.

3. General Officers, being Colonels of regiments in the event of their regiments being reduced, may be placed, in the fist instance, as Supernumeraries in the said establishments, but are to fall into the vacancies that may occur thereupon.

4. All Officers promoted to be General Officers shall whether on full pay or half pay at the time of promotion receive unattached pay at the rate of four hundred pounds per annum, or if Lieut. 5. The benefit of this pay shall not be extended to any General Officer who, when he last went upon half pay had received the difference; nor to any officer who went upon half pay at his own request in time of war after having obtained the Brevet rank of Lieut. Colonel; nor to any officer who went upon half pay at his own request in time of peace before he had served six years with the rank of Regimental Field Officer.

Officers thus situated shall continue to receive the half pay only of which they were in the receipt at the time of their promotion to be General Officers.

6. Officers removed from their Commissions as Field Officers, in regiments of Foot Guards, in consequence of being promoted to be General Officers, shall receive unattached pay according to the following scale viz.—

Lieut.-Colonel.....600*l.* per annum.

7. A limited establishment of retired full pay shall be formed and kept up according to the following scale ---

20 Lieut. Colonels at 17s. a day each.
20 Majors, 16s. ,,

Captains, whereof a number, not exceeding 45, may be Brevet Field Officers at 13s. 7d. a day each and the remainder Captains at 11s. 7d. a day each, Captains on the Retire[illegible], at a lower rate of pay, are not to be transferred to the new scale, except on special recommendation of the General Commanding in chief.

8. The officers to be selected for this retired establishment shall be recommended to us by the General commanding in chief, and they shall be appointed thereto according to the Regimental, and not according to their Brevet rank, but they shall not thereby obtain any additional rank, nor can they be further promoted.

9. Officers hereafter appointed to veteran battalions shall not, on their retirement therefrom, acquire any claim to full retired pay, but upon reduction shall be liable to be placed upon half pay under the same regulations as Officers reduced from regiments of the Line.

Half Pay.

10. The half pay of the Army is a remuneration for past Military services, and also an obligation on the part of the Officers to return to his Military duties when ever called upon, and any Officers not obeying the calls is liable to forfeit his half pay.

11. No officer shall be entitled to be placed on the half pay establishment on reduction from full pay, unless he shall have actually done duty in some other Military capacity in the public service, for a period of at least six years, excepting he shall have been compelled to retire upon half pay, by wounds received in action; or by ill health contracted on duty in our colonies after three years' service.

12. An Officer having served more than three and less than six years, will however if reduced, be placed upon half pay until recalled to active service.

13 An officer having served less than three years, will, if reduced, receive only a temporary allowance of half pay, according to the following scale:---

Service on full pay.	Temporary allowance.
Under 1 year.....	for 1 year.
1 and under 2 years.....	2 ,,
2 ,, 3 ,,.....	3 ,,

14. The temporary allowance shall cease at the termination of the above recited periods, or previously, if the officers shall have been previously, replaced on full pay.

15. But an officer on temporary half pay shall be eligible to be appointed to a full pay commission either by exchange or otherwise, provided his appointment shall take place within five years after he has ceased to receive temporary half pay, in which case his former service shall be allowed to reckon.

16. The exchange to full pay under the preceding article may be made with a full pay officer entitled to half pay.

17. If an officer receiving the temporary allowance shall have purchased his commission, he may receive the regulation price thereof from the public through the Secretary at War, and the sum thus advanced shall be refunded to the public by the sale of a first full pay commission provided that not more than one first commission out of two be thus sold for refunding to the public the regulated price of the commission so advanced.

18 If a Subaltern Officer having a claim to half pay is desirous of selling or commuting his half pay, the following Rule shall be observed:—If he purchased his commission, the regulated price may be given (whether receiving half pay or temporary allowance) with the usual precaution of a medical certificate as to his being in a good state of health.

If he did not purchase his commission, he may receive the new price of that commission, if a Lieut. with seven years' full-pay service in the Army, or with six years' if a Cornet or Ensign; and the old price of the commission if under those periods, and above four years' full pay service.

If he did not purchase his commission and should retire after less than four years', and more than three years' service, at his own request, and not on account of ill health or wounds, he shall only receive half the price of the commission at the new rate.

19. But in the cases included in the two preceeding Articles, no officer on half pay shall of right, have a claim to sell or commute his half pay---the permission shall be governed by such a consideration of the individual case as the General Commanding-in-Chief and Secretary at War may think proper to recommend to us.

20 No Garrison Commission or Appointment shall give an officer any claim to half pay on retirement.

21. An officer who applies to retire upon half pay on the ground of ill health, must, if stationed in or near London or Dublin, be examined by the principal officers of the Army Medical Departments in those cities and if stationed elsewhere by a board of Medical Officers, agreeably to the provisions of the articles of War; the result of such examination to be forwarded to the General Commanding-in-Chief and Secretary at War. If such examination shall not take place the officer will be considered to have retired upon half pay for his own convenience.

22. Every Quarter the residence of the half pay officer is to be stated in his Declaration, whether his half pay be received by an agent or by himself.

23. If an officer of any of the under mentioned ranks shall have entered the Service since the termination of the war in 1815, and shall, after the date of this warrant, be permitted to exchange to half pay, not on account of ill health, but for his private convenience, before he has served seven years on full pay, he shall be allowed only the old rate of half pay specified in the following schedule; if the retirement should be for the public convenience by reduction or otherwise, or in consequence of ill health as certified by a Medical Board, the officer will be allowed the new rate of half pay.

Quartermasters.

31. The rate of half pay for a Quartermaster shall in all cases be determined by the service which the officer may have rendered to the public as Quartermaster or in any former Military capacity.

Medical Officers.

34. The rate of half pay for a Medical Officer of the Army shall in every case be determined by the service which he may have rendered upon full pay, and the circumstances, under which he may be placed upon half pay.

STEAM COMMUNICATION WITH EUROPE.

NOTIFICATION.

MARINE DEPARTMENT.

The Honorable the Governor in Council is pleased to notify, that information has been received from the Honorable the Court of Directors, that the Mails by the Overland Route will from November next, be despatched from London on the 4th of every Calendar month.

The following are the dates on which the mails will be despatched, and reach the intermediate Stations.

	Date.
From London, the evening of the	4th.

Ditto at Marseilles 5 P. M.	9th.
Leaves for Malta immediately.

Leaves Malta noon of the	14th.
Arrives at Alexandria	19th.

The Steamer remains 4 days to Coal &c.

The Mail is immediately despatched to Suez, which it reaches on the 23rd and proceeds forthwith to Bombay.

From Bombay the Mail will be despatched about the end of each month, on such dates as circumstances may render necessary, so as to reach Suez on the 19th, and of which due notification will be given.

	Date.
Mail arrives at Suez on the	19th.
Crosses the Desert to Alexandria when the Steamer is despatched to Malta on the	23rd.
Reaches Malta about the	29th.
Ditto Marseilles about the	4th or 5th.
According to the number of days in the proceeding month.
Arrives in London the	9th or 10th.

The longest time required, has in all these cases, been calculated to provide against the bad weather in the winter month.

N. B. The Public and Agents for Passengers are particularly requested to observe, that by this arrangement the period hitherto granted for the transit of Passengers across the desert, is altogether abrogated as the rapid despatch of the Mails alone is the object contemplated, but the departure of the French Steamers, every 10 days from Alexandria for Marseilles will render this matter of less moment to Travellers.

By order of the Hon'ble the Governor in Council.

The names which have been already registered for the January and succeeding Steamers will be placed on the List of applicants for Cabins, in the order in which they now stand.

Cabin passengers have the first choice of seats at the table, and after them the saloon passengers in preference to those on the deck whose priority will be arranged, according to their standing on the passage list The seats will be arranged by the Commander and once taken they cannot be changed without his permission during the voyage.

5. In addition to the Table Money the following sums will be charged for the accommodation engaged by first class passengers, vizt·

8. Three lists for each month's Steamer will be kept at the Master Atten-dant's Office, viz, one for cabin passengers, one for saloon, and one for deck-passengers. A statement of the number of each class, which each packet is calculated to accommodate, will be open at the same place, to the inspection of the public.

9. Every applicant may register his name in whichever of the lists he pleases but the name of the packet will not be declared until 10 days prior to the appointed day of sailing, when choice of accommodation will be given, according to priority of standing on the lists. Ladies having the preference for the first three cabins.

10. In the event of a greater number of names having been registered than the Steamer when declared, is calculated to accommodate, the supernumerary names on the cabin lists may be transferred to that of the saloon or the deck, and those of saloon lists to that of the deck, or they may be withdrawn and the deposit repaid, at the option of the parties. In the case of a transfer under this rule, the name will be placed in the same position in which it would have stood by date of registry had the original application been for a saloon or a deck passage instead of a cabin or for ad eck instead of for a saloon. Should any of the cabin or saloon berth remain open after the vessel has left the harbour, the saloon, or deck passengers may be allowed to take them on paying into the hands of the Commander the regulated difference of price.

The passage between Aden and Mocha, and Bombay and Suez respectively will be counted as one half of the whole passage between Bombay and Suez:—between Juda and Suez, will be counted as one-third, and between Judda and Bombay as two-thirds: Cossier and Suez are considered to be alike.

14. The engagement of a passage will not be considered valid unless a deposit of the following sums be made at the time of application, viz.

For a Cabin passage.....Rs. 300
For a Saloon..... „ 150
For a Deck..... „ 125

This deposit, should the party not proceed, will invariably be forfeited, except under the provisions of art. 10, and in cases where, by the production of a Medical Certificate, it is satisfactorily shewn that the person was compelled, by sickness to abandon the passage. A deposit is not required on the registry of the names of children, except when the children are to occupy a cabin, by themselves, in which case the same deposit must be made as for the cabin passage of a lady or gentleman, viz. 300 rupees.

15. To prevent unnecessary trouble, the Master Attendant is authorized to receive and pass receipts for the deposit money.

16. Ten days prior to the appointed day of sailing each passenger must pay to the Master Attendant the remaining portion of the passage money, in default of which the deposit will be considered forfeited, and any claim to passage invalid. When the cabins are final allotted, an adjustment will be made with the party or parties to whom they are appropriated, the difference between the value of the place occupied by each individual and the deposit made under article 14 being paid up or returned, as the case may be. When the passage money has been paid up, no portion of it can, on any plea be returned, except under the provisions specified in article 14.

17. Persons who from non-arrival at Bombay, may have omitted to pay the balance of the passage money may be re-admitted as passengers, if before the period of departure the balance is paid. They, however, will be placed at the bottom of the list of the class of passengers in which they are registered.

18. No transfer of accommodation in the Steamers by an individual who has taken a passage to one, who has not taken his passage will be permitted, but after the list has been filled up, any person wishing to stand the chance of succeeding to a vacancy caused by a lapse of any kind may do so, by registering his name and paying the required sum which will be refunded to him should no vacancy occur.

19. It is to be understood, that Government reserves to itself the right of appropriating a cabin or cabins for the use of public functionaries or others proceeding on duty or by special order of Government as passengers in any of the Honorable Company's Steamers.

20. Passengers on a Steamer that may from accident or other cause be obliged to return to Port will be entitled to the refund of the amount that has been paid, deducting therefrom, a sum for the Table Allowance of the Commander, according, to the number of days that the vessel may have been at sea calculating the average time occupied in a voyage to or from Suez to be 18 days, and Aden 10 days.

21. It is necessary for passengers not belonging to the Honorable Company's Service, to make the requisite arrangements at Suez or other intermediate Port with the Commander before or at least at the time of their embarkation for the payment of the passage money.

22. For the convenience of passengers from the Red Sea to India, the Commanders of the Honorable Company's Packets are authorized to receive payment of passage money at Suez or any Port between Suez and Bombay in Sovereigns, Spanish Dollars, or German Crowns, at the following rates of exchange; viz: Sovereigns at ten Rupees each, Spanish Dollars at Rupees two, and three Annas each; German Crowns at Rupees two and two Annas each.

23. The baggage of each passenger must not exceed four boxes of the following dimensions viz:t.

Length	2	Feet	5	Inches.
Breadth	1	„	5	„

and the total weight must not be more than four cwt. Second class passengers are allowed half the above quantity.

24. Each cabin passenger may, if he pleases put all his baggage into his cabin. The saloon and deck passengers will be allowed to keep one box or bag above. The rest of the baggage is to be in the baggage-room and passengers will be allowed access to it twice a week, one a day and hour fixed by the Commander, who will appoint a person to have charge of the baggage.

25. Any applicant may be refused a passage without any cause being assigned either by the authorities at Bombay or by the Commander of the vessel when away from Bombay, but a report of the rejection is to be communicated to Government.

26. All persons who take passage either themselves or through their agents, will be considered as thereby binding themselves to comply with these Rules which will be shewn by the Master Attendant or by the Commander of the Vessel to parties who engage passage.

By order of the Hon'ble the Governor in Council.

The Peninsular and Oriental Steam Navigation Company's Steam-ship Hindostan of 1,800 tons, and 550 horse-power, commanded by Capt. ROBERT MORESBY, I. N., is intended to start from Calcutta on Saturday, 14th January next, for Suez, calling at Madras, where she will remain 24 hours, also at Point de Galle and Aden.

The Hindostan will, under ordinary circumstances, arrive at Suez on or about the 12th February.

SANATARIA OF INDIA.

Mahableshwur Hills..... .... Bombay.

MAHABLESHWUR HILLS.

The Mahableshwur Hills, which form the site of the only covalescent station under the Bombay Presidency, are situated in 17dg. 56' north latitude, and in longitude 73dg. 30' east, and are distant twenty-five miles due east from the sea, and sixty-nine miles from Bombay, which bears north 29dg W. They form a portion of the extensive chain of mountains known under the name of the Western Ghats, or Syhadree mountains. On their western side they rise with an abrupt and precipitous ascent from the Concan which separates them from the sea while their eastern face presents a somewhat less rapid and steep descent into the table land of the Deccan.

The general elevation of the station is 4,500 feet above the level of the sea, while its highest summit attains an altitude of 4,700 feet. It is elevated upwards of 4000 feet above the subjacent country on the Concan side, and about 2,300 feet above the general level of the Deccan at its eastern base. Its greatest breadth at the northern extremity is about 15 miles, and about 8 at its southern boundary. The average direct length north and south does not exceed five miles though from N. E. to S. W. it extends diagonally seventeen miles.

Excellent roads have been made in almost every direction. These already extend over a space of upwards of forty miles, more than one half of which are carriage-roads, and the remainder bridle-paths, and have been so laid out as to open up to the visitor a varied succession of mountain scenery, which for grandeur and beauty, it is believed can be equalled in few parts of the world.

The soil consists principally of a red clay (formed by the disintegration of cellular ferruginous clay-stone, which constitutes the surface rock) intermixed with the debris of trap rock, and in many places with a considerable proportion of decayed vegetable matter, forming a brown mould, which is found to be very productive. An abundant supply of excellent water is at all seasons procurable, either from wells, which vary from twenty to forty feet in depth, or from the small streamlets which traverse the hills, some of which retain their water during the whole of the hot season. An extensive artificial lake, which is now being constructed by His Highness, the Rajah of Sattara, will add materially to the supply of water already available, whether for cultivation or for domestic use.

The most striking feature in the vegetation of these hills is the profusion of the common Brake (Pteris Aquilina) which serves to recall the association of a more northern clime. A species of Curcuma, the roots of which yields an excellent description of Arrowroot, grows every where in the greatest abundance. There is a considerable variety of Parasitic Orchideve, some of which possess great beauty; and the trunks and branches of many of the trees, are covered with a variety of Licheus and Muse.

Potatoes of excellent quality are cultivated very extensively, both for the consumption of the station, and for the supply of the Bombay and Poona, markets. A plentiful supply of all the common culinary vegetables of the best description can be procured at reasonable rates. The excessive heaviness of the rains prevents the successful cultivation of European fruits.

The village of Malcolm Peth, (so named by the Rajah of Satara in honor of the late Sir John Malcolm, the distinguished founder of the station) contains six European shops, where European supplies of almost every description are procurable at the same rates as at Poona, and very little higher than at Bombay. The station is also visited by numerous itinerant hawkers (Borahs) from Bombay, whose baskets are usually filled with a varied assortment both of European and Indian goods. The Malcolm Peth Bazar is a tolerably large one and is well supplied with all articles of consumption, which are the produce of the country, and generally at moderate rates. The mutton, which is small but of excellent quality, is sold at 1½ annas per pound. Beef at 1 anna per lb. Fowls at 3 or 4 annas each. Grain is principally imported from Wye, (a distance of 20 miles,) and is usually about 8 or 10 per cent. higher than in the Deccan. Firewood is abundant and cheap; grass is of rather inferior quality. A monthly nerrik, or price current is circulated for the information of visitors: but under existing regulations, its observance cannot be enforced on the dealers, though they almost invariably conform to it.

Mahableshwur is easily accessible both from Bombay and from the principal stations of Deccan and Concan. The visitor from Bombay by sailing down the coast to Bancote, and thence up the Sawitree river to Mhar (a distance of seventy miles by sea, and thirty by river) is brought within twenty seven miles land journey from the hills or, should he object to even this short sea trip, he can cross the harbour to Nagotna (which is effected in one tide) from which the distance by land is only seventy miles, along an excellent road with a public bungalow at each stage. The distance from Poona, by an indifferent hilly route, is seventy miles, and from Sattara only thirty miles by a very good carriage-road. The approach both from the Concan and from the Deccan side is at all times safe, as there is no intervening jungle, and no danger to be apprehended from attacks of fever or other diseases, of malarious origin.

This station was founded by the then Governor of Bombay, Sir John Malcolm, in 1828. It was ceded to the British Government, by the Rajah of Sattara, in exchange for another village, and was subsequently annexed to the Zillah of the Concan. Its European establishment consists only of a chaplain and a Medical officer. The former visits Dapoolee once a month, and Rutnagherry once in two months, during the fair season; and during the rains he performs the duties of Chaplain at Malligaum. The Medical officer is also Superintendent of the station and a first assistant to the Magistrate, and has charge of a treasure chest for the payment of sick officers and their families, a detachment of fifty sepoys, under the command of a jemadar, is kept up to supply the usual guards.

The public buildings consist of a Sanatarium (containing eight sets of quarters) and five detached Bungalows, for the accommodation of sick officers and their families; a Church, which was built by private subscription, and accommodates 180 people. A small subsidiary jail, containing sixty Chinese convicts who are employed in the construction and repair of roads, a chowrie, and a Dhurumsallah for native travellers. There is a Subscription Library containing upwards of 700 volumes, and a Hotel, on a very small scale, has recently been completed.

The private dwelling-houses are 70 in number; of which 53 are substantially built of hewn stone and lime, and the remainder of rough stone and mortar, sun-dried bricks, or wattle-work. The greater number of them are thatched, tiles having been found not to resist the monsoon rain. Allotments of ground for building are granted by government, on a twenty one years' lease, the principal provisions of which are, that the lessee shall pay an annual rent at the rate of a rupee an acre; that he shall build a substantial bungalow, and erect suitable landmarks on the boundaries of his allotment; that he shall not be permitted to cut down trees which are close to the public road; and that he shall obey all regulations existing in the Mofussil, so far as they are not of a personal nature, but are incidental to the possession of immovable property, and so far also as they affect the health, safety, and convenience of the other inhabitants of the station. The average size of individual allotments granted, during the last three years, is six acres.

The following is a statement of the numbers of visitors of all ages who have resorted to the sation, each season, during the last three years.

In 1831-32 the number of visitors was, 197.

1833-34	ditto	ditto	209.
1834-35	ditto	ditto	210.
1835-36	ditto	ditto	240.
1836-37	ditto	ditto	252.
1837-38	ditto	ditto	313.
1838-39	ditto	ditto	265.
1830-40	ditto	ditto	307.

It remains to add a brief outline of the Physical and Medical qualities of the climate.

The mean annual temperature of the station is 66dg 2', which approximates very closely to that of the Cape of Good Hope, and of New South Wales, and is nearly identical with the estimated mean temperature of the globe. The following summary embraces the principal particulars of the climate, as deduced from ten years meteorological observations.

Mean Annual Temperature,	66deg.	2'
Ditto daily variation of Temperature,	9 „	8'
Ditto Maximum Temperature,	71 „	2'
Ditto Minimum Temperature,	61 „	3'
Ditto Temperature of the cold season,	65 „	1'

The influence of the climate upon the healthy constitution, constituting what may be termed it's physiological action, is stimulant and tame. In addition to the effects which usually result from a change from a warm to a cool climate in all latitudes and to all elevations, an improvement of the appetite and of the digestive and of assimilative functions, and an increase of muscular and mental energy, there are experienced, in greater or less degree, at this station, a peculiar feeling of excitement, and a sense of dryness and constriction of the skin, which appear to be solely attributable to the effect of diminished atmospheric pressure, in exciting the circulating system, and in augmentation of cutaneous evaporation. It is the presence of this latter element in the constitution of inter-tropical mountain climates, which emphatically distinguishes them from all other climates, whose temperature is the effect of latitude, and which will ever render them inferior in the rapeutic efficacy.

The climate of this station is inapplicable if not positively injurious, in all acute inflammatory affections, and in the greater number of organic visceral diseases. On the other hand, it has been found beneficial in uncomplicated intermittent fevers ; in the greater number of functional disorders of the digestive organs ; in general debility, cachexia, and impaired general health (unaccompanied by local disease), whether the result of long-continued exposure to a tropical climate, or of close application to official duty and the sedentary life which usually accompanies it, or of tedious convalescence from acute disease. In a few forms of diarrhœa, such as those which depend on simple relation of the exhalent vessels, of the bowels, or which occur in persons of a cachectic or strumous diathesis , in some of the slighter and more chronic hepatic and spleen affections, provided they be unaccompanied by any evidence of morbid vascular excitement, general or local ; in some varieties of nervous and periodical headaches—in chronic rheumatism, occuring in a debilitated or in a Cachectic state of the system, and unaccompanied by any feverish tendency or by morbid irritability of the bowels. In various Scrofulous, affections, and in the precursory or incipient stage of pulmonary phthisis, where there are the usual constitutional indications of the tubercular diathesis, and where the existence of tubercular deposition in the lungs is suspected rather than unequivocally announced ; in the greater number of the varying modifications of disorder arising from, or co-existent with, functional uterine derangement, and in almost all the diseases incidental to infancy and childhood.

The agency of this climate in the preservation of health and the prevention of disease is probably greater and more beneficial than its direct therapeutic efficacy, more particularly in relation to females and children. The practice, which is now so prevalent in the Bombay presidency of withdrawing children from the pernicious influence of the excessive heat of the low country during the hot season, and of transferring them, during these months, to this temporate and equable climate, has the incalculable beneficial effect of warding off many of the acute attacks incident to childhood, and more especially to the period of dentition; of supporting the energies of their constitution on a nearer level with the European standard during the first years of their growth, when such constitutional invigoration is of vital importance; and of lessening the liability to future disease and future delicacy of constitution, to which all children, born and reared for some years in this country, are more or less liable.

THE NEILGHERRIES.

The Neilgheries situated in the south of India, on the confines of Coimbatoor and Malabar, extend from 11deg. 10' to 11deg. 32' north latitude, and from 76deg. 59' to 77deg. 21' east longtitude. Their greatest oblique extent from south west to north east is from 38 to 40 miles and their extreme breadth 15. Their superficial area may be computed equal to 700 square miles. Four stations are at present occupied, viz. Ootacamund, Kotagherry, Dimhutty, and Coonoor.

II.—Divisions and General Appearance.

The Neilgherries are composed of 3 separate ranges closely connected together.

The range to the westward bears two distinct names; that to the northward, commences at the Goodaloor Pass and is called the Neddimulla hills, and the southward is termed the Koondahs.

The 2d or Central Range formed by a chain of hills risses to the summit, of Dadobetta, the loftiest point (8760 feet) south of the Himalaya.

The 3d range to the eastward may be called the Kotagherry. All of these ranges are nearly of the same elevation but vary considerably in aspect, connection, and grouping. They are joined to the table-land of Mysore by an isthmus about 15 miles wide, and are completely isolated on every other side. Their nearest distance from the Malabar Coast is about 40 miles, and from the Coromandel side about 230. The scenery in general is exceedingly beautiful and of the grandest and most romantic description in the world.

Ootacamund is the principal station and is situated nearly in the centre of the table-land of Mysore about 10 miles from the southern edge of the range and 7 from the northern,—immediately at the base and on the western side of Dodabetta, and it open only towards the W. N. W.; the other three sides being completely sheltered by this mountain. Its elevation is 7400 feet above the level of the sea, and it is the best locality amongst the other stations.

It has decidedly the most perfectly European climate of any in these hills and is less affected by the changes of monsoons, rains, &c. than any other which arises from its forming the line of separation between the north east Madras monsoon, and the south west Malabar monsoon.

III.—Climate.

Three circumstances materially affect the climate of the hills, viz.

1st. Their elevation above the level of the sea.

2d. Their position near the line of demarkation of the two monsoons.

3d. Their isolated situation.

The year is divided into two seasons. The cold season is similar to the spring of the North of Persia or the autumn of the South of France and may be said to set in from December, and terminate in March; whilst the monsoon season, resembling very nearly a mild autumn in the South of England, occupies the remaining months.

With reference to the climate of Ootacamund in particular, the following may be considered a pretty fair estimate.

January is uniformly fair, clear and dry, the nights are very cold and attended with frost in the vallies. The same remarks will apply to February except that the frost is stronger and in March it disappears, when the weather becomes milder; there are also a few heavy showers.

Towards the close of April the wind begins to very from the North-East and finally settles in the South-West: the air is mild and balmy. May is the warmest month, but the heat is often relieved by the fall of rain in torrents intermingled with hail, ushering in the North West Monsoon, which occurs in the early part of June, 10 or 15 days later than the Malabar monsoon, and continues with greater or less constancy throughout July and August when the weather both at Coonoor and Kotagherry, is to be preferred being comparatively dry and fine. September and October are uncertain months depending upon the state of the South West monsoon, which, if begun early and exhausted renders the whether fine, warm, and pleasant; but if deficient in previous rain, a good deal of fog and drizzle generally prevail. Towards the end of September, the wind again begins to shift round to the north, when the weather becomes sensibly colder.

The mean annual temperature of the air of Ootacamund is 58 deg. 68'; the greatest annual range 39 deg., the maximum being 77 deg. and the minimum 38 deg., the mean annual range is 16 deg. 84', and the mean daily range 17 deg. 1'. The greatest power of the sun's rays it equal to 21 deg. 73'.

The quantity of rain that falls on an average of 4 years is 44 88 inches. There are heavy rains 19 days, drizzle with fair intervals 81, clowdy 28, and perfectly fair and dry 238.

Kotagherry is situated 19 miles distant from Ootacamund on the eastern division, and is inferior in elevation being 6571 feet above the level of the sea. The climate is much milder and the extreme and daily range less. The minimum is 43 deg. and the maximum 76 deg., a range of 5 deg. less than the extreme of Ootacamund. The air is moister and the nights less cold. In June, July and August, the weather is clear, bright and fair at this station, whilst at Ootacamund there is pretty constant fog, drizzle, or rain during this time. This difference arises from the former place being less subject to the influence of the south-west monsoon. It is also reckoned a more eligible residence during the monsoons for delicate people, whereas Ootacamund is decidedly preferred for those in tolerably confirmed health.

Less rain falls at this place and it is generally dry here when it rains at Ootacamund, from being affected by a different monsoon.

Dimhutty is situated on a platteau between Kotagherry and the Orange valley, the latter of which rises at the north east angle of Dodabetta and is so named from the number of wild orange and lime trees found in it. The elevation of Dimhutty above the sea is 4500 feet, and its temperature is much higher than that of the two former stations.

Coonoor, which is 10 miles distant from Ootacamund and the head quarters of the pioneer corps, is situated south of the range, close to the edge of the hills, and rises 58-6 feet above the sea. Its mean temperature is probably 6 deg. warmer than that of Ootacamund and from its proximity to the Ghaut it is subject at particular seasons to fogs: on the other hand it has the advantage of being on the direct road to Ootacamund and is well adapted for sick travellers.

IV.—Soil and Productions.

Over the whole extent of the table land and on the summit of the hills, the soil is exceedingly rich and of considerable depth, caused by swamps of various extent, but situation, exposure, command of water and other less obvious circumstances, confine the cultivation to the extremity of the hills and to the south and east of the range. By time, experiments, and advantages of climate, almost every European fruit might be advantageously cultivated, medicinal plants particularly.

Productions.—The different natural products are coarse barley, keeree-mow, poppies, garlick and onions. The following have been introduced by European visitants, viz: wheat, oats, potatoes, cabbage, cauliflower, savoys, French beans, spinage, peas, lettuces, beet-root, radishes, celery, turnips, carrots, &c. &c. sea-kale, asparagus, tomatas, plums, peaches, nectarines, apples, citrons loquats. Oranges and limes grow wild, Brazil cherry, commonly known as the tepara, goose-berry, capers, strawberry, raspberry, blackberries. The Orchis mascula from the root of which the salpi misree is obtained, is in abundance and several other plants resembling the genus, Orchis Lucerne. Tobacco is also found.

V.—Rivers, &c.

The Bowany, rises in the Koondahs and flowing through a deep fissure till the north west angle of this range, turns suddenly to the east where it is joined by a great number of tributary streams.

The Pykarra separates the Neddimulla hills from the central table land, and descending the north of the hills joins the Moyaar and sweeping round the north and north west sides of the hills, flows into the Bowany near Danaikencottah in Coimbatoor.

The two other rivers are the Moyaar, and the Baypoor.

Lake.—There is an expensive and delightful take of 6 or 7 miles in circuit having a public carriage road surrounding it which affords most healthful and agreeable drives.

VI —Convenience of Situation.

The following distances shew the convenience of these mountains from the principal points on the south side of India, and the dak expenses incident to a visit to them.

	Miles.	Expenses.
From Madras viaTrichinopoly,.....	393	900
Ditto ditto via Salem,.....	332	150
Ditto ditto via Bangalore, ...	385	150-70
Ditto Trichinopoly,.....	153	60
Ditto Bangalore,.....	176	80
Ditto Calicut,.....	156	60
Ditto Tellichery (Cannanore).....	130	50

In marching or travelling by stages the expense is of course much less.

VII —Routes and Approaches.

There are 3 points of the readiest access to the hills, viz : Madras on the east coast ; Calicut, Cannanore and Tellicherry on the west : but the Calicut or Cannanore route is recommended to travellers from the Bengal Presidency, arriving at Madras of course in the first instance.

Trichinopoly route.—Regular bearers are to be had to Cuddalore from the Madras police, thence to Trichinopoly from the post office there ; from this to Matapollium where they are posted by the Collector of Coimbatoor, and from Matapolium to Ootacamund, they are to be had from the Commissariat Officer on the hills. This is the most eligible though the longest road ;—it passes through many stations having medical and other assistadce at hand,—is free from jungle or other obstructions and may be travelled at all seasons without risk or delay.

Salem route.—The route via Salem is the shortest, but it passes through a uninteresti ng and unhealthy country. There are bungalows only at certain stations. It joins the former road at Avanashy.

The third road passes through Vellore, Bangalore and Mysore and then ascends by the Goodaloor pass to Nediwuttum and Ootacamund. Bearers are to be had as far as Arcot from the Madras police and thence to Ootacamund from the principal offices.

Bangalore route.—This road would be the most agreeable, but on account of the jungle between Goondlapet and Goondaloor, which, however, may be avoided by descending the Tapoor pass from Bangalore, and joining the Salem road. But this route is only had recourse to by travellers from Bangalore which is the fourth and new military road.

Calicut route.—From Calicut the road descends southward to Ponany and thence striking inland passes through a beautiful country to Paulghatcherry, 78 miles. From this to Coimbatoor, 30 miles, it lies partly through a jungle not unhealthy or dangerous in any way ; from Coimbatoor to Matapollium, 27 miles, and thence the Coonoor ghat leads to Ootacamund.

Another road from Calicut is by ascending the Baypoor river to Nellumboor, thence through a deep jungly valley (between the Neilgherries, and the Toobacherry hills) to the Karpoor pass and finally to Ootacamund. This route is highly objectionable from the extent and unhealthy nature of the above jungle.

Cannanore or Tellichery route.—This road is recommended to such travellers from Calcutta as have no dislike to a sea-voyage or expect to derive benefit from it. From either of these places the road strikes directly inland, and ascending the Peria pass, to Manantoddy and passing through a wild and picturesque, though not unhealthy country, reaches Goodaloor, and thence finally enters Ootacamund.

VIII.—Effects of Climate of Indian Diseases.

From the elevated position of the hills, the curative and restorative powers of the climate on Indian Diseases must be apparent to all. An important consideration also connected with them, is the preventive powers of their climate, which has not yet met with the attention it deserves. A transfer at once to the climate of the hills of those suffering from the various diseases and ailments here under instanced is highly recommended.

Fever (being unknown on the hills) when previously contracted.
Dyspepsia, when not connected with serious derangement of the liver.
Debility in every degree.
Habitual constipation.
Local and cutaneous affections of every description.
All Pulmonary complaints.
All female complaints, properly so called.
Diarrhœa.
Dysentery.
Hepatic diseases in their milder forms.
Rheumatism, muscular or mercurial.
Gout, though the cure is in every instance perhaps impossible, is greatly modified.

IX.—Resources and Supplies.

The bazar at Ootacamund is exceedingly well supplied, and the prices are a little higher than those of the low country. There are two excellent Parsee shops containing every thing in the way of liquors, Europe supplies, cheese, pickles, preserves, &c. &c. which are good and at reasonable prices; but those who are particular in the choice of their Port wine and beer are recommended to take a small stock with them. Salt provisions of very good quality, cured on the hills, are to be had in considerable quantities in the bazar. Cattle and swine might be procured to any extent in the low country round the hills, and fruits and vegetables of every description have advantageously been cultivated.

Houses.—In Kotagherry there is a deficiency of supplies owing to the want of a regular bazar, a market being held only once a week. There are only 12 or 13 houses besides the quarters at Dimhutty at the disposal of the public, whilst at Ootacamund there are upwards of 70 habitable houses. At Coonoor there is no accommodation for travellers except the public bungalow which is forbid to them for upwards of 3 days.

Servants.—Good men servants of every description (except perhaps head servants and dressing boys) are available at Ootacamund. Female servants are seldom found and should be brought up.

Furniture.—Beds, chairs, tables, carpets may be easily had on the Hills Crockery may be arranged for with the Parsee shop-keepers. The essential requisites to be taken are plate, bed and table-linen, and warm clothing.

X.—Clearing the Jungle.

The base of the hills is completely surrounded by dense jungle of various breadth rising in general from 2500 to 3500 feet on their declivities. Its breadth is in no place greater than 20 miles (between Mungalum and Goodaloor) and at many others does not exceed six, as at Matapollium. The clearing of this jungle would be attended with many salutary effects, thereby removing one of the greatest obstructions to the free accessibility of the hills by the route from Madras through Vellore, Bangalore, and Mysoor, and preventing the occurrence of fever, which from the density and the nature of the soil in many parts is almost inevitable; the effects of the miasm being alike fatal to Europeans and Natives.

XI.—Building Ground.

The surface of the table land is much undulated, but the portion of the central division adjoining the Koondahs and Neddimulla hills being broken into an immense number of little round hills, and the vallies afford ample ground for building upon.

XII.—Building Materials.

There are large beds of laterite probably a very useful material for purposes of building, and also a whitish earth used for whitewashing. Quartz in great purity, but partly decomposed, is found in abundance near the Koondah ghat and below Billycul. The sienite, composing the base of the rocks, from its durability would prove useful. No lime has hitherto been discovered; and the clay is well adapted for the manufacture of bricks, tiles or pottery.

The teak forest lately discovered in the Coonoor ghaut is reserved for government: the Chumpanee possessed of all the valuable qualities of the teak and is used for rafters, door-frames, &c.; the Darchenee may be had in beams of any size, but it is not so durable as the teak; Billoo is another very heavy and solid species, is easily worked and less affected by moisture than the two former, and is proof against insects. The barb erry is well adapted for chairs, music-stand and other ornamental furniture.

XIII.—WATER.

There is a stream on the surface of the table land, which is quite clear and pure, and the water is as fit for use as if just taken from the spring. Each of the lateral vallies, has its own brook of beautifully limpid water. The water found on the hills is occasionally hard and sometimes contains iron, but there is no scarcity of springs of beautifully soft water.

XIV.—INHABITANTS.

Excluding the European population, these may be invided into the Todas or Toruwars; the Ewlars; the Curumbar; the Cohatars; and the Buddaghere, or Burghers, called by the natives Badacars for Vadacars, having come to the hills from the north quarter.

The Todas or Toruwars may be considered the aborigines of the soil, they do not exceed 600 in number and are divided into 2 grand families, one called Peikis or Tarullis, and the other Kutas or Tardas—the former are competent to hold all sacred offices and the latter may be called the lay class—they intermarry and the progeny is termed Mookhs (children or descendant.) They breed only the buffaloe, and manufacture butter and ghee, such of the latter as they do not require for their own use, is bartered for grain and cloth with their neighbours. They are highly respected by all the other tribes. They call themselves (par excellence) men, and the burghers, labourers.

The Erulars divide themselves into the Urali and Curumali, who in conjunction with the Curumbars are little removed from utter uncivilization, Their language is a mixture of the Tamil, the Carnataca, the Mulayalam, and the Toda. They may be classed as Hindoos.

The Cohatars occupy the elevated parts of the hills, have no distinction of caste and differ from the other tribes; they cultivate different kinds of millet, the poppy and barley, and are the only artizans of the hills, being goldsmiths, potters, chaccileis. They are not Hindoos, but worship ideal gods not represented by any image.

The Buddaghers or Burghers properly called by the natives Badacars or Vadacars having come from the north of the hills, number about 10,000 of both sexes and all ages and are the most numerous. They are divided into 8 classes, all Hindoos of the Siva sect, and may be said to consist of priests who wear the lingam and officiate for all other classes, of repudiated Brahmins who wear the sacerdotal string and retain some privileges in their worship, but are classed with the rest of the people who are the principal cultivators of the earth, and manufacture a coarse cloth. These are the least respected. The language of the Burghers is formed of a mixture of the Carnataca and the Toda.

XV.—HINTS TO INVALIDS.

Warm clothing is of vital importance on the hills, and even in the low country, a light flannel banian (jacket or shirt) is of service; every invalid as he values life should be provided with a good stock of flannel banians, flannel cummerbunds (belts made so as to have strings to be firmly tied round the middle and double over) drawers and worsted stockings and a stock of stout shoes and boots. Avoid exposure to the night air, and never be out after sunset. Early rising is neither necessary nor prudent, the invalid should wait till the sun has attained sufficient height to drive away the cold and moisture of the night; care should be taken to return home before 9 A. M, so as to avoid the powerful effects of the sun. Diet must of course be regulated by circumstances. In general, however, adhere to light animal food with bread or biscuit, and vegetables, pastry, cheese &c. Port or sherry is preferable to the lighter wines; beer unnecessary. Invalids should diminish their usual quantity of these stimulants until acclimatized, and observe early hours for diet. Exercise should be taken so as to produce a gentle action on the skin, and not fatigue, but avoid exposure to the sun. Riding is to be preferred to walking, it being less exciting. When acclimatized, exercise should be gradually increased, and when fairly recovered, as much daylight in the open air as strength will permit should be passed. Those who have suffered from fever should be cautious to avoid the jungle at the foot of the hills, and if unfortunately detained there, a course of purgatives followed by small doses of quinine should be pursued. Cold feet (a general complaint with new comers especially females) are remedied by adopting lambswool or worsted stockings which should form the stock of people in good or indifferent health.

OBSERVATION OF THE NEILGHERRIES.

The Neilgherries, then, are situated in the S. of India, between the 11th and 12th degrees of North latitude and 76th and 77th degrees of E. longitude, on the confines of the Provinces of Coimbatoor and Malabar. They are joined to the table-land of Mysoor by a narrow neck of land, but are completely isolated on every other side, and rise abruptly from the plains to the height of from 6 to 7,000 feet, (viz. the table-land on the top,) the highest point Dodabet, being 8,760 feet above the level of the sea. They are about 40 miles distant from the nearest point of the Malabar coast, and about 230 from the sea on the Coromandel side.

There are four stations at present occupied on the Neilgherries, Kotagherry and Dimhutty close to each other, Ootacamund and Coonoor, of each of which a short description will be given.

It is not easy to describe the climate of the Neilgherries so as to convey an accurate idea of it to a stranger, as there is no other with which I am acquainted, to which it can be strictly and analogically compared. The cold weather or winter is like the spring of the N. of Persia or the autumn of the S. of France, and the monsoon is very nearly a mild autumn in the S. of England. These two divisions include our whole year, and if I were to say that I consider it, all prejudice apart, as equal to any and superior to most of the climates I have seen in the course of pretty extensive wanderings, I may be suspected of partiality or exaggeration.

It appears from them that the mean annual temperature of Ootacamund is 58° 68, the greatest annual range 39°, the maximum being 77°, and the minimum 38°(a) the mean annual range is 16°84, and the mean daily range 17° 01'. The maximum power of the sun's rays is equivalent to 21° 73'.

The quantity of rain that falls, on an average of four years, is 44-88 inches; the number of days in a year in which there is heavy rain, 19; of showery rain or drizzle with fair intervals, 81; cloudy, 23; and of days perfectly fair and dry, 238.

The mean temperature of Kotagherry and Dimhutty is rather more than 3° higher than that of Ootacamund; that of Coonoor, probably six degrees warmer; less rain falls at either of these places than at Ootacamund, and it is generally dry at both when it rains at Ootacamund, from their being affected by different monsoons.

An important feature in every place resorted to by invalids is its accessibility; we shall therefore state the distances of the Neilgherries from the principal points on this side of India, and give a succinct account of the various Passes or Ghâts leading to the table-land above.

The following are the travelling distances, from the principal points in the Madras territory:

1.—	From Madras viâ Trichinopoly,	393 miles.
2.—	„ „ „ Salem,	332 miles.
3.—	„ „ „ Bangalore,	385 miles.(b)
4.—	„ Trichinopoly,	153 miles.
5.—	„ Bangalore,	176 miles.(c)
6.—	„ Calicut,	156 miles.
7.—	„ Tellicherry, (Cannanore.)	130 miles.

(a) This refers merely to the temperature of the air; as, on or near the ground, water freezes nearly every night for three months of the year.

(b) These distances have been reduced 10 miles by the new Segoor Pass, which is available for wheel conveyances of every description. Travellers may with ease drive the whole distance from Madras to Ootacamund, viâ Bangalore, Seringapatam, Mysore and Goondlepett. The new route crosses the Moyaur river (the Pykary of the Hills) at Teppacaudoo, where there is a good wooden bridge of one 70 feet arch, avoiding the dangerous jungle of Karkara and passing over some fine beautiful open country along the base of the Neilgherries. For a description of this Ghât vide Page 72.

(c) A route still shorter than the above and entirely avoiding the whole of the feverish jungle is now opening, which will ultimately if completed as proposed make the distance between Bangalore and Ootacamund not more than about 145 or 150 miles. Passing through Seevasamoodrum where the celebrated Falls of the Cauvery are situated, the traveller will not only have an opportunity of visiting those grand Cascades, but also of seeing one of the most extraordinary stupendous ravines in the known world, as he will cross the "Mysore ditch" as it is vulgarly called, a chasm in the earth of about 2,500 feet across at top and 500 feet in depth. It is at the bottom of this ravine the Moyaur river flows.

The expence of Travelling dâk by these different routes may be stated on a rough average as follows :

No. 1.	180 to 200 Rupees, all expences included.	No. 4.	60 Rs. all expences included.
No. 2.	150 do. do.	No. 5.	80 do.
No. 3.	150 to 170 do.	No. 6.	60 do.
		No 7.	50 do.

In marching or travelling by stages, the expence of course is proportionally much less.

The communication with the low country is kept open by several Ghâts, three of which are practicable for wheel carriages ; these we shall shortly describe. The Coonoor Ghât, opened some years ago ascends from Maitapollium, in the district of Coimbatoor, through a deep ravine, to Coonoor, on the edge of the table-land above. On leaving Maitapollium, the road passes across a level plain through a bamboo jungle, for three miles ; the ascent then commences, and continues for nine miles ; the slope at the lower part being about 1 2-5th inches per foot ; (a) higher up it increases, and near the top, (where the greatest difficulties occur,) it is 2½ inches per foot (b) The road is no where less than 15 feet wide, and it is intended that it shall be throughout 20 feet. The breadth of the belt of jungle, from its commencement to its termination some way up the Ghât, is only 6 miles—a point of considerable importance. An excellent bungalow has been erected at Maitapollium, and a similar one at Coonoor. There is now a Masonry bridge across the Bowany at Matypollium, and a capital hotel at Coonoor, maintained by Mr. and Mrs. Dawson.

From Coonoor, the road still ascends, but very gradually, till it reaches Ootacamund (the principal station) a distance of 10 miles. Another road, also practicable for wheel-carriages, ascends at the opposite angle of the hills, from Goodaloor in Mysore to Neddewatum, or Norputta ; it is carried at an angle along the face of the hills, with one or two zig-zags. The ascent is only 4¾ miles, but the declivity is very great, being in most places 3½ inches per foot ; and towards the top, where it is carried through a wood, it is exceedingly slippery in wet weather. (The slope being about 1 in 2½ ! !).

N. B.—This Ghaut in wet weather about 8 months out of the 12 is positively impracticable for loaded wheel carriages.

A still more serious objection is the breadth of the jungle through which it is carried from Mysore. The forest commences at four miles N. of Mungalum, and becoming thicker and thicker, continues all the way to Goodaloor—a distance of 25 miles ; it is peculiarly dense at a place called Karkarra, nine miles short of Goodaloor ; the country on each side seems to sink towards Karkarra, forming a sort of basin, the only outlet from which is in the course of the nullah which there crosses the road. This was the great road from Bangalore, and though liable to serious objections from the breadth of the belt of jungle and other circumstances, it was nevertheless constantly travelled over, and almost always with impunity. (c)

There is a small bungalow at Goodaloor, and another large one at Neddiwattum, at the top of the Pass. A very good road with a slight ascent leads from Neddiwattum to Ootacamund, 17 miles. The other approach to Goodaloor from the Malabar coast, by Mannantoddy and Sultan's battery, though carried through a jungle, or rather a forest, is comparatively healthy at all seasons.

A third road strikes in at Goodaloor, setting out from Calicut ; it passes by Nellamboor, through the deep jungly valley between the Neilgherries and the Tambachery hills, and ascends the Karkoor Pass, 12 miles from Goodaloor ; it is but little frequented, and seems to possess no advantage to entitle it to be more so.

From Maitapollium, the commencement of the Coonoor road a very steep ascent by a very bad road leads direct to Kotagherry, on the eastern side of the range ; it is only practicable on horseback, or in a Palankeen. (This route has been much improved but is still defective.)

There are several other points at which foot-paths ascend the hills, one at the S. E. angle of the Koondahs, much frequented by Brinjarries, called the Keiloor Pass ; it descends into a very thick jungle, and leads by wild and unfrequented paths through the village of Soondapetta, to Coimbatoor and Paulghatcherry. (These remarks require modification.)

The only other Pass which remains to be described, is the Koondah Pass, which is but little known to the public, being as yet merely marked out, and frequented by Mopilas, bringing up various articles, and smuggling tobacco* down. It was marked out by my friend Captain Le Hardy, then of the Pioneer Corps now the Superintendent of Coorg, and does great credit to his skill, perseverance, and ingenuity.a It commences at Canoot, at the base of the Hills on the Malabar side, and ascending through a deep ravine filled with wood, a distance of 12 miles, reaches the summit of the Koondahs, and crossing them, decends upon the central table-land of the Neilgherries, and reaches Ootacamund, 30 miles from the head of the Pass. The slope is so gradual as never to exceed 12-5th inch. in the foot, and the road, owing to certain obstructions is in many places level, in others surmounts them by short zigzags. From Canoot, at the foot of the Pass, to Arricode, on the Baypoor river, is 16 miles, and thence to Calicut, on the coast, by the river, (here navigable at all season for large boats,) is 28 miles.

(a) About 1 in 9. (b) About 1 in 5.

(c) The Route by the new Seegoor Pass is now constantly adopted.

N. B. This road has been opened but it is difficult, supplies are scarcely procurable, there are few inhabitants along the line and it will be sometime before it can be recommended to families for adoption—endeavors are being made to render this route more convenient, and considering the several advantages which it possesses generally, it will doubtless bye and bye become more practicable.

(For some remarks on the comparative eligibility of the different roads and passes, vide observations prefixed to the Table of Routes, Appendix No. 1.

These observations on the access to the Hills, naturally lead to a short description of the principal stations, their names of accommodation for strangers, &c.

Ootacamund, the principal station, is situated nearly on the centre of the table land, about 10 miles from the southern edge of the range, and seven from the northern. It is placed directly at the base, and on the western side of Dodabet, being completely sheltered on three sides by this mountain, and only open to the W. N. W. It is elevated 7,400 feet above the level of the sea, though the choice of the situation was in the first instance almost purely accidental, it could scarcely have been better selected, after a more minute acquaintance with the different localities. It is, as before observed, perfectly sheltered. The climate is decidedly the most perfectly European of any point of the Hills, and upon the whole, less affected by the various vicissitudes of monsoons, rains, &c. than any other; it has plently of excellent water, and wood in abundance; while the facilities of access are infinitely beyond those of any spot of similar elevation yet known.

An artificial lake, formed by damming up the opening between two Hills, so as to produce a sheet of water nearly one and a half mile long, and in many places 40 feet deep, adds considerably both to the ornament and comfort of the place.

A very excellent and nearly level road leads completely round the lake, forming a very pleasant ride or drive of from five to seven miles, including the windings. The roads in the Cantonment, and in face all over this part of the Hills, are excellent. It would be perfectly practicable to enjoy a canter of 27 miles in a straight line, with some few interruptions, from Coonoor to Neddiwattum. The first four miles of the new road leading from Ootacamund to the Seegor Pass is almost level, and a carriage and four might be drawn along it with comfort. Indeed it is worthy of remark, that a Lady drove up the whole of that Ghaut into Ootacamund in a carriage and four horses.

There are at present 130 buildings at Ootacamund, of various sizes and descriptions, from the handsome church erected by Government and the Palace built by Sir W. Rumbold, down to thatched cottages, with two or three rooms. Of these, there are three churches, 9 Government buildings, one public charity school, and about 118 dwelling houses. Sir W. Rumbold's large house is now converted into the recently established Club, a large building has been just appropriated as an hotel under the management of Mr. and Mrs. Dawson, so well known and justly appreciated at Coonoor, and there are accommodations of every kind suited for large and small families, for rich and poor, and for Bachelors of every grade. During the last few years there have been resident at Ootacamund a The road, as now marked out, closely follows a path frequented by these tobacco smugglers, who formerly carried on this trade to a great extent. Tobacco is grown in large quantities in Cofmbatoor, but Government have a Monopoly of it in Malabar, and a heavy duty is charged on it on entering the latter province; the consequence of which is, an extensive contraband trade, principally across the Neilgherries, as being less liable to interruption. If I am rightly informed, the original discovery of the hills was owing to this circumstance; Messrs. Whish and Kindersley, of the Civil Service, (in 1819,) having pursued a band of smugglers up a small Pass to the N. E, of Kotagherry, and thus became acquainted with the existence of a table-land with an European climate.

The Coonoor pass was also marked out, and in great part completed by Captain Le Hardy.

periodically (from the two Presidencies of Madras and Bombay) not less than 150 people, of which from 40 to 45 were married people, with families.

The elegant church (a) before alluded to is in the Saxo-Gothic style, and is one of the greatest ornaments of the place. There are 9 public buildings—1 Post and Pay Office, a jail, which holds 250 prisoners; a native hospital, a lock hospital, and numerous other public buildings of minor consequence.

House rent varies according to situation, extent of accommodation, &c. It is still higher than is desirable, both as regards the nature of the accommodation and the circumstances of those occupying the houses, but this is in progress of gradual reduction. The large houses, let at from 100 to 150 and 200 rupees per month; the smaller, at from 40 to 70. The bazar at Ootacamund is exceedingly well suplied, and the prices not higher than those of the low country, on the contrary, owing to the opening of the New Seegoor Pass and the facilities afforded by it to wheel conveyances grain of all sorts is frequently cheaper on the Hills, than either at Coimbatoor or Mysore, Ootacamund having become as it were a central entrepot between the two countries. A material part of the accommodation in the way of supplies is furnished by two excellent Parsee shops, and in which every thing in the way of liquors, Europe supplies cheese, pickles, preserves, &c. &c. are to be found, good, and at reasonable prices. There are also other shops more recently established.

Good men servants of every description (excepting perhaps head servants and dressing boys) are generally to be found at Ootacamund, and from being acclimatized, are probably preferable for out-door work to those from the low country, who even when well taken care of, frequently suffer at first from their own imprudence in exposing themselves, sleeping on the ground, &c. All servants who are brought up from below should have woollen clothes, and coarse flannel under-jackets, and care should also be taken that they do not sleep on the ground, for which purpose charpaees or country cots are useful.

Female servants are seldom to be found, and should be brought up.

It is customary to make a slight addition to the pay of servants on the Hills, partly on account of their requiring more and better food; and because rice is somewhat dear. The following is the scale usually paid by residents; butler, 14 to 17 Rupees per month; maty (massal), eight to nine; dressing and waiting boy, six to seven; bearer, seven; horsekeepers, seven; grass-cutters, five; a wood cooly, at six or seven Rupees; to cut wood is an indispensable part of the establishment. Ponies are more useful and more hardy than horses, which sometimes suffer from the charge. There is however every facility for riding large horses, and with proper care and warm clothing, they thrive extremely well. Gram varies so much in price, that I have latterly adopted the system of feeding mine on barley, mixed with equal quantities of gram, which keeps them in excellent condition; it (barley) may be had at 40 to 50 large seers (upwards of a Bengal maund) for a Rupee. A tonjon is a preferable conveyance on the Hills to a palkee, which is slow: a set of six bearers costs 43 Rupees per month. A carriage or buggy is not in general of much use; at least for those who do not intend to make a protracted stay. I have always however driven a small poney phæton, with a pair of strong Pegue ponies, which saves me a good deal of exposure, in the course of my professional occupations; and as before observed, there is an excellent drive of seven milee for those who prefer this species of exercise.

The supplies to be found be in the Parsees' shops are, as before observed, in general excellent and reasonable. Those who are particular as to the quality of their Port-wine and Beer, would do well to bring a small stock with them.

Some of the bungalows are furnished, but this is unfortunately not general; most ordinary articles of furniture however, such as beds, chairs, tables, carpets, may generally be purchased on the Hills; and as arrangement is easily to be made with the Parsees for a set of crockery, all that is essential to bring, is plate, bed, and table linen. The expence of living on the Hills, at least in the quiet way in which invalids ought to live, is with the exception of house rent, not beyond what it is in the low country.

The Medical Staff at Ootacamund consists of two medical officers.

The Bombay officers have hitherto shewn a decided preference for the Neilgherries over their own convalescent station, and are in fact among our principal supporters.

(a) Designed and built by Major UNDERWOOD, then Superintending Engineer of the Southern Division.

Kotagherry contains only 12 or 13 houses, besides the quarters at Dimhutty, placed at the disposal of the public by the liberality of Mr. Lushington, and capable of accommodating six officers. There is also a deficiency of supplies, owing to the want of a regular bazar---a market being held only once a week (a)

Both these circumstances are much to be regretted, as there are many points in the climate and situation of Kotagherry, which point it out as a fitter residence for many classes of invalids on first ascending the Hills than at Ootacamund. A medical officer is stationed at Kotagherry, which is 16 miles from Ootacamund, on the E. side of the range, and 900 feet lower; it is not so well sheltered, but suffers comparatively little from the S. W. monsoon.

The climate of Coonoor, as before observed, is milder than that of Kotagherry, but it is so close to the edge of the Ghât, that it is subject to fogs at particular seasons; on the other hand, it has the advantage of being on the direct road to Ootacamund, and makes an excellent resting place for sick travellers.

There is a public bungalow at Coonoor, which travellers are prohibited by the regulations from occupying for more than three days; but the excellent and comfortable hotel kept up by Mr. and Mrs. Dawson affords every comfort and convenience. There are several detached bungalows on the premises, and families frequently take them for long or short periods, making arrangements for their board and lodging which experience has proved to be reasonable enough. The view from the Coonoor hotel is one of the most beautiful on the Hills, and though the rides are somewhat circumscribed still the climate and scenery are very attractive. During the prevalence of the S. W. monsoon, when the rains are heavy continued and disagreeable at Ootacamund, families frequently go over to the hotel at Coonoor and derive much benefit by the change.

In addition to the foregoing a road has been opened direct from Sultan's Battery in the Wynaad to Teppacaudoo and the new Seegoor Pass, which will in a short time no doubt be much used; for the Peria and Tambeecherry Passes leading to the Wynaad and Mysore, from Cannanore and Calicut respectively, are now under reform and repair, and will open the resources of the Malabar Coast to the traffic of the interior. By this new road already greatly travelled over by Native merchants, the journey from Mannantoddy to the Hills will be considerably shortened. A traveller leaving "Sultan's Battery" where there is a good bungalow, about 10 o'clock at night, will easily reach Nellacottah (13½ miles) long before daylight, starting whence after some tea or coffee as early as practicable, he will run through the cultivated country of Mundakerry, Wambut, &c. &c., and the jungle near Karkara before noon, so as to reach Teppacaudoo (10 miles from Nellacottah) about mid-day, where obtaining the Hill bearers he will easily arrive at the hotel at Kulhutty on the Hills before sunset. The authorities of Malabar district will arrange for bearers, coolies, &c. as far as Teppacaudoo, but the Hill bearers being alone available from that place (at least for the present) care must be taken to see that these are properly booked for the particular day of arrival at Teppacaudoo; otherwise much inconvenience and anxiety of mind will be the consequence. Teppacaudoo is believed to be perfectly safe for 8 months of the year, and though not so dangerous as other places, during the feverish months of February, March, April, May and early part of June, still it would be imprudent to run the risk of sleeping even there at any time of the year. Curtains of musquito gauze and a large fire close to the Palkee are under the worst of circumstances very valuable expedients, and the writer of these remarks by adopting these precautions has under Providence repeatedly slept with impunity at Teppacaudoo, Bandapoora, Hoondy, and Shemboonuttum, places stigmatized as feverish, and all in the immediate neighbourhood of those truly deadly spots, Seegoor and Karkara.(b)

After this very short resume of the peculiarities of the Hills, my readers will, I trust, be prepared to peruse with some interest, a more detailed account of the Topography, Climate, Soil, and productions, &c.; to which I have added, for the information of Invalids, a succinct account of the effects of the climate on the European constitution, both sound and impaired, and on the principal diseases of India; the latter being the result of three years' experience at the head of the Medical Staff on the Hills, and during which period upwards of 300 cases of various descriptions have come under my observation.

(a) A Regular Bazaar has now been established at Kotagherry, and supplies are tolerably abundant at all times. A Post office also has been located there and an able Subordinate Medical Officer has been for some years past appointed by Government to the situation.

(b) The foregoing remarks are not from Dr. BAIRIES' work.

SIMLAH (PROPERLY SHIMLAH.)

I.—Routes and Approaches.

A few day's dak from the plains brings the traveller, to this Sanatarium. On approaching Bhar at the foot of the hills, (via Kurnaul, Amballa and Penjore), which is distant about 30 miles from Simlah, there are three stage bungalows situated at Chumbul, Hurreepore, and Syree, which lead to Simlah. The ascent from Bhar to the first of these stages is considerable, the roads winds up the face of an immense mountain, and brings the traveller to the summit, where he finds the first bungalow. From Chumbul to the Khutwar river, the descent is steep but not dangerous; the course of the traveller is for some miles along its banks through a well cultivated valley, when by a sharp turn of the road he is suddenly brought to a chasm, flanked by perpendicular rocks about 800 or 1000 feet in height, through which the river Gumber rolls. Passing through this gap along the banks of the Gumber, the traveller at length advances half a mile up a gentle ascent to the Hurreepore bungalow, and thence continuing gradually the ascent by a barren, but good road, he reaches Syree, whence he proceeds to Simlah. The roads are excellent and well fenced in.

Previous to ascending the hills, the traveller, as is usual, deposits his carriage, palkee or tent &c. &c. in godowns belonging to Messrs. Barrett and Co. at Bhar and proceeds upwards with such indispensable articles of furniture only as are absolutely necessary. The usual mode of travelling is by 'jampaums' a conveyance not unlike a large clumsy chair, having a top from which curtains are suspended. They are carried by four men by means of poles fixed to the sides, and are supplied by Messrs. Barrett and Co.'s agent, together with bearers and porters. Every necessary advice and assistance is given at their Kurnaul establishment.

II.—Climate.

The climate is considered one of the finest in the world. The thermometer, within doors, seldom ranges higher than 62deg. Fahr. except in the months of May, June, and July, when it rarely exceeds 72deg. June, July, and August comprise the rainy months; and during the remaining portion of the year, the climate is delightful. Snow seldom falls until January, and except on the north side of the hills, does not lie above two or three days on the ground. The sudden changes of temperature which are occasioned by the alternate winds of the plains and of the snowy ranges, are not of frequent occurrence, hot winds are unknown; and the weather is not so variable as elsewhere on the Himalaya range.

III.—Productions.

Iron, bees' wax, honey, borax, musk, wool, ginger, opium, apricots, walnuts, strawberries, raspberry, quince, green-gage, red and black currants, rhubarb, salip-misry, wheat, gram, kullàe, mote, barley, rice, &c. In some well cultivated gardens, peas, beans, cabbages, lettuces, currants, and parsnips, &c. &c. may be had all the year round.

The fir, oak, rhodadendron, holly, ivy, thistle, nettle, briar, violet primrose, thyme, sage, mint, marjoram, &c. &c. may be also seen.

IV.—Resources and Supplies.

Supplies equal to the consumption of the Simlah community, cannot be obtained from any quarter within a hill journey of 3 or 4 days, but there is no scarcity, and they may be had at a trifle more than at other stations. Tables, chairs, almirahs, crockery, glass ware, cooking utensils, and supplies for the table, can always be had at moderate prices. Live stock of every description are carried up to the sanatarium from the plains, and may also be had from Kurnaul. Every other description of European manufacture is also obtainable at the warehouses established at Simlah. Poultry are not bred for sale near Simlah in consequence of the entire population of the hills being Hindoos.

Houses.—There are upwards of 100 English built houses, varying in rent from 400 to 1,500 Rs. a year. For the former sum may be had three rooms a cookroom, stable, and houses for eight servants: and for 1,000 Rs and upwards a house capable of accommodating a General Officer or high Civil Servant.

V.—Population.

The number of inhabitants, consisting of Hindoos, was estimated at 336,901, in the year 1832, and if one-tenth of that be added, the present population of the hills may be said to consist of 370,590 souls.

Character of the People.—They are simple, honest, industrious and inoffensive, but greatly void of hospitality. Their industry extends merely to the cultivation of their lands, and they know little or nothing of the benefits of commerce though their country abounds with the richest stores of nature. Not one in a hundred amongst them would, in the least degree, inconvenience himself to accommodate a traveller even for one night, and it is frequently by means of threats that they are induced to supply him with the necessaries of life, in exchange for coin.

VI.—Commerce and Manufactures.

Commerce is not much attended to. The exports chiefly comprise iron, bees' wax, honey, borax, musk, wool, ginger, and opium. The manufactures consist of cotton and woollen cloths, ghee, &c.

VII.—Rivers.

The Ghiree, Khutwar, and the Gumber, the first of which is within five hours' drive from Simlah.

Nuldroog. The Nuwab Dooly Khan's,	14	6

Note.—The set in this division is calculated for 12 bearers and 1 mausaljee.

The set at Tandoolwarree carries to Nuldroog, to which place the Postmaster at Poona has to post bearers for persons travelling post by order of Government.

When a private gentleman requires bearers to be posted for him, he should be very particular in stating to his correspondent whom he relies on for assistance, the day even the hour, on which he proposes to commence his journey; the places he intends to halt at for refreshment, and the time he intends to halt for that purpose. If neglectful of these particulars the hummals may reach their stations several days before they are required, and incur to the traveller, perhaps a great additional expense. Should the traveller on any occasion wish to halt a day at any place, his stating his intention previously would save the posting of one set. For instance, a traveller from Bombay to Poona will meet the first Poona set at Khalapoor, and supposing that they take him to the top of the ghat to breakfast, they can, having refreshed themselves, take him on in the evening to Wurgaon; or they might come to Karlee to breakfast and run to Wurgaon or Tuligaon in the evening For the extra labour, however, they would be entitled to at least half a rupee each man additional. The hummals at Panwell are under the Collector at Tanna, at Poona they are under the Collector in the city, and under the Bazar Master in camp; and this applies also to Sholapoor.

Note.—The duty of posting bearers from Nuldroog rests with the Postmaster at the residency of Hyderabad, but as the whole of the bearers require to be sent to their station from Hyderabad, seven or eight days are required to lay the dak. The expence is eight annas per diem to each bearer, reckoned from the day they quit their families till they return. It may be as well to mention also that any mistake in posting any one set may subject the traveller to great loss of time and considerable expence.

Note.—The road to Manicapatam is through heavy sand, with the Chilca Lake close on the right. At Vanicapatam cross an arm of the sea one mile wide at low water, which communicates with the Chica Lake. At Nursingapatam cross a Rivulet which has a ferry boat on it during the rains. Cross the Bandia nulla, 100 yards wide near Juggonath Pooree, a small civil and military station: the residents at which have houses on the sea coast about a mile from the celebrated temple of Jagganath. Cross the Teon Mahanuddee to Mookoondapoor, two miles on the Jagganath side of Peeplee. The civil and military station of Cuttack is on the banks of the Mahanuddee, one mile east of the city of Cuttack, which is on the Ratgoree river. The Ratgoree is one mile wide, and ferried over from June to February: during the other months it is fordable.

In the Ganjam district oil is to be paid for as required, and batta of one anna to each person after the first day, is 15 annas per diem additional. In the Cuttack district oil is charged when used at 4 annas each stage.

If a traveller leaves Cuttack at 5 o'clock in the afternoon, he will arrive at Bhareepoor, half way to Balasore about 8 or 9 o'clock the next morning, where there is a bungalow for the accommodation of travellers. He can remain at Bhareepoor during the heat of the day, start again in the evening and reach Balasore to breakfast. Proceed again in the cool of the evening, and arrive at Dantoon, half way Midnapoor, early next morning; where there is a comfortable house for the accommadation of travellers. In like manner if he goes on again in the evening to Midnapoor, another night will take him to Tumlook, where he gets into a boat and proceeds up the Hooghly to Calcutta.

A traveller with one set consisting of 8 bearers, 2 bangy burdens, and two mausals, pays 8 annas per mile, agreeably to regulation, and pays 2 annas per man per diem for detaining the bearers on the road. Or he may pay 3 annas per man for each stage from Tanghee to Khutnaghur.

During the monsoon it is recommended to travellers from Midnapore to run to Tumlook, which is 51 miles viz. via Debrah and Purtabpoor, and embark there on the Roopnarain river, a branch of the Hooghly. The passage is about 15 hours to Calcutta. The expense from Jellasore to Tumlook, 12 stages, is 26¼ Rs. for bearers, and 1½ Rs. for oil, being for 12 bearers, 2 bangy burdars, and 1 mausaljee.

The distance by sea from Bombay to Panwell, about 20 miles, and from Tumlook to Calcutta, about 90 miles, should be added to make the whole distance from Bombay to Calcutta. The distance by land, however, from Tumlook to Calcutta, is only 50 miles.

Good hummals will go four miles an hour, sometimes more, but the time occupied in the journey depends principally on the traveller himself. From 20 to 22 days is a reasonable allowance for the joury to an estout man.

EAST INDIA SHIPPING.—Mr. Stikeman's comparative statement of the number of British ships, with their tonnage, &c., entered inwards and cleared outwards from and to places within the limits of the East India Company's charter, from January 1st to March 31st, in the years 1840 and 1841 furnishes some interesting results. Of the entered inwards the total was 110 ships, 39,799 tons, and 1,991 men for 1840, while in 1841 the total was 203 ships, 74,031 tons, and 3,702 men, shewing an increase for the latter period of 93 ships, 34,232 tons, and 1,711 men. At the port of London the entries were 135 ships, 48,996 tons in 1841, against 74 ships, 26,858 tons in 1840; at Liverpool, 51 ships, 19,259 tons in 1841, against 25 ships, 9,372 tons in 1840; at Bristol, and Hull, 4 ships, 1,377 tons in 1841, against 3 ships, 1,019 tons in 1840; and at the Clyde, Leith, and other British ports, 13 ships, 4,399 tons in 1841, against 8 ships, 2,550 tons in 1840. The cleared outwards made a total of 198 ships, 73,197 tons, and 4,123 men in 1840, and 217 ships, 88,125 tons, and 4,499 men in 1841, giving an increase of 19 ships, 14,928 tons and 376 men. From London there were 115 ships, 46,824 tons in 1841, against 115 ships, 41,275 tons in 1840; from Liverpool, 63 ships, 27,271 tons in 1841, against 54 ships, 20,743 tons in 1840; from Bristol and Hull 4 ships, 1,288 tons in 1841, against 2 ships, 686 tons, in 1840; from the Clyde, Leith, and other British ports, 35 ships, 12,742 tons in 1841, against 27 ships, 10,493 tons in 1840. The destinations of these ships included Calcutta, Madras, Bombay, China, Ceylon, Singapore, and Penang, Philippine Islands Java and Sumatra, Arabia, New South Wales, Mauritius, Cape of Good Hope, Madagascar, and the South Seas.

DIRECTIONS FOR ENTERING THE MOUTH OF THE INDUS.

BY LIEUT. W. JARDINE, I. N.

Main, or Kidey-warry mouth. A vessel coming from the Southward should make the wreck of the Hannah, and then run along the edge of the bank in about three fathoms till the Kideywarree beacons are brought in, one bearing No. 22dg. E., when if high water, a vessel may cross the bar, Great care should be taken to have the beacons exactly in one as there are several false mouths which might be entered with them, a very little open, particularly to the Southward. For a short distance inside the bar, there are several small patches, with a depth not greater than on entering, afterwards running in the Channel will be found more even with deeper water 12 to 15 feet. About a mile from the beacons a vessel may edge away to the eastward, if wishing to keep in mid-channel, but it is preferable to have the Northern bank on board, as it is steep too in comparison with the other. When the beacons are brought to bear North, deep water will be found in mid-channel, which can be kept by using the lead, steering in N. E. to East as requisite.

Hujamree mouth. The Channel to Umree Bunder is deep and free from shoals, keeping the steep banks on board, but care ought to be taken in crossing the river, as spits of the shelving bank run out a considerable distance in some of the reaches.

The mainmast of the wreck affords an excellent mark for this mouth, bringing it to bear South distant ½ or ¾ of a mile a course E., S. E. with lead into the fair Channel, when the depth will increase 3 to 6 feet, the course then varies with the round of the banks, which are plainly seen on either side. With the lead kept going, the beacon may be brought to bear West without any difficulty, after which the usual remarks for river navigation are applicable.

The Hujamree beacon is only a temporary one, but is conspicuous, having the appearance of a very large decayed bush, it can be seen plainly after passing the wreck.

Anchorage for Ships. A vessel may anchor in 7 fathoms about ½ a mile from the bar with leading mark on, but its bearing. N. E. in 7 fathoms

Main mouth. would be preferable. Should there be a Westerly breeze, or one likely to set in, this bearing would have the advantage of keeping boats well to windward for running over the bar should stores have to be landed.

Hujamree mouth. The wreck bearing S. E. distant about 1 mile, will be the most preferable anchorage for vessels discharging outside, as the position is such as to allow boats to make a fair run into the River.

RIVER BOATS.

Those now plying on the river vary from 300 to 700 maunds; they are clumsy-looking, very like floating bangalows, but strong and safe. The 'small ones,' in these as in most instances, are easiest managed, and move quickest. But those of 450 maunds are recommended as combining most advantages. They (the boats not the advantages) can be fitted up with grass choppers. Their sides also can be lined and covered with sirkee,—(a large and beautiful description, of which grows in the dense jungle around Feerozpoor,) so as to render them cooler than any budjrow. They are divided into two cabins—to wit, one of 14 feet by 10, another 10 feet square; leaving a space between half, of which may be used in any way most convenient to the passenger. In the cabins the flooring is usually matting laid over branches, but, as has been already observed, at the easy cost of some 20 rupees, a cabin can be planted. The chupper and flooring being the property of the person paying for it. The sides of the cabin are raised from the flooring inside, and not from the gunwale; so that, although the height is, at the centre, seven feet, and even at the sides five feet, the chupper does not stand more than three feet above the gunwale, and there is consequently no fear or at least no danger of the boat being unroofed in a gale. One full month's notice is required for boats at Feerozpoor, and seven weeks for boats at Roopur. The earlier the notice the better.

The river is in all respects as safe as any in the world. Scarcely a wreck has happened on it, and not a single outrage has been committed whether on its surface or along its banks, within the last 18 months.

There is no season of the year at which a boat of 300 maunds may not navigate the river as high as Roopur.

ACCOMMODATION—SEASONS FOR SAILING, &c. &c.

Boats can proceed to Bombay, viâ Ghora Baree from 1st of November to 30th of April, but during March and April the weather is boisterous on the Sindh Coast. It is necessary to cross from Tatta to Kurrachee between the 1st of May and the 30th of October. The passage from Kurrachee to Bombay, is usually made between the 15th of September and 15th of May. The earliest date to which it is possible to leave Kurrachee, is the 20th of August or Cocoanut Day before which nothing will induce the natives, to embark. Boats can always be procured at the mouths of the river, or at Kurrachee for 60 rupees. But they are very uncomfortable and generally without cabins. In June, July, and the 20th of August, the western branch of the Delta is navigable to boats proceeding the whole way to Gurree Bundur, which by land is about two miles from Kurrachee. During the rest of the year travellers must go by land from Jutta to Garrole 20 miles, and thence down the river 30 miles to Gursey Bunder. The land travelling is by horses or camels. With the former the time on the road would be five or six hours; with the latter eight or ten. Bearers are to be got at Tatta, but it is probable the postmaster may be allowed to lay a dâk for lady travellers from the Government establishment of dooley bearers. The distance between the landing place near Tatta and Kurrachee is 62 miles.

The Snake, steamer, is now running as a packet boat on the Gharra river. It performs the voyage in from five to seven hours. The fare is 15 rupees, exclusive of provisions, which are found by the passengers, but are by no means to be found at the villages beside the river.

NOTE.—Garralé is a village giving its name to a creek (23 miles from Tatta) which runs to the sea and to the Kurachee harbour. At Tatta, three miles from the landing place, there are several bungalows built by the officers of a regiment formerly stationed there. These would be available for travellers. At Gharra they would find no accommodation. At Kurrachee there is at present only a small shed; but there will be a bungalow. The average duration of the passage from Sukkur to Kurrachee may be estimated at ten days, and from Feerozpoor to Sukkur at twenty days, and from Roopur to Feerozpoor six days.

At Loodhiana, Feerozpoor, Sukkur, Hyderabad and Tatta, there are European officers, who will render all necessary assistance to travellers. There can be little doubt that steamers will be regularly plying from the mouth of the river. After the 1st of November, when the passage to Bombay will be made in three days, and the downward passage from Roopur in boats, in 35 days, the whole way from Rupur to Bombay may be travelled within six weeks. For rates, time, &c. &c., see the table taken from Captain Lawrence's memoranda at Feerozpoor.

Euphrates Expedition.

At at period of transfer to the East India Company in January 1837, the total expenditure on account of this enterprise was £33,605 2 10.

The fund which provided for it accrued from the votes of 1834-35, and 1835-36, the former amounting to £20,000, and the latter to £16,000, including a contribution of one half from the East India Company, together with the value of the Euphrates Steamer, and the stores of the expedition.

NOTES ON CENTRAL ASIA.

Modes of Communication between Persia and Turkey.

Two principal roads join Turkey with Persia, that from Erzeroom to Tauris, and that from Bagdad to Kerman Shah; the country between these two lines of communication is inhabited by nomadic brigands. Bagdad only sends into Persia, dates, coffee, country sugar, goat and camel hair stuffs, and some spices received from Bussorah. Its caravans bring in return raw silk and Persian stuffs.

Most of the goods that cross Turkey on the road from Trebizond to Tauris come from, or are sent to Europe,—for exchanges between Turkey and Persia are of no importance. Shouster pipes and Persian Toumbeki, some silk stuffs, some cotton from Khoï for the consumption of Erzeroom, and some Cashmere shawls, are now the only articles purchased by the Turks, who can give, in exchange, but European goods.

Communication between Persia and Russia.

Tauris is the rendezvous of the caravans coming from Turkey, and the great entrepot of Europe goods in Persia; the intercourse between that city and Russia through Tiflis is also very active. For a period of nearly 10 years, goods purchased by Trancaucasic Armenians at the fair of Leipsig were sent to Tauris by Redout Kaleh and Tiflis. The charge for cartage from Redout Kaleh to Tiflis (380 versts; 252 miles Eng.) is 40 to 50 copecks in specie (100 copecks=0s. 11d.) per pood (36, 104 Engl. d), and from Tiflis to Tauris (615 versts; 408 miles) 60 to 80 copecks also in specie, both ways cheaper than from Trebizond to Tauris. Besides, the road through Tiflis is practicable to waggons, and in the bad season only the roads in Imeretia and Misagrelia become very difficult. However the charges for purifying goods in the quarantine stations bring the expenses for cartage nearly to the same rates.

Now the road between Redout Keleh and Tiflis has ceased to be resorted to, since the abolition of the transit pass, granted in 1821, except for the few exchanges necessary to the wants of Georgia.

Russian goods from Moscoa to Tiflis will reach by waggons in 60 to 90 days, at a rate of between 7 to 11 Roubles, 6s. 5d. to 10s. 1d.) per pood; but mostly come down the Volga to Astrakan, whence they are sent to Tiflis by land. Goods intended by Persia are shipped to Resht direct, and particularly packages of great weight or bulk. Those sent to Persia in 1836, from the fair of Nijnii-Novgorod paid to Astrakan, from 30 to 40 copecks, and from Astrakan to Enzellee 60 to 80 copecks per pood.

Freight from Astrakan to Meeted esser, to Astrabad or to Resht, is at the same rate.

Ports on the Caspian Sea.

There are but two good harbours on the south coast, viz. Astrabad and Enzellee in front of Resht; Meched esser, the road of Balfroosh, is of no shelter to vessels. On the east coast water is so shallow that even a boat cannot come nearer the shore, than by 29 to 50 sajènes, (45 at 70 yards), and in order to maintain a depth of 20 feet, shipping should keep at from 4 to 7 versts, (2¾ to 4¾ miles) from the shore. Half a score of large boats, belonging to some Tartars of Astrakan, sail once a year from this latter place to Manghishlak, there to load such goods as have been carried thither by the caravans from Khiva, and which they exchange for Russian produce.

Turcoman coasters, in flat-bottomed boats, ply in the other parts of the coast; yet in these latter times some Russian and Persian traders have visited by sea, the tribes that camp near the mouths of the Attrock and of the Gourghan, and obtained from them fish, sea-birds down, furs and felts, in exchange of woollen and cotton cloths, brocards, iron-ware, flour and spices.

Astrabad.

The Persian Government claim rights of sovereignty on all the Turcomans that inhabit between the Turkish frontier and the Attock. Their encampments extend towards the south, to the river Kara-sou, which run in the Bay of Astrabad, together with numerous rivulets, all abundant in fish.

The bay is 56 versts (37 miles) long and 14 (9½ miles) broad. Its greatest depth is 4 sajènes (28 feet English); at the entrance it is 15 sajènes (17½ fathoms English), and vessels may anchor at 1 verst (nearly ⅔ of a mile) from the mouth of the Kara-sou by 2 sajènes or 14 feet English.

The port of Astrabad is visited by coasting vessels only carrying salt and naphta. Its trade is confined to exchanges with Turcomans. About 200 horses, each averaging 25 or 30 tomans (a) (165 at 200 Company's rupees) a piece, camels at a price of 5 tomans (Company's rupees 33), sheep, felts, carpets, and other stuffs of wool or of camel and goat's hair, are there carried by Turcomans, who will truck against cotton and silk stuffs, broad cloths, spices, Mazanderan sugar, tobacco, rice, wheat, iron, copper and cast iron-ware.

Turcomans have frequently committed acts of piracy on the coast, and made descents on the Persian territory.

Mecked Esser.

The trade of this port with Astrakan and Bakou may amount yearly to 50,000 tomans (something more than 3 lakhs of rupees). Russian goods, such as chintzes, cloths, linen, iron and iron-ware, copper, glass, porcelain and earthenware, sugar and tea, are imported from Astrakan by four or five vessels reaching in the month of October, the time for fishing; from Bakou importations are confined to salt and naphta.

The exports from Mecked Esser consist of cotton, in wool and in twist, Persian tissus, rice, sugar and fish.

Resht.

This place carries the same trade in exports as Mecked Esser, but the principal article for Russia, is silk; gall nuts and fruits are also exported. Resht is the entrepôt for all the heavy goods from Russia. As to manufactured articles, this port receives only such as will be consumed in the Ghilan territory, all the rest is sent by land, from Tiflis to Tauris. The city is built between two rivers the one of which to the north, and named Siah Roubar, runs to the very foot of the walls of the place; but its navigation is blocked up by some trees barring the channel. Goods are conveyed by cattle accustomed to pace in the mud, as far as Peelé Bazar, a distance of 8 versts, (nearly 6 miles), and there come down in boats, on the river running to the south of Resht, till they have reached the Bay of Enzellee. This river is from 25 to 30 feet wide, and the water 4 to 8 feet deep.

The run from Peelé Bazar to the bay is between 6 and 7 versts, and the distance from the bazar to Enzellee is 25 or 26 versts (about 17 miles).

Navigation on the Caspian Sea.

The Bay of Enzellee is 45 versts (30 miles) from east to west, and 22 (15 miles) from north to south; its depth is from 2 to 7 sagènes, 14 to 50 feet). Its entrance from the Caspian forms a channel of about 580 yards in length, and 120 or 130 yards in breadth.

Every sort of shipping can enter the bay ; but the sea, on account of many shallow parts, and of frequent hurricanes, is of a rather dangerous navigation. Some hundred vessels ply on its waters, and belong chiefly to Persians settled at Astrakan and at Bakou. Enzellee owns very little shipping, but Turcoman-Yamouds have about 100 large and 60 smaller boats, built of Persian oak. The environs of the city of Rouba, at a small distance of Bakou, supply also the dockyard of this latter place with similar oak ; but most of the craft on the Caspian is built of pine. Novgorod, or the boats that come down the Volga to Astrakan, and make sailing vessels of them. The seamen, mostly Mussulmans, are as ignorant as their boats are wretched.

Those vessels were chiefly employed in carrying stores and ammunition for the Russian army in the Caucasus Freight for trading goods is much less profitable. The small Russian shipping, and all that of the Turcomans are only engaged in carrying naphta, salt, and in fishing.

All that is connected with the navigation on the Caspian is in the most miserable state.

Principal Roads in Persia.

The Elbourz range, that separates the districts on Caspian from the rest of Persia, and of which the passage is extremely difficult, is a great bar, particularly in winter, to the communications between Resht and Balpoosh on the seaside, and the two first trading places in the empire. Tauris, and Tehran, in the interior. Besides, the road bordering the seashore is almost impracticable by its muddy portions.

The Elbourz mounts are crossed principally in three places, from Resht towards Tauris, and towards Tehran, and between Tehran and Sari.

Although Tehran is an insignificant place by its natural situation, yet its importance as a commercial capital is considerable. From it radiate the principal roads of the empire, towards the west on Tauris, the east on Meshed, by Shahroud and to the south towards the Persian Gulph by Ispahan and Shiraz.

Secondary roads lead to Kerman, Yezd, Hamadan, and Kerman Shah.

Country produce, as well as goods from Europe or from India, are carried in all these directions. The latter, if of European origin, are seldom sent further, than Ispahan to the north, and those that come from Tauris very seldom reach as far as Shiraz.

Shiraz is the entrepôt of goods sent from Bushire, although the trade with India is mostly carried by the merchants of Ispahan. Since the port of Bunder Abass has been deserted, Bushire is the only place of importance Persia possesses on the gulf.

Bushire, and Navigation on the Persian Gulf.

Bushire's harbour is good ; yet ships will run to Karak Island, a distance of 15 miles, during very heavy weather. Some large vessels from Europe, or the United States of America, occasionally reach there ; but the greatest trade is carried in Arab craft, built in the gulf itself, or in the west coast of India, at Cochin or Demaun. They are from 30 to 300 tons by register, and altogether of a much better seafaring kind than the generality of oriental shipping. As the pieces of timber in them, are not iron bolted, but maintained by rope or leather fastenings, these vessels have much elasticity, lightness, and carry sail very well.

Arab pirates, the Wahabees of the Djevassim tribe, used often to cruise in the gulf ; their chief harbouring place was at Razul-keine, near Cape Musseldom, at the mouth of the gulf, and their station extend to the Bahrein islands. In 1821 the English raised some fortifications on Kishon island, opposite Bunder Abbas, and after having for a time second to abandon them, the since 1836 appear inclined to keep a second one on Karak island. Their commence in the gulf is surely of a sufficient importance, to justify their measures. During a period of seven years, ending in 1826, the amount of value exchanged between sundry points of the coast and India, averaged yearly £1,337,163 stg It may be supposed that this sum has become less, since the demand for indian produce is less active in Turkey and Persia, and since Europe goods reach these countries at lower charges by Trebizond, Samsoun, &c.

The goods now sent to Bushire are: sugar-candy and brown sugar, spices, tea, colors, cotton stuffs, chintzes Indian and European, broad cloths, steel and sundry manufactured articles. Those taken in exchange are tobacco, horses, silk, gall nuts, Kerman shaw, dried fruits, copper, lead, &c.

Since all the trade was concentrated in Bushire and the port of Bunder Abbas deserted, the city of Kerman lost most of its importance; its direct communications with the sea, formerly through Bunder Abbas, and with India, through Yezd, are now of no moment. Such were the consequences of a lessened consumption of Indian produce in Persia, in Turkey and in Europe, and of the trade being carried in preference through the Persian Gulf, thus secured against the exactions of the Sindhee or the plundering Beloochees.

The same causes have stopped the communications between Persia and Affghanistan; yet as late as the last events, the road between Mushed and Herat has continued to be resorted to as being the most advantageous From this latter place they export country carpets, assafœtida saffron, manna, lead, pistachios, rosin, mastich, &c.; and at Mushed caravans take in return raw silks and silk stuffs. This last-named city draws also some importance from its relations with Bokhara, whence come those celebrated black sheep skins, with which Persians make their caps, and which they seem unable to do without. According to some estimates, the importation of this article would amount to 1,20,000 skins yearly; but it is supposed also that a very small portion of this quantity belongs to the true Arab sheep of Karakoul, the rest being purchased from the Kirghiz. The Bokharans export besides Cashmere shawls, tea, rhubarb, and some Russian goods, although these latter ought to be cheaper at Mushed were they imported by the Caspian. The returns from Persia consist of opium, turquoises, Kerman shawls and carpets. In crossing the steppe of the Turcomans, caravans from Mushed to Bokhara are exposed to the greatest dangers, to guard against which they will never venture to penetrate the desert, without the escort of some Turcomans, whose family or friendly relations with the sundry tribes will protect them, and without a safe conduct delivered by the Khivian authorities at Merv, a province lately subdued by the Khan of Khiva, and through which passes the road of Bokhara. One made road only exists in that steppe of the Turcomans, and once or twice a year is followed by the caravans from Astrabad to Khiva, which carry died silk, scarfs, and waistbands, Kerman shawls, furs, sugar, pepper and other spices. The same will take in return Russian goods. Turcoman-Yamouds are the carriers of those goods, and will always avoid entering such parts of the desert inhabited by tribes hostile to them.

On all the frontier of Turkistan and Persia, there is carried a considerable trade in exchange, and which might be much more so, but for the continued attacks or invasions from the Turcomans.

The road from Astrabad and Shahroud to Mushed is however kept much animated by the passage of no less than 60,000 pilgrims, who at the peril of their liberty, go yearly for their devotions, visiting the tomb of Imaum Rizah at Mushed.

Commercial Roads in Affghanistan.

This country, now that its relations with the westward are so severed and that Persia has ceased to receive much Indian produce by land, bears a commercial importance quite distinct from that of the regions we have just examined.

The several roads by which the Affghan country communicates with India, and Turkistan with Russia, tend in radii towards Cabool and Bokhara on both sides of the Hindoo Koosh, which caravans cross on the principal road that unites these two great commercial entrepots of central Asia.

Other roads lead to Cabool, to the westward by Herat and Candahar, to this latter track is not the only one towards India, and the Candahar merchants can reach in 18 days march Someany, a seaport on the Indian Ocean, or go to Shikarpoor on the Indus.

The districts of Affghanistan have very little exchange to carry between each other, as their produce is nearly the same in all; yet the high and cold regions of Ghuzni and of Cabool are obliged to purchase cotton and silk from the milder districts of Herat, Candahar, and of Peshawur, from which latter they buy also sugar.

Articles intended for India are all carried to Cabool: green fruits packed in cotton, dried fruits, madder, Herat saffron, opium of Candahar, Persia silk, assafœtida from Herat and the hills near Cabool, also horses brought from the Turcomans, and of the country itself. The returns consist in Indian and English goods, viz. cotton and silk stuffs, sugar, spices, steel, &c.

The road from Herat to Candahar is good, but from this latter place it becomes more and more difficult as it approaches the mountains of Cabool. It is however all the way better than the straight track between Herat and Cabool, which runs through arid and rocky hills, and is hardly a practicable path. In winter no caravan can reach Cabool, all passes being blocked up by snow. Brigands infest all the surrounding country, the Hezarehs to the north, the Beloochees to the south, and between both tribes, besides the exactions committed by the native chiefs; for all these circumstances caravans are often obliged to take long turns out of the main road. (a)

The Seikhs of the Punjanb have imposed so heavy duties (b) on caravans crossing their country, that the traders of Peshawur now draw all their goods from India through Cabool, while formerly it was through Peshawur that caravans went from India to Cabool. Even the Cashmere shawls pass through India to reach Affghanistan. The principal trade between the two countries is carried by the Lohanis, an Affghan nomadic tribe. They start from Cabool in autumn, after fruits have ripened, cross the Indus at Kaheeree, and thence penetrate British India. They keep from 2,000 to 2,500 camels that only serve between Cabool and the Indus, where their encampments are erected. They travel with their families and all their cattle in large flocks. Their number and their relations keep the brigands at a distance, and habit has indurated them to the fatigues of the voyage in almost a desert country. They return to Cabool in summer. The usual rate of camel's load (12¾ pounds 4 cwt.,) from Cabool to Mooltan is about 16 Rs., or 3 roubles about per pound. The road from Candahar to India is much less visited.

All those serious difficulties will be avoided when the Indus will be freely opened to Steamers. (c)

Navigation on the Indus.

From Attock to the mouth of the Indus, there is a distance of nearly 1,200 miles of navigable water, and it is now known the Sutlege, the Jelum and the Ranee, in the Punjaub, are accessible to flat bottommed boats drawing no more than six feet. Such as are to enter the mouth of the Indus sandy and ever changing as the latter are, should not draw more than 5 or 6 feet, and although the depth of the water increases in its superior course, yet keeled boats are much exposed to ground, and thence only flat-bottomed vessels can be used. The steam, from Attock to the Rocksalt Counts is very rapid, but below it is very slow. The ordinary boats usually take 40 days to reach from the mouth to Mooltan on the Chenab, and thence 20 days to Lahore. A steamer could go from the sea to Mooltan in 10 days. Coal mines have been discovered in Cutch, near the very mouths of the Indus, on the banks of the Sutlege, and at Attock, which are of the greatest moment for the establishment of steamer.

Roads between Turkey and Affghanistan.

Besides the main way of communication between Turkistan and Afghanistan, by Cabool and Bolkh, there are two others, one from Herat to Bokhara, the other from Peshawur to Badakshan. This latter has been entirely abandoned since Badakshan fell in to the power of the Khan of Koondooz, who scattered away its population. The former passing through the country is much safer, and much traversed in times of peace.

There remains the main road of Cabool, the highest pass of which is not less than 12000 feet above the level of the sea; although sometimes caravans have been threatened by Hazarehs tribes, and the Ouzbeks of Koondooz, yet this road is much better than, and preferred to, the other two. The distance from Bokhara to Cabool is only 24 days' march, but caravans usually take 35 days. They bring horses and camels, raw silk, cotton, tea, China porcelin cups and bowls, gold, silver, and Russian produce. The returns consist only of goods coming from India.

(a) These two paragraphs are hardly applicable, now, that British influence is being rightly applied and appreciated.

(b) Now being revised. (c) Now done.

Commercial Roads in the Turkistan.

Bokhara should be considered as the centre of all commercial relations with Turkistan, the same as Cabool is for Affghanistan ; but the roads in the former country are much more numerous. Those in the north lead to Khiva, Orenburg, Orsk, Troitisk ; and by Tackend to Petropawlowsk and to Semipalatimsk ;—those in the last go to Kachgarby, Khoktran, and to Yarkend by Badakshan ; the southern roads lead to Koodooz, Cabool, and to Herat, and the western to Mushed. For some time past Kokhan has taken a very active part in the trade with Russia ; its caravans have indeed the advantage of crossing a much less dangerous country than the western steppes of the Kirghiz, which are continually exposed to the invasions of the Khivians, notwithstanding it is the passage of the transports from Bokhara.

The goods from Russia, such as iron, copper, hides, colors, cotton, woolen and silk stuffs, hardware &c., together with tea, musk, porcelain bowls, and silver in yambs or ingots from China, reach Bokhara by all the roads leading thereto.

Russia draws from Turkistan all the country produce, such as cotton and silk stuffs, cotton in twist and in wool, furs, seed of Zitonard, lapis-lazuli, and cornelian stones from Badakshan, turquoises from Persia, rhubarb from China, and Cashmere shawls.

Kachgar and Yarkend, the two great emporium of the Chinese Turkistan, communicate with the great Bokharia by Khokhan and Badakshan, and barter their produce for Persian opium, Lapis-lazuli, and rubies from Badakshan, for slaves, cattle, indigo and other India merchandise, as also for some Russian goods, which also reach these two places in a direct line by Kouldja. Of all the roads of Turkistan that from Bokhara to Kokhan is the best, open to waggons and safe, which last circumstance commands preference as long as the Bokhara and Kokhan chiefs are in good terms together. The other roads that cross steppes could seldom admit waggons, and the nomadic tribes do not use such mode of transport.

As the Kirghiz country is a desert in its Oriental part, caravans often prefer the road from Tachkend to Semipalatinsk and to Petropawlousk, to the more direct track to Orenbourg, and by so doing they avoid the deserts of Kizil Koom and of the Kara Koom. Those deserts are however crossed in winter, when snow can be used as water, (a) although the best time of the year is the month of May, before the sun has scorched all vegetation. The dangers which at all times threaten traders crossing the Kirghiz country are greater towards the western parts, not only on account of the tribes of the small horde being more inclined to plunder than those of the middle horde, but also because Khivians keep fixed stations near the mouths of the Syr, and on the Koowan Deria. The Kara Kirghiz between Kokund and China have been much restrained by the Governments of these two countries, and the effect of this has been to render communications much safer. The road through the Beloortagh is excessively difficult, and no less so in that of Yarkend to Badakshan : caravans to Bokhara and Kokhan have not only to overcome a mountainous and rocky country, but are always exposed to the attacks of the Koondooz Ousbecks. The roads from Bokhara to Herat and Rushed, towards the west, are partly through an arid country, where no water and no pasture are to be found, and are besides infested by plundering Turk tribe that inhabit neighbouring regions.

Transport of Goods through the Steppe of the Kirghiz.

This is done on camels hired from these nomadic tribes. Merchants elect a chief with whom they settle their bargain, and afterwads the caravan is placed under the control of a guide, whose relations amongst his countrymen serve as a guarantee to those merchants. His salary is usually one per cent on the value of the goods, or 3 roubles per camel. Besides him several other guides accompany the caravan, and also Kirghiz who have charge of the camels. Each of these men watches over 16 camels, and their duty is a very hard one, in winter specially, when they have to clear off the snow, to disclose the grass, which will feed their cattle. Asses or horses carry the guides and the merchants, who keep besides each a camel to carry provisions and water. The price of transport is paid in advance to the Kirghiz, as they place no confidence on the Bokharan merchants. These latter only are well armed, while the Kirghiz carry hardly any weapons of defence; but when they are attacked, all run away, be they armed or not. It would be very easy to set caravans in a proper order of defence, by placing a well-armed guide for each ten camels, and by keeping these animals on line of 40, instead of having them on a very long file.

The price of transport from Orenbourg to Bokhara is from 4 to 6 roubles per pound (1 R 13 to 2 „ 12 annas cent per 36 pounds.) Caravans generally leave Russia in October or November, and when arrived at Bokhara, the Kirghiz make their own way to their abode. They therefore hire out their camels at a much cheaper rate, cross the desert so long as the soil is covered with snow, and afterwards disperse towards their encampments, where they stay till the spring. Traders in the meanwhile barter with the nomadic tribes.

Some caravans leave Bokhara in May or June, and should they not reach Russia in time to be at Nijnij-Novgorod for the fair, the merchants will try to direct their goods towards Siberia.

Caravans mounted on horses are more difficult to manage, as loading and on loading, and forage take much time. One guide is needed for each 4 horses.

THE EASTERN SETTLEMENTS.

The description, statistics, &c. of Singapore, Prince of Wales' Island and Malacca, individually, will be given separately. First of the conjoined colonies: the officials are :..

The Hon'ble S. G. Bonham, Esq., Governor of Prince of Wales' Island, Singapore and Malacca.

The Hon'ble Sir William Norris, Knt. Recorder.

ADMINISTRATION OF JUSTICE.

The court of judicature is held before the Governor, Resident Councillor and Recorder, and administers the law of England—the decision is by a majority of votes, the Recorder having the casting vote when the court is composed of only two members. The court has the same powers, both civil and criminal, as those of the Supreme court at Calcutta. There is also a court of requests, which has jurisdiction over simple debt to the amount of thirty-two dollars, or Co.'s Rs. 71. 13. 8.

Criminal cases, not amounting to treason or felony, are tried before the court of Quarter Sessions, which is composed of a judge of the superior court (usually the Resident Councillor) and any of the magistrates who may see fit to attend; and this court is authorized to inflict any punishment not extending to life or limb, banishment or perpetual imprisonment.

The Revenue cases are tried before two magistrates, generally the Assistant Resident, and one of the Honorary justices. The latter officers are appointed by the Governor, under powers vested in him by the letters patent constituting the court of which he is president, and holds the seal.

The number of civil and criminal cases tried before the court at each of the three stations during the past three years, will appear as follows:—

SINGAPORE.

The island of Singapore is situated in the straits of Malacca, at the southern extremity of the Malay peninsula; lat 1° 15' N, lon. 104° E. Sir Thomas Raffles took possession of this island on the 26th January 1819, under a treaty concluded with the Tomogong, or native chief, who held his lands from Mahomed Shah, Sultan of Johore. In 1824 a regular cession in full sovereignty of this, and the islands for ten miles round it, was obtained from the Sultan and Tomogong, and became recognized as part of the British empire, by a treaty with the Dutch, done at London, in March of the same year.

Singapore, from a statiscal report submitted to the Government of India a few years ago, is reckoned to be about twenty-six miles long in its greatest length, and thirteen miles broad in the broadest part. The plan from which this area has been computed is from the Surveys of Captain Franklin, of the Bengal Quarter Master General's Department, and of Captain Jackson of the Bengal Artillery, who for several years officiated as Executive Officer at the station. About nine miles south of the Island runs a chain of Islets under British sway frequented by fishermen and petty native traders, the whole within a circumference of about one hundred miles. The channel between them and the Island, forms the present strait of Singapore, the great thoroughfare of European, Indian, and Chinese traffic.

The number of acres of waste land is estimated at 128,500, a great portion of which is now under cultivation in a more or less degree. From a view taken from one of the most elevated spots about the Town, the whole Island appears to be pleasingly diversified with hill and dale and covered with luxuriant foliage to the water's edge, presenting to the eye of the voyager a scene that has repeatedly excited much admiration. There appears to be only one hill of any elevation in the Island, namely Buket Temah which is situated near the old straits, and which appears to be about five hundred feet, in height.

The climate of Singapore is justly celebrated for its salubrity. There are few places in India in the possession of the East India Company that can boast of so charming a climate as this Island; this has been abundantly shewn by the concurring opinion of medical men founded from the experience of a residence of from fifteen to twenty years on the Island, as well as from the annual resort here of a great number of invalids from all parts of India. Situated nearer the equator than either Penang or Malacca the changing influence of the monsoon is less felt here that at either of those places, the Island being kept in state of perpetual verdure by frequent tropical showers. The mean temperature of the Thermometer for the past three years has been 82°.

The Harbour is situated about four miles to the N. N. East of St. John's Island, and affords a safe anchorage to vessels during all seasons of the year, and being clear of hidden danger, the approach to it is easy by day or night. Its position is also favorable for commanding the Straits, the track which ships pursue being distant about five miles. Ships and vessels resort here from almost all quarters of the globe during the whole year round; and from its proximity to the China Seas, and the rapid encrease of the trade, and other advantages which the Island possesses, it cannot fail to become ere long one of the most flourishing and valuable of the colonies in the possession of the East India Company.

A school is established in the building originally designed by the late admirable and lamented founder Sir Stamford Raffles, as the Anglo Chinese College, towards which Government pays a monthly donation of Co's. Rupees 434-8-6. The building has recently undergone considerable repairs and improvements; it is spacious and well adapted to the objects for which it is now appropriated. The number of scholars including Christians, Chinese, Klings &c., amount to upwards of two hundred, who are divided into three or four classes, under the constant attention of two masters and an assistant; three classes in the upper department, are kept vigorously engaged at their various studies which consist of Roman History, Geography, the English Grammar, Mental and Written Arithmetic, Algebra and Astronomy, while the children in the lower department, under the tuition of another master are as actively employed in other studies, and in the acquisition of knowledge on a simple and comprehensive plan, which can be properly appreciated only on a personal inspection of the school.

The population of the Island of Singapore from the year 1824 to 1836, will appear in table A. which shews the rapid progress since the formation of this settlement in 1819, when the British Flag was first hoisted here, at which time the population amounted to about one hundred and fifty souls only consisting of fishermen and pirates. The population of the Island from a detailed census taken in January 1840, See table B. may be estimated at 40,000 souls.

SOME OBSERVATIONS ON WESTERN CENTRAL ASIA.

(From Morier's Khivah.)

The present geographical and topographical divisions of Western Central Asia, namely Má-war-álnahr and Khwárezm, now bearing the names of Bokhárà and Khivah, suggest a few observations on the remarkable changes to which the surface of the earth has been exposed in the course of time.

According to the Greek and Asiatic historians, these countries were formerly in a much more flourishing condition than what the modern Russian accounts represent them to be in at present. Bokhara and Khivah are, indeed, still two respectable oases, or groups of oases, in the midst of a sea of sand, in which are to be found considerable remains of political and physical cultivation; not however, to be compared with the former state of these countries. The causes of this change are of various kinds.

Amongst the first of these causes we may reckon the gradual desiccation (often referred to be others) if not of the surface of the earth generally, yet certainly of many countries which are not drenched by tropical rains, nor by the winters of higher latitudes. If we look at the map of Central Asia, we recognise as having existed in the anti-historical time an immense sea, which being in many places probably only a shallow swamp, full of reeds, united the Black and the Caspian Seas; and which, as it gradually dried up, left the sea of Aral a lake. It is extended northerly to the left far into Southern Russia; to the right it watered the foot of the Siberian mountains, and reached eastward as far as the mountain ranges which extend from Kultha to Ust-Kamenogoreck along the Siberian frontier; where the great steppe-lake Balkhash or Tenis remained in a deep hollow. To the south, the great lake we are describing was bounded by the hills of Turkestan, and those which divide Bokhara from the desert, where the remarkable steppe-lake of Telekul presents another relic of its waters. Many ranges of hills and plateaux must have risen above the waters as islands, particularly the high land of the Turkomans west of the Aral. The lower course of several of the large rivers, which now flow into these lakes, was then covered by them. Many rivers of these steppes, which are now lost in sand, in lakes, or in rushy morases, came first into existence in the process of the desiccation above alluded to; and to this is to be attributed the peculiar nature of some of them, which Ritter designates as Coral rivers, or a number of small lakes connected together by a Rennsaal or water course. Other rivers, with a fuller stream from having no fell, could not find their way to the sea, and were lost by evaporation—Salt steppes as well as salt and bitter lakes, were the result, wherever the bowl or crater-formed shape of the Country, or the absence of snow and rain, presented no means of sweetening or freshening the surface. Enormous tracts of sand, or a dry clay soil, characterize the greatest portion of the former bottom of the lakes; many salt and bitter springs, some too which are sweet; water also always to be found in the hollows though rarely attainable in the higher situations, are other properties of this once watery expanse.

This extraordinary change of the surface may be attributed in part to the outbreak of the Black Sea, and in part to the phenomenon above mentioned, and generally allowed, of a gradual desiccation of the earth in those parallels where is little or no rain.

Such gradual desiccation does not seem to be a matter of doubt, even in reference to the historical period of this part of the earth; in more recent times indeed, at least according to the assertions of eye witnesses with respect to the lake Aral, it has been going on gradually increasing.

We may thus account for the progressive increase of the sandy steppes as in Africa, the desiccation of many of the rivers, the diminished mass of water in others, and generally the greater aridity of the district. The oases, which owe all their verdure to irrigation, are consequently reduced in extent, and the inhospitable intervals become greater. Around the rivers, and in the neighbourhood of the Aral, we find every where under the sand, often at very moderate depths, an extensive supply of the water, which at certain depths issues in springs, and which at times, if suitable trenches or canals are excavated, is said to form even flowing streams; but this natural consequence of the waters of the district being carried off only by evaporation, is merely local, and without doubt, the abundance in springs and sources is in other places very much diminished. Were it not for the snow of the different ranges of high mountains, particularly those of Turkestan, the large perennial rivers would still have been much less abundant than they usually are. But to return to our purpose.

Other causes of the decline of this region, intimately connected with one another, are the change in the route of trade with India, the destructive ravages of Ghengis Khan and Timur, the change of races, and Mahometanisms.

Scarcely had these countries recovered in part from the murderous and destroying campaigns of the Moguls when they were visited by the ravages of Timur—much however, might probably have returned to its previous state, if other causes, besides the progressive desiccation of the water, had not contributed to the further decline of this tract. The former industrious people of various races, as the Aramaic, old Persian, Indian, Chinese, or other less known, were gradually expelled or subdued by new hordes or Turko—Mongolian origin, less advanced in policy as well as in industry; and this has had a very great influence on the entire ruin and fallen state of Asia—Mahometanism, which was of a nobler aspect as long as the Arabs exerted an active sovereignty, assumed at a later period a decidedly destructive tendency. It completed the work of devastation by a spirit of morbid insensibility, it gave additional force to the inclination to fatalism and indifference; and it created that principle of destruction which besides over all the modern governments of Asia. If the expansive power of the mind were not so strongly expressed in all human beings, Asia would long ago have been still more of a desert than it really is.

The chief cause of the degenerate and barbarous state of central Asia, was the change which took place in the Indian trade, part of which took the direction of different Trans-Uralian points in Siberia, another part that of Saraichik, and Astrakhan, and partly that of Mangishlak; and which in earlier times had ranged between the Gulf of Balkan and Kuristan (Grusien, Georgia), on the Pontus; in process of time, the chief part of the traffic was transferred to more convenient western routes; and, with the circumnavigation of the Cape of Good Hope, the whole of the Indian trade, for the great mass of the civilized world. was carried on by sea, It was only with the adjoining continental districts that the Overland trade continued to be a collateral branch of minor importance. At a later period, since European industry has got the better of the manufactures of the East Indies, the trade of India has become of still less consequence, and is now confined to raw materials, or wares difficult to be conveyed, such as spices, dyes, Cotton, Silk &c. The remaining articles, which are of easy conveyance, are indeed in part of high value, as shawls, but they are not sufficient to lay the foundation of a very important land traffic.

Hence it seems to be an illusion of long date to expect any extraordinary or exclusive advantages for Russia from the Overland trade with India; particularly as the returns would be still more difficult than the imports; and the trade itself, should it ever be established, must be circuitous, and will turn out little more than barter. This is, however, no reason at all why our trade with Central Asia, and its southern neighbours, may not receive a very considerable extension; only we must not be certain any visionary schemes respecting it.

But to return. It was to the route of the trade with India, particularly in more recent times, across the old Urgenj to Saraichik and Astrakhan, or Mangishlak, that those places were indebted for their prosperity as entrepots. As memorials of this period, the observer is struck with the remains of buildings, towers, caravanseries, and wells surrounded by walls, which we meet with in the dreary and elevated deserts of the Turkomans, between the Aral and the Caspian. A lucrative commerce then readily repaid the exertions by which these stations were established; the nomades of the steppes were likewise less barbarous, or they enjoyed a more perfect independence, or they suspended their practice of pillage and robbery, to make larger gains by furnishing the means of commercial transport. Similar remains of buildings in other directions were mainly owing to a like origin.

Among the interesting historical questions respecting this country, is that relating to the former course of the Oxus, Sihon, or Amu-Darya, and its embouchure into the Caspian, which is said to have been purposely dammed up.

The descriptions of the ancients point to some very remarkable changes in this District. They speak of the Ochus and Oxus, which were united, and then separated both of them falling into the Caspian; of rocky cliffs and waterfalls, where are now sandy tracts &c. The eastern banks of the Caspian have certainly suffered great changes; and partly on this account, and partly from other causes, are the maps of this district so little to be depended upon. Who then can decide on the errors and ignorance of the ancients in these distant countries, or to what extent they changed the names? Whether we possess their writings in a pure state, and how far we understand them, or what have been the real changes effected by nature? There can be no doubt that the last has taken place on a large scale; but we may still be allowed to consider many of the notions of the ancients as hypothetical.

Without attempting an extensive and learned inquiry into this object which would here be out of place, we shall lay before the public the following, concise review of the latter travellers. (a)

The earlier accounts of the Sihon are confirmed by the travels of Muravier, in 1819, the maritime survey of the naval officer Bassaigin in 1826, preceded as it was by that of Ladishinsky in 1825. According to the narrative of Professor Eichwha (Eichwald?) the Gulf of Balkan receive a river which is lost in a swampy marshl (Bassaigin). According to Eichthal (Eichwald) the river is nearly twenty feet deep, and must therefore have been a different one from of Bassagin, or the Ilmen of this last named traveller was itself, during an east wind and low water, a part of the Gulf of Balkan, and he never reached the real river, Muravier, according to information given to him, indicates a double embouchure of the ancient Sihon, one in the Gulf of Balkan, the other much further to the south, near to the Naphta Island. This is confirmed by Eichwald. Muravieu on his journey from the Gulf of Balkan to Khivah, frequently meets with the dry channel of a river, which was formerly of great breadth, and which trends towards that Gulf. (Rubies and turquoises, and gold sand, are said to have been found in former times on the bank of this stream.) The ranges of highland, and especially a kind of steep seabeach, with hollows, discovered between the Aral and the Caspian, prove that the Sihon must have emptied itself either into the Gulf of Kara-Beighaz (which according to Muravieu, lines in front of the salt lake Aji-Kurjuk, though this is matter of doubt with others,) or into the Gulf of Balkan. If the maps are not wrong, the distance is in favour of the former supposition. Muravier, shows that all the earlier maps are exceedingly inaccurate, even those of the best known parts of central Asia, as well in respect of the mountains, as the river and gulfs of the whole district. The possibility of there ever having been a river called Ochus, besides the Oxus, is indeed, by those maps, rendered extremely doubtful, as the Gulf of Balkan and the supposed double embouchure of the Amu approach to within a very short distance of the limitrophe rivers of Persia, namely, the Atrek, and the Gurjé, with the boundary wall of Kizil Alan. But the southernmost of these two mouths, which is out of the limits of the Gulf, has not yet been examined, and it is just possible that the Ochus and the Oxus may determinate in these two mouths. This is indeed rendered rather doubtful, (b) by the fact, that the Sambar, an affluent of the Atrek seems to intersect the supposed basin of the Ochus, if we suppose this latter to be flowing parallel to the Oxus. But the Tajen has been taken for the Oxus; traces to this river are given by Muravier in the desert, but as if running towards the dry bed of the Oxus or Sihon. The ruins of old Urgenj are indubitable, as well as the swampy bed of the river near this extinct city. But the course of this channel of the Sihon has not yet been followed throughout. It is therefore, not yet ascertained, whether the remains of the bed of a river, which have been formed in various places, belong to the same stream; nor what part the Tajen can claim in these appearances; whether it ever really flowed into the dried up branch of the Sihion, or whether one of the mouths, of which we are speaking, as was the old opinion, belongs to the Tajen itself; whether also the stream of the Urgenj was not an affluent of the Aji Kurjuk, of which we know nothing certain, especially as Urgenj is so much to the north of these embouchures which thus took an unusual and retrograde direction towards the south. All this must be cleared up by further journeys and researches.

It is, moreover, a fact, that nine hundred years ago, Elen Haukal knew of no outlet of the Amu into the Caspian, as well as that the Cossack freebooter,

(a) Burns denies altogether the ancient outlet of the Oxus into the Caspian? t II p 138. What a loss to science that he did not visit Khivah.

(b) This doubt is raised in A. Connolly's route. The dry Nullah (bed) filled with boulders at Chin Mahamud must be examined by future travellers.

Stenko Razen, was never in this country; consequently the alarm which as the story tells, preceded him, cannot have been the occasion of damming up that river. Such a measure, indeed, in a country which so entirely depended on irrigation, would have been of such an heroic character, that it requires strong confirmation to make it credible. On the other hand, the Baron Meyendorf assures us that he was told of a dam or embankment, which is from time to time undergoing repairs, and on which many labourers are still occasionally employed.

Moreover, the possibility of the damming up of a principal stream in a country of sand, is very problematical. It seems also contrary to all analogy, that the Amu, being already so near the Aral, should make a divergence towards the Caspian. Finally, if this river had really been dammed up, the subsidence of the Aral would seem improbable. For a river, which had required, and could have furnished, a divergence of this kind, must, if it had been dammed up have greatly contributed to raise the level of the Aral; but if the absorption of the water in the lake and in the sand had been sufficient, after the loss of the diverging stream, to dispose of the water altogether, without raising the surface of the lake, such a divergent could not have existed even in anterior ages, for this possibility of absorption evidently existed at all times, and it was the readiest means to put an end to the river.

Another mode of explaining this phenomenon, occurs to us from the gradual desiccation of the country. When in very remote times the Aral stood at a much higher level, it formed only an inland lake of the Amu river; the branch of this river, which is now dried up, was properly the outflow of the lake; and covered the spot where at a latter period, the bifluence or double stream began. This outflow could only break through where traces of it are still remaining, as all the land to the North lies too high. But when, by gradual desiccation, the level of the Aral was lowered, and the affluents of the Amu were reduced, the bifluence or double stream naturally became apparent. As the Aral became more shallow, and its surface sank, the mass of water no longer required this outflow into the Sea, (Caspian). This branch then gradually dried up, the evaporation was sufficient to exhaust its waters, though at times there would be sufficient water to fill its bed. Perhaps this change was aided by earthquakes; but this could not be the only causes, for when the mass of water was sufficient, the river some where or other had again burst or worn its way out, when the old outlet had become very shallow, it was no longer sufficient for the purpose of irrigation. This dearth of the necessaries of nature —no imaginary alarm brought with it a change of residence, and old Urgenj was abandoned. A dam or embankment may then have been carried into the shallow water perhaps during the period of the swelling of the river with a view to economize the precious element for the other canals; particularly, as in all probability, a gradual absorption was here also experienced. The Asiatics are very intelligent in every thing that relates to irrigations.

The problem thus admits of a natural solution, and the brilliant idea of re-opening the old course of the Sihon, and of carrying a navigation as far as Balk, &c. &c., not unmentioned by the ancients, is, alas impracticable, a part from all political considerations; and not less so, even if the project of damming up the branch which flows into the Aral could be carried into effect. For the diminished quantity of water would either find for itself a shorter passage under the sand to the Aral lake, as there would not be sufficient force in the stream to reach the Caspian, and it would be gradually dried up. We need not make mention of the pestilential vapours, which would be produced by the sudden diminution of the flow of water into the Aral.

Another flattering notion has been entertained, independent of this renewed discharge of the waters, namely to navigate the Aral and Amu with Steamboats, to be built on the Aral itself. But even if it were ascertained that the lower course of the Amu had sufficient depth, the construction of such Steamboats would be subject to insurmountable obstacles, and would be of very little use even if successful, as Steam-boats on rapid rivers can only carry very small cargoes; and from the experiments made upon the Volga, it seems that the towing up heavily laden vessels would be attended with no good result.

We must therefore, in all probability, remain contented with the living Ship of the desert, the Camel; and the experience of thousands of years teaches us that this engine of transport is sufficient for carrying on a very considerable though limited trade.

The principal obstacles, at present existing, to the more rapid extension of the Commerce of the western portion of Central Asia are, the general aridity of the soil, the danger to be encountered in the Turkoman and Kirgiz Deserts, and the plundering disposition of the Government of Khivah. These circumstances, and the difficulties which European Christians experience under Mahometan rule, render it adviseable to leave this trade principally in the hands of the Asiatics, which will itself be a hinderance to its increase. To this we may add, the declining state of civilization generally in Central Asia, the difficulties of transport for the more weighty goods and other objections.

The following may be considered as the principal routes for the trade of the western parts of Central Asia at the present moment.

1. East of the Sea of Aral, through the Kirgiz steppe from Orenburg, Troitzk, and other places to Bokhara or to Khivah.

2. Through the Turkoman Desert (a) from Khivah by Sarahhik to Astrakhan, or direct to the Emba (b) to Mangishlak (c) to the Bight of Balkan.

The roads through the Kirgiz steppe are better supplied with water and pasture; but they are exposed to the attacks of the Kirgiz tribes, and to the more dangerous hostilities of those of Khivah. Few or no ruins are to be met with on this route; a proof that this is a modern road.

Those which lead through the elevated steppes of the Turkomans towards Astrakhan, are ill supplied with fodder for Cattle, and though by no means safe, they are more so than the Kirgiz steppe. The shore of Mangishlak is an inconvenient station for unloading goods, on account of the plundering habits of the inhabitants; but there is good anchorage even for ships at Tuk-Karaghan. None but Russian Fishermen come to the Emba, and these are frequently exposed to attacks.

The road to the Gulf of Balkan is, in respect to any trade of importance, almost entirely abandoned, though it is the shortest road to the Kur river, and there is good anchorage at Kradnovodski. Abundance of drinkable water may be procured by digging wells.

Generally it may be said, that in these Western, districts Commerce can be successfully carried on only through the means of Khivah, whilst the mode of Government of this place and its long continued hostility with Bhókhara, still oppose great obstacles to the extension of such trade to the more remote districts. These obstacles might, however, be gradually overcome by a profitable commerce, if means could be adopted to conduct it upon improved principles.

LOWER SCINDE POLITICAL AGENCY.

The Scinde Residency was constituted under Colonel Pottinger, in August 1838. Previous to that period, the political duties were conducted by that officer, resident in Cutch, as Governor General's Agent for Scinde, a Native Agent managing the local duties at the Court of Hyderabad.

Early in 1840, the office of 'Resident' was changed into that of 'Political Agent, and Major Outram assumed charge as such, in March 1840.

The chief duty of the Political Agent is to act as representative of the Governor General of India, at the court of the Ameers of Hyderabad, and with the Ameer of Meerpoor, Meer Sher Mahomed Khan, (with whom a treaty has just been concluded,) and with the neighbouring chieftains.

An article of the Treaty of 1839 provides, that the British Government shall not interfere, unless called upon, by both parties, in disputes between the Ameers, or between the Ameers and their subjects; but in every other respect the power of the Political Agent extends to the maintenance of peace within the territory of Scinde; the protection of commerce on the river Indus; and the regulation of affairs in general for upholding the dignity and supremacy of the British Government.

The Ameers of Scinde pay an annual tribute of three lacs of rupees, and Meer Sher Mahomed Khan of Meerpoor, 50,000 Company's rupees for British protection. No other revenue is derived from Scinde.

The disbursements from the treasury of the Political Agency are: 1st. For the maintenance of the troops in Lower Scinde, and their commissariat, 2nd. The expenses incurred on account of the Indus Steam Flotilla, and disbursements on account of the various fuel depôts on the banks of the Indus. 3rd. The hire of boats for the conveyance of stores, &c. on the river Indus. 4th. The expenses of the Post Office department. And, lastly, those belonging immediately to the Political Agent's office.

Besides these duties, the Political Agent regulates all movements of troops throughout Scinde, fixing on the most practicable routes, aiding commanding officers with his advice, and obtaining Mhemendars from the Ameers, in order to provide for their obtaining supplies as they pass through the country: and, as an official means of communication between the commanding officers, and the heads of town and villages. The general control, and movement of the troops permanently stationed in Lower Scinde, is also under the Political Agent,—the officer commanding at his requisition complying with every demand for troops, whilst the Political Agent assists the commanding officer to obtain carriage, commissariat supplies, and every thing Scinde produces, requisite either for the movement of troops, or their support, when stationary.

The Political Agent also regulates the movements of the Steam flotilla, receives reports from the officer commanding, and aids him in keeping up an efficient supply of fuel on the banks of the Indus.

British commercial interests are protected by the Political Agent, and for their furtherance, a Native assistant is permanently stationed at the mouths of the Indus. The Assistant Political Agent in charge at Kurachee likewise affords every countenance in his power to merchants at that port; and another agent, Lieutenant Gordon, resides at the seaport of Sonmeeanee, for the protection of trade there.

In conclusion, the Political Agent communicates with all the neighbouring political authorities, aiding, and in conjunction with them, taking the requisite measures for the advancement of British interests—political and commercial.

The Political Agency of Lower Sinde is under the Supreme Government, receiving all orders from, and communicating directly with, the Government of India. Copies of all despatches are, however, furnished to the Government at Bombay.

Major Outram, Political Agent. In Scinde and Beloochesthan.
Lieut. J. D. Leckie, Assistant Political agent at Hyderabad (on furlo').
Lieut. C. R. Whitelock, Assistant Political Agent, absent on sick certificate.
Lieut. F. Cristall, Officiating Assistant Political Agent Officiating for ditto, in charge at Kurachee.
J. W. Winchester, Surgeon to the Political Agency.

The establishment of the Political Agent consists of two assistants and a surgeon: of these one assistant is permanently attached to the Political Agent at Hyderabad, the other assistant being stationed at Kurachee, for conducting the local duties there; and as the official means of communication between the officer commanding the troops in Lower Scinde, and the authorities of the town and neighbourhood.

He also regulates the Post Office department, and, as already mentioned, affords every facility to British and Foreign traders with that seaport.

The Dâk establishment of Lower Scinde is superintended by the Surgeon to the Political Agency, who officiates as Deputy Postmaster at Hyderabad.

The following is an abstract of the monthly reports of the imports and exports at Ghorabarree, at the mouth of the Indus, from the months of September to May, during the seasons 1839, 40, and 41.

NATIVE EAST INDIA GOVERNMENTS.

CABUL.

Shah Soojah ool Moolk, has lately been placed on the throne of Cabul, by the British Arms, which still support him there, under the direction of the British Envoy and Minister.

Dost Mahomed Khan, one of the Brothers of Futteh Khan, the celebrated Visier of Mahmood, and chief of the Barickzye Clan, the most powerful in Affghanistaun had for some years ruled this country. On the base and cruel murder of Futteh Khan by Mahmood at the instigation of Prince Kamran, his Brothers revolted from their allegiance under the guidance of Azeem Khan the Governor of Cashmere and drove Mahmood and his son from Cabul. Azeem Khan in the first instance offered the vacant throne to Shah Soojah (considered the legitimate King by the British Government,) but offended by some personal slight withdrew his support, and placed in his room Eyoob a Brother of Soojo, who was content to take the trappings without the power of royalty. On Azeem Khan's death, his Brothers dissatisfied with their position, conspired against his son, Hubeeb Oollah Khan and seizing his person by threats of blowing him from a Gun, induced his mother to deliver up the residue of Azeem Khan's immense wealth. Eyoob's son was killed in these disputes and he himself alarmed by these scenes of violence fled to Lahore. Dost Mahommed the most talented of the Brothers, then took possession of the throne, and became defacto

King of Cabul. Shere Dil Khan accompanied by four Brothers carried off about half a million sterling of Azeem Khan's money and seated himself in Candahar, as an independent Chieftain. He and one of his Brothers are dead; and Candahar was until lately ruled by Cohun Dil Khan, assisted by his two surviving Brothers, Ruheem Dil and Mer Dil.

At the period of the flight of Eyoob from Cabul, Peshawar was governed by a Brother of Dost Mahommed who with another Brother were both killed in battle and were succeeded by Mahommed Khan who is a tributary of Kurruck Sing's. He is on bad terms with his brother Dost Mahommed; but out of the revenues of Peshawer supports his younger Brothers Peer and Saeed Mahommed and the families of his two predecessors.

KING OF THE SEIKHS.

His Highness, Maha Raja Kurruck Singh of the Seikhs.

His dominions comprise, the Punjab, Cashmere, Peshawur, Moultan, part of Scinde, &c.; he is the son of Runjeet Singh and Grand son of Maha Singh and about fifty-two years of age; he has one son Now Nehal Singh.

The Government of the Seikhs had been formerly divided among a number of petty independent chieftains under the Khalsa or commonwealth, "to the established rules and laws of which as fixed by Guru Govind, it was their moral religious duty to conform." The ancestors of Ranjit Singh had been in possession of but a few villages, until his father by feudatory depredations, and the conquest of Lahore, laid the foundation of the present considerable power which has now subdued almost all, the petty Seikh chiefs.

KING OF OUDE.

The family of the princes of Oude are descended from Meer Mahammed Amen of a noble family in Persia, who came to India in the reign of Behadour Shah and was received into the Imperial service, under the name of Saadut Khan. He was appointed to the Government of Oude in 1719 on the occasion of Mehamed Shah to the throne of Delhi. He had no son, and was, therefore, succeeded by his nephew and son in law. On the death of Asoph-ud dowla without any male issue, his spurious son Vizier Ally, assumed the reigns of government, but his illegitimacy being discovered, he was, after a reign of four months deposed, and Saadut Ally, the brother of Asoph ud-dowla, ascended the musnud on the 21st of January, 1798. He died in 1814 and was succeeded by his Son Ghazi-uddien Hyder, who relinquished the title of Newab, in 1819 and assumed that of King; he died in 1827 and was succeeded by his son Shah Zuman, who assumed the titles of "His Majesty Aboo Nusser, Kootab-ood-Deen Soliman Jah, Zuman Padshah, King of Oude!" This prince died in 1837 and was succeeded by his uncle, the present sovereign.

KING OF AVA.

The name of the King is Maung Tsen, but it is not considered respectful to mention it. His titles are as follows:—"His most glorious and excellent Majesty the Lord of the Tshadda," King of Elephants, Master of many White Elephants and Proprietor of Mines of Gold, Silver, Rubies, Amber and the Noble Serpentine, sovereign of the Empires of Thunaparanta and Tampadipa and other great Empires and Countries, and of all the Umbrella wearing Chiefs, the Supporter of Religion, the Sun-descended Monarch, Arbiter of Life, and great King of Righteousness, who bears the honorary name (on Pali) of "the Illustrious "in the three worlds, the King of Kings, possessor of boundless dominion and "supreme Wisdom, and great King of Righteousness."

His dominions consist of Burmah Proper, the old kingdoms of Toung-ngu and Pegu, and the Shan States and Districts of Kale, Thannghut, Khanti, Magaung, Bamo, Monhyen, Momait, Maim Loun, Taung-bain, Thainni, Kaingmha, Main Main, Main Leng-gyih, Kyain Youn-gyih, Kvaintoun, Kyain Khyaing, Thibo, Thoun-zay, Moneh, Kyain-toung, Kyain-kham, Nyaung yue, Legyo, Maukme, Mobye, Main Pain, Main Pun, Main Pan, Main Kaing, Naung-mun, Thigit, Tabet, Youk-zouk, Main Tsait, Enle, &c., all of which States and districts, however are differently named, more or less, by the Shans themselves.

The present King of Ava was born on the 23d July 1784, and succeeded his Grand-father, Col. Syme's Minderagee, on the 6th June 1819. He is therefore now (1st January 1842) 56 years old, and has reigned 21 years. He has one son, named Tsakya Men, born on the 9th February 1803, and one daughter, named Thiri ti-lauga Myat-zwa, born on the 22d November 1821. He has several brothers, Tharawadi Men, Bo-wun Men, Thibo Men, &c. But his brother-in law, the Queen's brother, named Tsalen Men, and Men-tha-gyih or great Prince, is the most influential and powerful Prince, in fact, the regent of the kingdom at present. His uncle, named Mekkhara Men, the late King's youngest son, is by far the most intelligent man in the country, and has lately been elected an Honorary Member of the Asiatic Society of Bengal. The present King of Ava has not nominated or acknowledged his son as his successor, and his death will, most probably, be followed by tumult and civil war at the capital.

Since the above was written, a revolution has occurred at Ava, and the King's brother, the Prince of Tharawadi, has usurped the throne, removing his brother and placing him under surveillance, and seizing his ministers and Officers putting several of them to death, and confining others as well as the Queen's brother, the Men-thagyih, in irons, and working them on the roads as common felons—He assumed the Sovereignty on the 9th of April 1837, with the titles of Yatana-Thainga, Koun-baung men, and Shue-Bo Bhuren, King of Yatana-Thainga, Koun baung, and Sovereign of Shue-Bo, different names for Alompra's old capital Mouttshobo, to which place he has determined upon removing the seat of Empire.—On the 10th of June 1837 he and the whole of his Court and public officers deserted the City of Ava and removed to a place named Kyoukmyaung, situate 60 miles above Ava on the right bank of the Erawadi and 14 miles due East of Mouttshobo.—Here he proposes to remain until the palace and public buildings at Mouttshobo are completed, and fit for the reception of himself and followers.

This Prince was born of the same mother as the late King, on Wednesday the 6th September 1786, and he is therefore now (1st January 1842) more than 55 years of age. By his principal Queen he has a grown up son and daughter, the former styled Taung-dweng-gyaung men, and the latter said to be highly skilled in Astrology. By inferior Queens he has numerous other children, the principal of whom are, Thait-teng gyih, now Prince of Prome and President of the Lhwot-tau, and Thait-teng-byu, now Prince of Pak,hangyih and a General. His Uncle, the Prince of Mekkhara, has also been placed in the Lhwottau or Council of State, but he is too timid to interfere much. The name of the present King is Maung Kheng.

KING OF SIAM.

His usual titles are, "The God Buddh who dwells over every head, the Lord of life and master of the Palace." His dominions consist of Siam Proper, of the Shan States of Ch'hiung Mai, Lamp-hun, Lak,hon, Meuang Nan, Meuang Fang, Lan-ch'hang, Luang P,hubang, h'hiung Sen, Ch'hiung Rai, and others, of part of the old kingdom of Cambodia, and of the Malayan States of Queda and Patani.

The present King is the same person whom Mr. Crafurd saw as Prince Krom Chait at Bangkok in the year 1822. He was the eldest son by an inferior wife of the late King, whom he succeeded on the 21st July 1824, with the general consent of the Country, and he is now about 50 years of age. His successor, it is supposed will be his brother Chao Fa. "Lord of Heaven," the eldest son of the late King by his principal Queen. The other Members of the Royal family of Siam are said to amount to nearly three thousand.

KING OF NEPAUL.

Maharaja Raj Rajendra Vikram Sah, King of Nepal, succeeded his father at the early age of two years; is now twenty six-years old; has two infant sons; is the son of Girivan Juddha Vikram Sah, the son of Prithwi Pal Sah, the successor of Run Bahadur the son of Sing Pertaub, the son of Purthi Narrain, the Oorkhali conqueror of Nepaul, who subdued it in 1768.

The death of the present Rajah's father is one of those, which Princess whose caprice is the law, have met with. Girivan Juddha Vikram Sah having caused a pagoda, like that of Juggernath, to be erected ordered similiar obedience to be paid to it. This excited dissatisfaction amongst his people; and one of his brothers took advantage of this opportunity revenging the death of another brother, who had been put to death by the eradication of his eyes, by order of the Rajah. He accordingly went to the Court, and pretending to remonstrate with him on the injustice of his late order, struck him with his sabre. He was, however, immediately killed by the Causy Shimsen, who was present, and the infant prince was placed on the Musnud. On the night of the same day, three hundred persons, on whom any suspicion fell, were, it is supposed, put to death by the Causy's order. Nepaul is tributary to China from the year 1792.

NIZAM OF HYDRABAD.

His Highness Nawab Asoph Jah Moozuffier-ul-moomalik Meer Furkondeh Ali Khan Bahadoor Futeh Jung, Nizam of Hydrabad, ascended the Musnud on the 24th of May, 1829; is the son and successor of Secundeh Jah, the eldest of the eight sons of Nizam Ali Khan, the younger brother of Salabut Jung, the uncle and successor of Mozuffier Jung, the nephew and successor of Nazier Jung, the second son of Nizam-ul-Moolk, who obtained the Soubadary of the Deccan in 1717, in the reign of Ruffee-ul-Dirjet.

Before the formation of a treaty of perpetual alliance with the English, on the 12th October, 1800, the subadary of the Deccan had suffered continual disturbances. When Asoph Jah Nizam-ul-moolk returned from Delhi, in 1740, he fought in 1741, his son Nazir Jung who had rebelled against him. Nizam-ul-moolk died in 1748 ftom which time, to the year 1763, a period of 15 years, three princes had ascended the Musnud, and were successively assassinated. Muzuffer Jung was grandson to Nizam-ul-moolk by his younger daughter's side. Nizam-ul-moolk removed his capital from Arungabad to Hydrabad.

RAJAH OF GWALIOR.

His Highnoss, Maharajah Janko Rao Scindia, Rajah of Gwalior, succeeded to the Scindia Government on the 18th June, 1827, is now twenty two years of age, was elected by Baiza Bai, the widow of Dowlet Rao Scindia; the nephew of Madhajee Scindia, the son of Ranojee Scindia.

The Family of Scindia are Sudras, of the tribe of Kumbhee, or cultivators. Ranojee was employed by Peishwa Bajerow, as the bearer of his slippers, from which situation he rose to eminence; and when Bajerow having succeeded his father, Biswanath Row, in the office of Peishwa, in May 1720; came into Malwa in 1731; Ranojee was a Mahratta chieftain of high rank. So that the Sovereign authority of the Scindia family cannot have existed more than between a hundred and one hundred and ten years. Baiza Bai was expelled in 1833 by the present Rajah.

RAJAH OF BHURTPORE.

His Highness, Maharajah Balwont Singh, Rajah of Bhurtpore succeeded his father in August, 1824; was displaced by one of his cousins, Durjun Sal, in March, 1825, but reinstated by the British Government, on the 19th of January, 1826; is yet a minor in age; the son of Buldeb Singh, the second brother of Ranadhar Singh, the eldest of the four sons of Runjeet Singh, the son of Kairy Singh, the brother of Ruttun Singh, the brother of Jowahur Singh, the son of Soorai Mull, the founder of the principality, killed in 1763.

The settlements of the Jauts, (of which tribe the Rajah of Bhurtpore is,) in the Dooab of the Ganges and Jumna, is dated in 1700, when they migrated from the banks of the Indus. During Aurengzebe's last march towards the Deccan, Churaman, the Jaut, pillaged the baggage of the Army, and with part of the spoil erected the fortress of Bhurtpore. The present prince, like many of his predecessors, is not legitimately decsended being the son of a female slave of the name of Saheb Romar. When a Rajah has no son, his purchases females, and the boy begotten on any of them, is adopted by the Rajah and the Paut Ranee.

RAJAH OF KOTAH.

His Highness Maharaja Bishen Singh, Rajah of Kotah. The son of Kishour Rao, the son of Rao Omid Singh.

RAJAH OF INDOOR.

His Highness Maharajah Hurry Rao Holkar, the cousin and successor of Moulhar Rao the third, the adopted son and successor of Jeswont Rao Holkar the brother of Casi Rao, the eldest of the four sons of Tukajee Holkar, a chief who was elected to the Government of the Holkar state by Ahillia Bai, on the death of her son Mallee Row.

The Holkar family are of the Dhoongur or shepherd tribe. The derivation of, the name Holkar, or, more properly, Hulkur, is from Hull a village, and Kur, an inhabitant. Moulhar Rao, I, was the first prince of the Holkar family; and the time when he obtained any local authority was in 1728; the district of Indore was assigned to him in 1733. He had only one son, Kundi Row, who died in 1754, many years previous to his father's death, and left one only son Mallee Row. He also died after a reign of nine months after the death of Moulhar Row. The original family being thus extinct, Ahillya Bai elected Tukajee Holkar to the principality. He had four sons, Casi Row and Moulhar Row by his wife, and Jeswont Row and Etojee by his mistress.

RAJAH OF JOYNAGAR OR JYEPOOR.

His Highness, the infant son of Maharaja Sewai Singh, Rajah of Joynagar, or Jyepoor, who is the son of Jagat Singh, the son of Pratap Singh, the son of Madho Singh, the son of Ram Singh, the son of Sewai Jysinh, who lived in the time of Mehamed Shah. The young prince is about three years of age and Rawul Bajri Saul is the regent during his minority, appointed by the British government.

RAJAH OF JOUDHPOOR OR MARWAR.

His Highness, Maharaja Maun Singh, Rajah of Joudhpoor or Marwar is a distant relation of Bhim Singh.

The earliest Rajah of this country on record was Maharaja Jeswont Singh, who having died near Cabul, in 1581, Aurungzebe, one of whose best generals the Maharaja was, gave orderrs forcibly to convert his children. The family were thus compelled to take refuge in the hills and woods, and on the death of Aurungzebe, regained their former possession. Ajit Singh, the grandson of Jeswon Singh, having rebelled. The Rajah of Joudhpoor is of the tribe of Rhattort Rajpoots.

RAJAH OF BOGHELKUND.

His Highness Maharaja Biswanath Singh, Rajah of Boghelkund. The principality of Boghelkund is perhaps the most ancient Hindu dynasty now existing in India.

RAJAH OF BHOONDEE.

His Highness Rao Rajah of Bhoondee. The Bhoondee Rajah is of the Hara tribe. "During the retreat of Colonel Monson, in 1804, the Bhoondee Rajah greatly assisted him in his distress; and his conduct has been uniformly friendly to the English; yet, at the peace of 1805, he was abandoned by the Government to the vengeance of the Mahratta." Hamilton, page 173.

RAJAH OF OUDEYPORE.

His Highnees, Raj Rana Jawan Singh, the son of Rana Bhim Singh, Rajah of Oudeypore.

The family of the princes of Oudeypore, belong to the Sesodya tribe or Rajpoots, which is considered the most noble of all the Rajpoot tribes. The family is also regarded highly by the Mohamedans, in consequence of a tradition, that he is descended, in the female line, from the celebrated Noushirvan, who was King of Persia at the birth of Mohamed, and thus to have in that line a common origin with the descendents of Hossein, the son of Ali.

RAJAH OF BIKANERE.

His Highness, Maharaj Ratten Singh, Rajah of Bikanere, the son of Surat Singh.

The country of Bikanere is governed by the Rhattore Rajpoots, but the cultivators are mostly Jauts.

PORTUGUESE POSSESSIONS IN INDIA.

I. The Government of Goa which consists of the Goa islands (annexed to the Portuguese Crown in 1510); of the peninsular of Salsette and Bardez; of the five provinces of Zambaulim commonly called Panchmally viz. Astragar, Embarbaxem, Baly, Chondrovaddy and Cacora,; and also Ponda and Caracona (annexed in June 1763); of Bicholim and Satary in 1781 and finally of Pernem in 1788.

The Goa islands contain about 40,000 inhabitants, chief town, Pangim; Salsette, 80,000 inhabitants, chief town, Margoa; Bardez about 90,000 inhabitants, chief town, Mabuga, the whole population directly dependant on this Government amount to about 317,000; of these two thirds are Christians.*

Governor General (ad interim) Joze Joaquim Lopez de Lima.

Civil and Military Secretary—Claudio Lagrange Monteiro de Barbuda.

The Governor who has a Council to aid him, is at the head of the departments of Finance, Army, and Navy.

There are six Military Commanders in the provinces.

The troops are composed of 3,742 regulars with 477 irregular sepoys.

II. Damao (1559) population 32,000; is remarkable as a place for shipbuilding, Governor, MAJOR Manoel Correa da Silva Araujo.

III. Diu (1535) population 9,000. Governor, COL. Rodrigo Luciano d'Abreu e Lima.

IV. Macao (a Chinese port and city in which the Portuguese have been allowed to settle since 1586) Population about 5,000, Governor, COLONEL Adriao Accacio, da Silveira Pinto.

V. Timor, (this island was acquired in the 16th century) contains about 500,000 inhabitants, of whom a fifth are Christains. Chief town Dilli, Governor LIEUT. COL. Frederico Leao Cabreira. One troop of 150 Regulars, and 15,000 Irregulars.

* The Portuguese had established about the middle of the 16th century by the authority of the Pope, an Archiepiscopal See in Goa, in which the rights of Primacy over all India were declared vested; but that hierarchy having become extinct, the Propaganda College of Rome has sent Missionary Bishops, who hold authority over a great part of the Native Christians. The most disgraceful disputes are maintained on the part of some of the subordinate Ecclesiastics, who refuse obedience to those Bishops.

The British Government would act wisely in making effective arrangement for taking the power out of the hands of both parties, and having it confided to Bishops in whom as British subjects full confidence could be reposed.

NOTES ON THE LAW OF STORMS,

AS APPLYING TO THE INDIAN AND CHINESE SEAS.

ARRANGED FOR THIS WORK, BY H. PIDDINGTON.

The Theory commonly called 'THE LAW OF STORMS' is new to many persons, but its application and uses, even in the present imperfect state of our knowledge, are so important and so extensive, that both with the view of making the Gazetteer as extensively useful as possible and also with that of exciting the attention of the intelligent Seaman, the editor has thought it advantageous to introduce a brief notice of it.

This Theory offers a kind of knowledge which in most cases will afford the Seaman, FIRST, the best chance of avoiding the most violent and dangerous part of a hurricane (a) which is always near the centre of it, and NEXT, the safest way of managing his vessel if he is involved in one.

This is offered to him by the LAW OF STORMS, of which the proofs now rest upon the examination of perhaps five hundred or a thousand logs by Mr. Redfield in America, Col. Reid in England, myself in Calcutta and many other observers, whose researches have not been published. Up to the present time not only has no contradiction of it been discovered, but every recurring storm in various parts of the world when closely watched, gives new proof of its correctness. We may then for the present set it down as what it is called, the Law of Storms, or the rules by which the motions of storms are regulated. We shall then briefly explain :

I. What is the Law of Storms, and what part of it is applicable to the Indian and Chinese seas.

II. What is known of the approach of these tempests.

III. What are the best precautions to avoid the effects of them.

The Law of Storms and what part of it has been found applicable in India.

Clearly to comprehend this theory of gales and hurricanes, we must begin with the words, which are not to be used so much with relation to the force of the wind in a storm as to its motion.

A storm, or tempest, may mean either a gale or hurricane, but it always means a storm of wind ; and not, as frequently used by landsmen, one of thunder and lighting only, unless so expressed.

A gale means a storm of wind, the direction of which is tolerably steady for a long time ; sometimes not only for days but for weeks.

A hurricane means a turning storm of wind blowing with great violence, and shifting more or less suddenly, so as to blow half or entirely round the compass in a few hours.

With this explanation of our words we shall better understand the things treated of.

The present state of our knowledge shows, that, for the West Indies, Bay of Bengal, China sea, and the Southern Indian Ocean, the wind in a hurricane has two motions, the one a turning or veering round upon a centre, and the other a straight or curved motion forwards, so that it is like a great whirlwind both turning round and as it were rolling forward at the same time. It appears also, that it turns, when it occurs on the north side of the Equator, from the east, or the right hand, by the north, towards the west, or contrary to the hands of a watch ; and in the Southern Hemisphere, that its motion is the other way, or with the hands of a watch.

This rule has been found to hold good for six storms in the Bay of Bengal, at different times of the year, which have been carefully investigated ; and that the wind was really blowing in great circles in a direction as described, i. e. against that of the hands of a watch. We assume then, for the present, that the hurricanes in the Bay of Bengal always follow this law.(b)

(a) All the great tropical and many of the extra-tropical storms are now already ascertained to be hurricanes : i. e. great turning tempests moving forwards. They vary only in size and in the courses they take, but not in the way in which they turn as will be afterwards shewn.

(b) Vide memoirs published in the Journal of the Asiatic Society 1839-40-41

If we describe on a piece of paper a few concentric circles like those in the diagram No. II. and, marking a little compass with its fleur-de-lis to the north in the middle, make four arrows horizontally and vertically at the top, bottom, and two sides, writing against them as in the diagram, east-wind, north-wind, west-wind, and south-wind, and then cut this out with scissors, we shall have what is called a hurricane circle, or hurricane card.

The use of this is to lay it down upon any part of a chart. We may also cut out a little spindle shaped piece to represent our ship, and place this in that quarter of the card at which the wind is found.

The card may be supposed to represent a circle of fifty or of five hundred miles in diameter, as we please, and one which would fill up the North part of the Bay of Bengal would shew the wind South on the coast of Arracan, East on the Sand Heads, North on the coast of Orissa, and West across the middle of the Bay.

We have now to judge of three important points. What is the track of the hurricane, if it is to be one? In what direction does it bear from us now? How far are we from its centre?

We do not yet know what is the usual track of all the Indian hurricanes. We know from Col. Reid's and Mr. Redfield's researches, that those of the West Indies begin about the Leeward Islands, travel to the W. N. W., and then round the shores of the Gulf of Mexico, and, following the Gulf stream, are lost in the Atlantic, between the Bermudas and Halifax, and they have investigated a sufficient number to show, that this may be taken as a general rule. Those also of the Mauritius seem to come from the eastward. All we yet know positively is the course of these hurricanes, and of eight or ten more storms for the Bay of Bengal, with what afterwards will appear to be known in the China sea, and hence the great necessity of further observation and research. We may, however, in the absence of better knowledge, take it as a highly probable supposition, that the hurricanes in the Bay of Bengal and China sea always travel from the eastward to the westward; or from some point between N. N. E. and S. S. E. to some other between S. S. W. and N. N. W. and it may be quite safe to calculate upon their blowing in a circle from right to left by the north, or outside.

We must then assume this point, and supposing we have the wind at E. S. E. we are then somewhere upon the line leading from the N. N. E. point of the hurricane circle, to its centre which therefore bears about S. S. W. from us.

If the wind now veers to S. E. and S. S. E. we can easily understand that the centre has passed somewhere to the southward of us, and that we are therefore upon the right hand side of its track.

But if the wind had begun at north-and veered to the N. W. and west we can also understand that the hurricane is passing somewhere to the northward and eastward of us, and that we are upon the left hand side of its path. At what distance we are from the centre can only be judged of by the quickness with which the wind veers round, and the fall of the barometer; and it will be clear, that if a ship stood exactly still, with the hurricane coming direct towards her, she might have the wind always in one direction till the centre passed her, when she would probably have a shift exactly in the opposite direction. (a)

The seaman will now understand how it is, that he may be running into a hurricane or scudding in company with one, which no one of course desires to do; and how important it is, that a knowledge of their usual paths should be obtained; for they seem to have in all countries tracks which we may call their usual paths.

As an example how a vessel may run into a hurricane, let us suppose on the Diagram No. III. a vessel at the point A, bound to the southward with a smart gale at N. E. she will be steering about south, and if the storm, like a huge water-spout or whirlwind of 3 or 400 miles in diameter, is travelling about west or W. N. W., it is clear that the ship may run into the very middle of it if she did not know what this new theory teaches—for till now, though a falling barometer would teach the seaman that he was to expect a tempest, he was quite ignorant, or had only some general rules derived from very partial experience, to inform him where it was beginning, how it would blow, and how he could escape it. We shall know this exactly, as I have said before, when we know the usual paths of our Indian hurricanes.

(a) Col. Reid, p. 8.

At present, by this theory of Storms, with the wind at E. N. E. or N. E. hauling to the eastward, with the barometer falling, and other indications of a gale, he would be pretty certain that a hurricane was passing along somewhere to the southward or south-eastward of him and wait to let it pass. If he was on the opposite side of the circle with the same signs, but with a gale commencing, say at N. W. and hauling to the westward, he would then adopt quite a different plan, because he would know, that in all probability the hurricane was travelling along to the westward, with its centre somewhere to the north-eastward of his situation. And as will subsequently be seen, he would thus get out of the way of the dangerous centre of it at all events. It may easily be seen, by moving the hurricane card on a chart, and allowing for the ship's run in the meantime, how a vessel will have the wind, as the body of the hurricane travels, and that what it shows quite agrees with what Horsburgh says of the storms in the China Seas, and what we have learnt of those of the Bay of Bengal.

Having thus a clear notion of what this theory of storms is, let us see how much of it is applicable to the seas to the eastward of the Cape, and for this, the data that we have are some that I have collected for the Bay of Bengal.

With respect to the China seas we find from Mr. Redfield's recent pamphlet, and Col. Reid's work, in which the typhoon hurricane which capsized H. M. ship Raleigh is carefully analysed, from the Logs of several other vessels quoted by Mr. Reidfield, from several, either published by myself in a pamphlet on this subject, printed by order of Government for the use of the expedition to China, or in my possession for future publication, that throughout the China seas—and by a storm which occurred to the Russian navigator, Kruse-stern, as far north as latitude 32° N off the South Coast of Japan,—that the same law holds good as for the West Indies, Northern Atlantic Ocean, and Bay of Bengal as far as relates to the turning of the storms; which are invariably great circular whirlwinds, of inconceivable fury and danger near their centres, turning in a direction against the hands of a watch, and travelling onwards at a rapid rate. We do not yet know what are the exact tracks, but, like those of the Bay of Bengal, they seem hitherto to come from somewhere between S. S. E. and N. N. E. (generally to the southward of east), and to travel to the west and north west. This will be found to agree also with what Horsburgh says of the storms coming out of the gulf of Tonkin (a) as well as of those on the south coast of China.

With reference to the Isle of France hurricanes, Colonel Reid has fully demonstrated, that they are also turning gales (hurricanes) but turning in a direction with the hands of a watch. Subsequent notices of storms which I possess, also quite confirm this. Of their tracks we know less than of those in the West Indies or here, but the seaman cannot be at a loss, if he makes a hurricane circle for the southern, and one for the northern hemisphere; he has only to use it as will be shown him, by the diagram annexed to this paper, at the approach of a storm, and he will have thereby the best existing means of knowing how to act, so as to place himself at least in comparative safety.

II.—What is known of the Approach of these Tempests in the Eastern Seas.

There is so little known with any degree of certainty of the approach of these storms, that the only safe rule may at once be said to be a close attention to the Barometer and Simpiesometer, which no ship should be without; for the man who goes to sea without them wantonly risks, not only the property of his employers and the lives of his crew, but moreover his own reputation, which must always suffer in some degree by loss and damage; if it be only to the extent of being thought an 'unluckly' commander.

Off the Sand Heads the signs of a hurricane seem to be mostly light airs from N. E. to S. E. with very hazy, or clear, hot weather for a day or two preceding the storm, a heavy swell, close sultry weather, and a strong set to the southward, and also where it passes directly over the Sand Heads.

We do not know whether this is the case on the southern half of the circle, but I am inclined to think that it is not so, and that fresh westerly breezes, with at least hazy, if not dark gloomy weather will be experienced.(b) In all cases, however, there is a regular fall of the barometer when at distances of 150 and 200 miles from the centre of the storms, so that in truth the barometer well looked after is by far the safest sign. Mr. Redfield says : ' The barometer sinks under the first half of the storm in every part of its track, except perhaps in extreme northern margin, and thus affords the earliest and nearest indication of the approaching tempest. The barometer again rises during the passage of the last portion of the gale.'

(a) A storm coming out of the Gulf of Tonkin to a ship cressing from the coast of Cochin China to Hainam, is the southern half of a great whirlwind, travelling along the south coast of China as will be seen by placing the Hurricane card on the chart.

(b) As it is not my intention to enter here into any details I do not state at length my reasons for this opinion though founded mainly on facts. I must refer those who wish to investigate this subject to Part II of my first Memoir—Jour. As. Soc. 1839.

III.—What precaution may be taken to avoid the effects of them.

The first hurricane which I have investigated as to its rate of travelling in these seas, is that of June, 1839 in the Bay of Bengal, which travelled from about 3 to 4 miles per hour, but this slow rate is probably owing to local circumstances. The hurricane of Coringa in Nov., 1839, travelled from the Andamans to the Coromandel coast at the rate of 5½ miles an hour. The hurricane of 29th April, to 1st May, 1840, which is traced (Jour. As. Soc. vol. 9, 1840 No. 106.) from the Andaman Islands, near to which it dismasted two vessels belonging to the China expedition, to Pooree, (Juggurnath) in Cuttack, and perhaps to Delhi, travelled at an average rate of from 8½ to 9 miles per hour ; but upon one part of its course, when it was traversing the middle of the Bay, it made, by unquestionable evidence, 350 miles in 24 hours, or 14½ miles in an hour also, that so there is now good grounds for inferring that, where a hurricane passes over high lands, or approaches a coast its rate of travelling is diminished. Colonel Reid and Mr. Redfield give from 10 to 30 miles per hour, as the rates at which the centres of their different hurricanes have moved onward. The seaman should therefore take at least 12 miles per hour, as the rates at which the centres of their different hurricanes have moved onward. The seaman should therefore take at least 12 miles per hour as the lowest rate of the motion of the storms, and not forget that it may be 20 : Mr. Redfield says, 17 miles per hour for the Raleigh's storm in the China Seas.

The question of scudding or heaving to must, it is evident, depend upon the Commander's judgment as to the position in which he is, his sea-room and the like, but the tack on which he ought to heave to is so clearly indicated by Colonel Reid's directions that I cannot do better than extract them ; he says, p. 425.

' Rules for laying Ships to in Hurricanes.—That tack on which a ship should be laid to in a hurricane has hitherto been a problem to be solved ; and in one which Seamen have long considered important to have explained.

' In these tempests, when a vessel is lying to and the wind veers by the ship's head, she is in danger of getting stern way (a) even when no sail is set ; for in a hurricane, the wind's force upon the ship's masts and yards alone will produce this effect, should the wind veer ahead, and it is supposed that vessels have often foundered from this cause.

' When the wind veers aft as it is called, or by the stern, this danger is avoided, and a ship then comes up to the wind instead of having to break of from it.

' If great storms obey fixed laws, and the explanation given of them in this work be the true one, then the rule for laying a ship to follows like the corollary to a problem already solved. In order to define the two sides of a storm, that side will be called the right hand semicircle, which is on the right of the ship's course, as we look in the direction in which it is moving, just as we speak of the right bank of a river. The rule for laying a ship to will be, when in the right hand semicircle, to heave to on the starboard tack, and when in the left-hand semicircle, on the larboard tack in both hemispheres.'

The Diagram No. 1 is copied from Col. Reid's book as well as most of the paragraphs which follows. It represents one of the West India hurricanes which being in Northern latitudee, will do for those in the Bay of Bengal or China Seas. This storm is supposed to be moving from the S. S. E. to the N. N. W.(b)

(a) From getting stern-way.—This taking aback in a tempest we all know to be most dangerous, not only on account of the getting stern way, here mentioned ; being pooped, dismasted, and the like ; but from another danger, which is not sufficiently adverted to, I think ; and this is, that a vessel, may, in one of the terrific gusts which accompany these sudden shifts of wind, be thrown on her broadside in the trough of the sea, with her deck towards the sea ! In such a case she is in the position of a vessel which has fallen over to seaward on a reef ; and there is every chance that her hatches would be beaten in ; which would swamp her. Hatches are not usually made strong enough.

(b) In the first edition of Col. Reid's work before me there is an error of the press of some consequence, for this is said to be a storm moving to the E. N. E.

in the direction of the great arrow drawn across it. The commander of a ship can ascertain what part of a circular storm he is falling into by observing how the wind begins to veer. Thus in the figure the ship which falls into the right hand semicircle would receive the wind at first about E. by N. but it would soon veer to East as the storm passed onwards and supposing her lying too. The ship which falls into the left hand half of the storm would receive the wind at first at N. E. but with this latter ship instead of veering towards East it would veer towards North.

It will be seen now, with reference to what has been said above, that in this figure all the black ships are on the proper tacks, and the white ships are on the wrong ones.

Explanation and uses of the Diagrams.

The Diagram No. 1, is that referred to in the extract from Colonel Reid's work just quoted: No. 2, is the example of a hurricane card. One resembling this should be cut out of stiff paper, and placed on the chart, so that the quarter of it where the wind is marked in the same direction as that felt at the time of using it, would cover the ship's place; which will show whereabout the centre of the hurricane lies, and how the wind may be expected to veer.

As an example; suppose that, with a falling barometer and other signs, the wind is at N. West at noon, when you have just worked up your log, and marked off your place on the chart.

Place the hurricane circle on the chart, so that the S. W., quarter of it will be over the ship's place, you see that you have now the wind at N. W., and that the centre of the gale is bearing N. E., from you.

Holding your finger over the ship's place, slide the hurricane circle beneath it on the chart 60 miles to the westward. This will shew you that if the body of the hurricane is travelling west 10 miles per hour, and you were hove too, in six hour's time you would have the wind about West, or W. N. W., but much more violent, because the centre would be passing nearer to you.

But you may perhaps be steering N. E. going 8 or 9 knots? In that case you see you would run directly towards the centre of the hurricane.

Or you might be steering East? in which case as before you would be passing near the centre, and even (if its course was to the E. S. E.) close to it, all of which is in fact running into danger.

By a very few examples of this kind at a leisure hour and taking a storm from and old log as an example, it will not be difficult for any person to become well acquainted with the Theory of Storms, and to form a pretty accurate judgment of what may be best to be done on the approach of one; always keeping in mind that the hurricane circle represents the body of the storm, and that both it and the ship are always in motion, and these motions should be allowed for just as you would allow for those of an enemy if chasing or being chased.

Another use of the hurricane circle is to enable us to judge upon what track the storm itself is moving, as well as its bearing from us. If it be supposed that the hurricane is travelling from the S. E., to the N. W., it will be seen that, supposing the ship in any part of the circle, this will give a different change of the wind to what would occur if it were travelling, say from E. N. E. to the W. S. W. An allowance being made for the ship's track between any two changes of wind, it will be seen that the line between the two points occupied by the centre of the circle will lie in a direction which is nearly that of the storm.

This may also be done by projection as in Diagram No. 3. To do this draw a small line through the ship's place at A. in the direction of the wind which we will call N. E., and another from the same point perpendicular to it or S. E., which represents the bearing of the centre of the storm from you at that time. We can only guess at the distance, which we do by estimating it from the violence of the wind and the rapidity of its changes. I should say, that for a strong gale, which would allow a merchant ship to carry her close reefed topsails and foresail we might allow 200 miles. For a hard gale, in which the foresail could scarcely be borne, 150 or 100 miles, and for a very severe gale a still shorter distance. The veering of the wind and the increase of its force are of course more rapid the nearer you are to the centre, and some storms are also more violent than others.

Let us then put down 150 miles on this S. E., line or from A. to B., for our present distance from the centre of the tempest, and in six hours afterwards let us suppose the ship to have made 54 miles on a South course, bringing her to C. and that the wind is increasing fast, but is still at N. E., with the barometer falling and every other appearance of bad weather.(a)

Mark off this distance on a South line, and as the wind is still at N. E., draw a S. E. one as before, which points again towards the centre. We have to consider now that we are probably nearer to it than before, for we know that it also, in these six hours, has been travelling to the westward between 8 and 16 miles at the least. Taking 12 miles an hour, or 72 miles in the compasses, we find that this distance from B. will strike upon the S. E. line (which is the perpendicular to the wind's course) at D, which we may thus take to be the new centre. This, it will be seen, gives the storm a W. N. W. course which is a likely one, and places the ship now at only 58 miles from its centre. It is clear therefore that we are thus running in upon it, and though our distances are mere guesses, they are, for the Bay of Bengal and the China seas, very strong probabilities, because of the continued fall of the barometer and the mass of evidence which, as we have seen, exists to prove that almost all these storms are turning gales.

I have placed on the southern half of the Diagram a case wherein another ship in the same tempest, at the same time, but at a distance of 220 miles from the first one, may have the wind at N. W. first, and steering N. E. 54 miles bring the wind to west, because the centre of the hurricane, travelling as we suppose, bears then about 82 miles from her. From evidence in my possession I have strong reasons to believe that the unfortunate ship Golconda, with 300 Madras troops on board, must have run from the south side of a hurricane, into its centre in a hurricane in the China seas, such as I have supposed this vessel to do.

With these example no careful Seaman can, I hope, be at a loss to form a nearly correct judgment of his position, and of that of the dangerous centre of the hurricane which it is so important to avoid.(b)

I have endeavoured in the foregoing pages to furnish the seamen with a brief compendium of what is known up to the present day on this most important subject, with relation to the Indian and Chinese seas, and with the most intelligible method of turning that knowledge to its best account.

I beg to suggest to the Commanders of H. M's and Merchant ships, the very great importance to the cause of science, of accurate registry of the Barometer and Simpiesometer; of the exact direction of the wind at least very two hours; and of the times of any remarkable changes, the state of the sky, and all other phenomena whatsoever at the approach, of and during, a storm, or when they may suppose a storm not to be far off from them. We have every much yet to learn on this most interesting branch of science, and it will only be by the diligent collection of facts, and their patient analysis, that we shall be enabled to place our knowledge upon a sound basis. What is already known is of the highest utility, and it is probably but a prelude to what we may yet arrive at. The knowledge collected in the West Indies is the foundation of this which we are turning to account in the East, and we may fairly expect that many new facts are to be gleaned in this quarter of the globe. I shall be happy, in the absence of better qualified persons, to undertake the analysis of any memoranda which may be forward to me touching this subject, and all letters relating to it superscribed 'storm report,' and addressed under cover to the Secretary to the Government of India, General Department, will reach me free of postage. For some persons it may be necessary to add that I have no pecuniary interests of any kind whatsoever in this research, and that I shall be most careful to publish every thing of interest which I can collect relating to it.

(a) In the hurricanes of the Bay of Bengal it seems not an uncommon circumstance, that in a few hours after their commencement there is a lull for an hour or two, or more: after which it comes on to blow harder than before from the same quarter. I observe that, this is also noted in the hurricanes off the Isle of France and in the West Indies. This treacherous peculiarity might, without attention to the barometer deceive those unaccustomed to our tempests. I have not met with an instances of these lulls occurring more than once at the commencement of a storm. I do not allude here to the lull or calm which precede the shift of wind, which occurs when the centre of a storm is passing over a ship or place, but to one which occurs at the beginning of it.

(b) As the object of this essay is to show the Seaman the truth and the value—I may add the beauty of this theory, I may be excused for adverting here to a remarkable proof of it. I had written my third memoir, drawn, and had the chart to it lithographed, and a part was even printed, when I obtained a sight of the protest of the ship Marion bound to China with troops, which lost her mizen mast and was otherwise damaged in the storm of April and May. I had had but a single vessel's log from which to lay down the centre of the storm on that day, the 28th April, and yet, when the Marion's position was marked, every fact as to the veering of the wind was found as exactly to coincide as if it had been invented for an example of the theory.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT.

The Hon'ble the Governor in Council is pleased to publish for general information, the following Notification of the Government of India, under date the 17th of January last.

No. 3.

General Department, Fort William, the 17th January 1838.

The Government of India having received from the Hon'ble the Court of Directors copy of a letter addressed by the Servants to the Post Master General in England, to the Hon'ble Court, dated 11th September 1837, from which it appears that in Act (I Victoria, cap. 76) had been passed by the British Parliament for regulating the Postage to be levied in letters transmitted between the United Kingdom and India, by Her Majesty's Mediterranean Packets, the President in Council deems it necessary to publish for general information, the rates of Postage established thereby in supercession of those establishments by clause XXXIV per Rules for the management of the Post Office Department, passed by the Right Hon'ble the Governor General of India in Council of the 30th August 1837.

The following is the order contained in the letter above referred to, to which the Post Master General and Post Masters in the different Presidencies of India, are hereby directed to give attention.

The Act 1st Victoria, Cap 76, having authorized a Postage of 1st. Single 2s. double, 3s. treble, and 4s. for an ounce weight, and for every quarter of an ounce beyond that weight, the Postage of a single letter upon all Letters passing between any Port in the Red Sea, or Persian Gulph, and the East Indies, which are not conveyed to or from the United Kingdom by Her Majesty's Mediterranean Packets, I am commanded by the Post Master General to request you will move the Court of Directors, to give instructions to their Post Masters in India, to demand this rate upon all Letters, which shall not be enclosed in the Mails dispatched from Falmouth for the East Indies, which will be made up in boxes market East India Mail from the United Kingdom by Her Majesty's Mediterranean Packets, with the exception of Letters put into the Post Offices of the United Kingdom, which shall be addressed to India, via Marseilles, and upon which as the postage alluded to, would have already been paid in this country, no additional rate should be demanded ; Letters of this description can be easily distinguished from their having that Post mark of the Town in the United Kingdom, at which they were posted in addition to the address of via Marseilles, With the exception of these two classes, namely, Letters contained in the Mail boxes and those addressed via Marseilles, all letters conveyed to the East Indies by Packet, will be liable to the charges in question, which can only be collected by the Company's Post Masters from the persons to whom they are addressed in India.

With respect to the return correspondence, this rate must not be taken in India on either of the two classes of Letters before mentioned, whether they shall be simply addressed to the United Kingdom, or passing through it to countries beyond, or whether directed to it via Marseilles, as the Postage can be collected in this country. On all other Letters however the rate must be demanded at the time the Letter is posted in India as the only means of securing the charge, the Post office having no method of collecting it in the countries to which the letters will be addressed.

Under the above orders, Inland Postage only will be leviable in India on Letters arriving from, or received for transmission to the United Kingdom via any Port in the Red Sea or Persian Gulph. If letters arrive from, or are addressed to any other place than the United Kingdom, so that the Postage will not be leviable therein, the following rates will be levied in India, as the place of delivery or of receipt for transmission.

Letters or sealed Packets of any description.
Single.	Double.	Treble.
Not exceeding 1 Tola weight.	Not exceeding 1½ Tola weight.	Not exceeding 2½ Tolas weight.
8 Annas.	1 Rupee	1 Rupee 8 Annas	Single postage being added for each additional ½ Tola weight.

Note.—8 Annas has been assumed as equal to 1 shilling. A scale according to weight has been substituted for the rule regarding single and double Letters for uniformity with the system generally in force in India, and because the Post Masters have not the means of discriminating between single and double sheets, 3 Tolas also have been assumed as equivalent to an Ounce.

No ship Postage under schedule B. Act No. XVII, 1837, will be leviable in India on letters transmitted in the manner provided for in these rules, notwithstanding that they may have been conveyed or may be forwarded between India and the Red Sea or Persian Gulph in sailing vessels.

The orders received hitherto containing no provision in respect to Newspapers, Pamphlets or other unsealed packets of printed papers transmitted via the Red Sea, or the Persian Gulph, these will be subjected in India to no charge beyond that of Inland postage duty.

By order of the Hon'ble the President in Council.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT.

NOTIFICATION.

The Hon'ble the Governor in Council is pleased to publish for general information, the following extract paras. 1st and 2d of a letter from the Hon'ble Court No. 33 of the 19th Decr. last.

Extract of a letter from the Hon'ble the Court of Directors, in the Public Department.—No. 33, of the 19th Decr. 1838.

Para. 1st. Complaints have been made in this country of the expence occasioned by the practice of the indiscriminate transmission of letters and packages of the Overland Mails. This is a practice which independent of the private inconvenience which it occasions, has a tendency to impede the public service by overloading the dâks, and we desire that in future no letters, or packages be forwarded Overland, unless specially superscribed to be sent by that mode of conveyance.

2d. In adopting the regulation now suggested, it will be proper, in order to avert disappointment, to give publicity to the change of practice.

The Hon'ble the Governor in Council is pleased to publish for general information the following copy of the Regulation at the Post Office in England, under which the receipt of Letters by the Overland Mail for the Hon'ble Company is restricted.

Under the authority of the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, the Chairman, Deputy Chairman, Secretary, and Assistant Secretary to the East India Company, have the personal privilege of receiving letters free of postage from the East Indies by Packet, via the Mediterranean, but the privilege does not extend to any other Director or officer of the Company.

By order of the Hon'ble the Governor in Council.

NOTICE.

Although opposed in the XXIII clause of the rules for the management of the Post Office Department, appended to the Post Office Act, the system of giving credit to parties at the Post Office and interchanging accounts at the end of the month was tried as an experimental measure, but as it has been productive of much inconvenience and great irregularity it is abolished, and the former plan reverted to of requiring immediate payment of postage from this date.

As there still continues to be considerable misapprehension as to the right of parties addressing me as Post Master General, or the Deputy Post Master General in letters either on service or Bearing, on subjects relating to their private affairs, it is hereby notified to all concerned, that such Letters will in future be returned to the senders "Bearing" this practice being at variance with the LIX clause of the Rules for the management of the Post Office, appended to the Post Office Act, which requires, that all such letters be Post paid.

RULES FOR THE POSTING OF PALKEE BEARERS.

NOTIFICATION.

The following Rules approved of by Government respecting the Posting of Palkee Bearers are published for the information of the Public, and for the guidance of the several Post Masters under this Presidency :

I. Travellers may be furnished with Dawk Bearers on application at the different Post Offices, where they will obtain all the requisite information as to the estimated distances between known stations, to which only Dawk bearers can be laid by any Post Master.

II. A set of Dawk Bearers comprises twelve, and one Mussalchee for which is charged, payable in advance, at the rate of eight annas per Mile, but as in many instances, owing to the delay caused by Travellers remaining longer on the road than the stipulated time, this sum is found unequal to the expense, a further sum of four annas per Mile is required to be paid as a deposit to cover any eventual expense or demurrage caused by delay on the part of the Traveller.—Should none occur, the full amount of the sum deposited is refunded, upon the traveller furnishing a certificate from the Deputy Post Master at the place where his journey finished, that he arrived there without having incurred demurrage. It is the duty of the Deputy Post Masters to furnish Travellers with certificates specifying according to circumstances whether or otherwise they had come on demurrage ;—such certificate must however be understood, is only applicable to the Deputy Post Master's Division, who grants it, for it sometimes happens that a Traveller having incurred demurrage on part of the road, by travelling subsequently during those hours originally appointed for halting, reaches the last Division within the given time.

N. B. It is to be particularly observed, that in some Districts, Bearers are with difficulty procured, and where they have to be sent a considerable distance to take up the Traveller, and in like manner to return home, for time so occupied they are paid additionally, and in all such cases Post Masters are authorized to charge the actual cost for the Travellers Bearers.

III. When it is reported that a Traveller come on demurrage, on any part of the road the adjustment of the amount deposited to cover such expenses will be postponed until the receipt of the Bills for the Dâk, from all the Post Masters through whose Divisions the Traveller may have passed.

IV. Travellers whether proceeding from the Presidency, or from Out-stations are provided with a Form, in which they are requested particularly to note any cause of dissatisfaction they may meet with on their journey, and the places where they meet with obstructions, or irregularities on the part of the Bearers or Subordinate Post Office Servants, this Form being affixed to the certificate which the Travellers has to present for signature, secures its being noticed.

V. When Dâk has been ordered and circumstances may render it expedient for the Traveller to postpone his journey, or to withdraw the Bearers entirely, he will of course be held liable for any expense which may have been incurred on his account. The amount paid for the Dâk and the account deposited to cover demurrage will therefore remain unadjusted until reports are received from the General Post Master on the line of route upon which the Dâk was ordered.

VI. Travellers Baggage must not exceed for each Banghy Burdar, twenty-four seers, and this must be divided into two Parcels, or Pattarahs of such dimensions as to render them conveniently portable when slung as Banghies.

VII. It is to be generally understood, that although Government permits their servants to lay Dâk Bearers for the convenience of the Public, the state derives no benefit from this source, and that neither Government nor any of their Officers are in any degree responsible to the Traveller for the misfortunes and disappointments which are inseparable from Dâk travelling, thus every Traveller travels at his own risk, and is liable to the losses and increased expenses incidental to delays, and accidents and that Government can in no instance be considered liable to make good any losses whatever.

VIII. When irregularities and consequent inconvenience occur to Travellers, the Post Master General on being applied to, will immediately investigate the complaint brought to his notice, but this can only be done in the same manner, and to the same end as a superior in any other Department would interfere to enquire into complaints preferred against his subordinates.

IX. In case of surcharge alone, or charges which to the Parties complaining might appear unjust because arising out of some positive neglect, or error on the part of the Deputy Post Master who lays the Dak, it would be the duty of the Post Master General to investigate the matter with a view to afford pecuniary redress.

X. In every case of refusal to make good demands on account of laying Dak Bearers, Post Masters are authorized to detain all Letters, Parcels, &c. for the person from whom demands are due in the same manner as is authorized to act under clause IX of the General Rules.

XI. Any decision pronounced by the Post Master General in all references relative to Dak Bearers, to be considered final.

POWER OF THE SUPREME COURT UPON ADVERSE CLAIMS.

ACT No. VIII. OF 1841.

Passed by the Right Hon'ble the Governor General of India in Council, on the 21st of June, 1841.

An Act to enable Her Majesty's Supreme Courts within the Territories of the East India Company to give relief against adverse claims made upon persons having no interest in the subject of such claims.

I. Whereas it often happens that a person sued at Law for the recovery of Money or Goods wherein he has no interest, and which are also claimed of him by some third party, has no means of relieving himself from such adverse claims but by a suit in Equity against the Plaintiff and such third party, usually called a bill of Interpleader, which is attended with expence and delay;

It is hereby enacted, that upon application made by or on the behalf of any Defendant sued in any of Her Majesty's Supreme Courts in any action of Assumpsit, Debt, Detenue, or Trover, such application being made after declaration and before plea by Affidavit or otherwise, showing that such Defendant does not claim any interest in the subject matter of the suit, but that the right thereto is claimed or supposed to belong to some third party who has sued or is expected to sue for the same and that such Defendant does not in any manner collude with such third party, but is ready to bring into Court or to pay or dispose of the subject matter of the action in such manner as the Court (or any Judge thereof) may order or direct, it shall be lawful for the Court, or any Judge thereof, to make rules and orders calling upon such third party to appear and to state the nature and particulars of his claim, and maintain or relinquish his claim, and upon such rule or order to hear the allegations as well of such third party as of the Plaintiff, and in the mean time to stay the proceedings in such action, and finally to order such third party to make himself Defendant in the same or some other action, or to proceed to trial on one more feigned issue or issues, and also to direct which of the parties shall be Plaintiff or Defendant, on such trial, or with the consent of the Plaintiff and such third party, their Counsel or Attornies to dispose of the merits of their claims, and determine the same in a summary manner, and to make such other rules and orders therein as to cost and all other matters as may appear to be just and reasonable.

II. And it is hereby enacted, that the Judgment in any such action or issue as may be directed by the Court or Judge, and the decision of the Court or Judge in a summary manner, shall be final and conclusive against the parties and all persons claiming by, from, or under them.

III. And it is hereby enacted, that if such third party shall not appear upon such rule or order to maintain or relinquish his claim, being duly served therewith, or shall neglect or refuse to comply with any rule or order to be made after appearance, it shall be lawful for the Court or Judge to declare such third party, and all persons claiming by from, or under him to be for ever barred from prosecuting his claim against the original Defendant, his Executors or Administrators; saving nevertheless the right or claim of such third party against the Plaintiff; and thereupon to make such order between such Defendant and the Plaintiff, as to costs or other matters, as may appear just and reasonable.

IV. And it is hereby provided, that every order to be made in pursuance of this Act by a single Judge not sitting in open Court, shall be liable to be rescinded or altered by the Court in like manner as others made by a single Judge.

V. And it is hereby enacted, that if upon application to a Judge, in the first instance or in any later stage of the proceedings, he shall think the matter more fit for the decision of the Court, it shall be lawful for him to refer the matter to the Court, and thereupon the Court shall and may hear and dispose of the same in the same manner as if the proceeding had generally commenced by the rule of Court instead of the order of a Judge.

VI. And whereas difficulties sometimes arise in the execution of process against Goods and Chattels issued by or under the authority of the said Courts, by reason of claims made to such Goods and Chattels by Assignees of Bankrupts and other persons not being the parties against whom such process has issued, whereby Sheriffs and other Officers are exposed to the hazard and expence of actions; and it is reasonable to afford relief and protection in such cases to such Sheriffs and other Officers, it is therefore hereby further enacted, that when any such claims shall be made to any Goods or Chattels taken or intended to be taken in the execution under any process or to the proceeds or value thereof, it shall and may be lawful to and for the Court from which such process, issued upon application of such Sheriff or other Officers made before or after the return of such process, and as well before as after any action brought against such Sheriff or other Officer, to call before them by rule of Court as well the party issuing such process as the party making such claim, and thereupon to exercise for the adjustment of such claims and the relief and protection of the Sheriff or other Officer, all or any of the powers and authorities hereinbefore contained, and make rules and decisions as shall appear to be just, according to the circumstances of the case, and the costs of all such proceedings shall be in the discretion of the Court.

VII. And it is hereby enacted, that all Rules, Orders, Matters and Decisions to be made and done in pursuance of this Act except only the Affidavits to be filed, may together with declaration in the cause if any, be entered on record with a note in the margin, expressing the true date of such entry, to the end that same may be evidence in future times if required, and to secure and enforce the payment of costs directed by any such Rule or Order, and every such Rule or Order so entered shall have the force and effect of a judgment except only as to becoming a charge on any Lands, Tenements or Hereditaments; and in case any costs shall not be paid within fifteen days after notice of the taxation and amount thereof given to the party ordered to pay the same, his Agent or Attorney, execution may issue for the same by Fieri Facias, or Capias ad satisfaciendum, adapted to the case, together with the costs of such entry, and of the execution if by Fieri Facias, and such Writ or Writs may bear Teste on the day of issuing the same, whether in Term or Vacation, and the Sheriff or other Officer executing any such Writ shall be entitled to the same fees, and no more as upon any similiar Writ grounded upon a judgment of the Court.

And it is hereby enacted, that at every port where registry shall be made in pursuance of this Act a book shall be kept by the Registering Officer in which all the particulars contained in the form of the certificate of the registry herein before directed to be used shall be duly entered; and every registry shall be numbered in progression beginning such progressive numeration at the commencement of each and every year. And such Registering Officer shall forthwith, or within one month at the furthest, send to the Government of the Presidency to which he is subordinate a true and extract copy, together with the number of every certificate which shall be by him so granted.

V. And it is hereby enacted, that no registry shall henceforth be made or certificate be granted, until the following declaration be made or subscribed before the Registering Officer, by the owner or major part of the owners of the ship or vessel required to be registered.

I, A. B., (of place of residence and occupation) do truly declare that the ship or vessel (name) of (port or place) whereof (master's name) is at present master, being (kind of built, burthen, etcetera, as described in the certificate of the Surveying Officer) was (when and where) built and that I the said (A. B.) and the other owners (names and occupations if any and where they respectively, reside) am (or are) truly and bona fide a subject (or subjects) of Her Majesty for whom the Governor General of India in Council has power to legislate, and that no person not being subject as aforesaid, directly or indirectly hath any share or part interest in the said ship or vessel. Provided that if the Registering Officer shall see occasion to doubt the truth of any of the facts contained in the above declaration he shall not deem such declaration to be conclusive, but may refuse the registry or certificate, and his discretion exercised in this behalf shall be subject only to an appeal to the local Government to which he is subordinate.

VI. And it is hereby enacted, that in case the required number of joint owners of any ship or vessel shall not personally attend to make and subscribe the declaration herein before directed to be made and subscribed, then and in such case such owner or owners as shall personally attend and make and subscribe the declarations aforesaid, shall further declare that the part owners of such ship or vessel then absent, is or are not resident within twenty miles of such port or place, and hath or have not to the best of his or their knowledge or belief, wilfully absented himself or themselves in order to avoid the making the declaration herein before directed to be made and subscribed, or is or are prevented by illness from attending to make and subscribe the said declaration.

VII. And in order to enable the Registering Officer to grant a certificate truly and accurately describing every ship or vessel to be registered in pursuance of this Act, and also to enable all other Officers of Customs on due examination, to discover whether any such ship or vessel is the same with that for which a certificate is alleged to have been granted, it is hereby enacted, that previous to the registering or granting of any certificate of registry as aforesaid some one or more persons appointed by the local Governments respectively, taking to his or their assistance if he or they shall judge it necessary, one or more person or persons skilled in the building and admeasurement of ships, shall go on board of every such ship or vessel that is to be registered, and shall strictly and accurately examine and admeasure every such ship or vessel as to all and every particular contained in the form of the certificate hereinbefore directed in the presence of the master, or of any other person who shall be appointed for that purpose on the part of the owner or owners, or in his or their absence by the said master, and shall deliver a true and just account in writing of all such particulars of the built, description, and admeasurement of every such ship or vessel as are specified in the form of the certificate above recited to the Officer authorized to make such registry and grant such certificate of registry as aforesaid; and the said master or other person attending on the part of the owner or owners is hereby required to sign his name also to the certificate of such Surveying or Examining Officer, in testimony of the truth thereof, provided such master or other person shall consent and agree to the several particulars set forth and described therein.

VIII. And it is hereby enacted, that from and after the commencement of this Act the tonnage of every ship or vessel required by law to be registered, shall previous to her being registered, be measured and ascertained while her hold is clear, and according to the following rule; (that is to say) divide the length of the upper deck between the afterpart of the stem and the forepart of the stern post into six equal parts. Depths: at the foremost, the middle, and the aftermost of these points of division, measure in feet and decimal parts of a foot the depths from the underside of the upper deck to the ceiling at the limber strake. In the case of a break in the upper deck, the depths are to be measured from a line stretched in a continuation of the deck. Breadths: divide each of those three depths into five equal parts and measure the inside breadths at the following points, videlicet, at one-fifth and at four-fifths from the upper deck of the foremost and aftermost depths, and at two-fifths and four-fifths from the upper deck of the midship depth. Length: at half the midship depth measure the length of the vessel from the afterpart of the stem to the forepart of the sternpost, then to twice the mid-ship depth add the foremost and the aftermost depth for the sum of the depths; add together the upper and lower breadths at the foremost division, three times the upper breadth, and the lower breadth at the midship division, and the upper and twice the lower breadth at the after division, for the sum of the breadths: then multiply the sum of the depths by the sum of the breadths, and this product by the length, and divide the final product by three thousand, five hundred, which will give the number of tons to register. If the vessel have a poop or half deck, or a break in the upper deck measure the inside mean length, breadth and height of such part thereof as may be included within the bulk head; multiply these three measurements together and dividing the product by 92,4 the quotient will be the number of tons to be added to the result as above found. In order to ascertain the tonnage of open vessels, the depths are to be measured from the upper edge of the upper strake.

IX. And it is hereby provided, that in each of the several rules hereinbefore prescribed when applied for the purpose of ascertaining the tonnage of any ship or vessel propelled by steam, the tonnage due to the cubical contents of the engine room shall be deducted from the total tonnage of the vessel as determined by either of the rules aforesaid, and the remainder shall be deemed the true register tonnage of the said ship or vessel. The tonnage due to the cubical contents of the engine room shall be determined in the following manner; that is to say measure the inside length of the engine room in feet and decimal parts of a foot from the foremost to the aftermost bulk-head then multiply the said length by the depth of the ship or vessel at the midship division as aforesaid, and the product by the inside breadth at the same division at two-fifths of the depth from the deck taken as aforesaid, and divide the last product by 92,4, and the quotient shall be deemed the tonnage due to the cubical contents of the engine room.

X. And it is hereby provided, that the tonnage due to the cubical contents of the engine room shall be set forth in the certificate of registry as part of the description of the ship or vessel, and that any alteration of such tonnage due to the cubical contents of the engine room or of such length of the engine room after registry, shall be deemed to be an alteration requiring registry de novo within the meaning of the said act for the registering of ships or vessels.

XI. And it is hereby enacted, that for the purpose of ascertaining the tonnage of all such ships whether belonging to the United Kingdom or otherwise, as there shall be occasion to measure while their cargoes are on board, the following rule shall be observed and is hereby established ; (that is to say,) measure, first the length on the upper deck between the afterpart of the stem and the forepart of the sternpost ; secondly, the inside breadth on the underside of the upper deck at the middle point of the length ; and thirdly, the depth from the underside of the upper deck down the pump well to the skin, multiply these three dimensions together, and divide the product by one hundred and thirty, and the quotient will be the amount of the register tonnage of such ships.

XII. And it is hereby enacted that the true amount of the register tonnage of every merchant ship or vessel belonging to the United Kingdom, to be ascertained according to the rule by this act established in respect of such ships, shall be deeply carved or cut in figures of at least three inches in length on the main beam of every such ship or vessels prior to her being registered.

XIII. And it is hereby provided that Country Craft employed in Coasting voyages not exceeding the burden of 200 tons may be registered and the tonnage marked according to rules to be prescribed from time to time by the respective local Governments.

XIV. And it is hereby enacted, that whenever the tonnage of any ship or vessel shall have been ascertained according to the rules herein prescribed such account of tonnage shall ever after be deemed the tonnage of such ship or vessel, and shall be repeated in every subsequent registry of such ship or vessel, unless it shall happen that any alteration has been made in the form or burden of such ship or vessel, or it shall be discovered that the tonnage of such ship or vessel had been erroneously taken and computed.

XV. And it is hereby enacted, that if such certificate as aforesaid shall be sold, lent, or otherwise disposed of to any person or persons whatever than those for whose use it is granted, or shall be made use of for the service of any other ship or vessel than the ship or vessel for which it is granted, such certificate shall thenceforth be utterly void and the master or any owner of the ship or vessel who shall be proved to have sold, lent, or disposed of such certificate or made use of the same as aforesaid, or shall have concurred in or been privy to the committing any such offence, shall be liable upon conviction by information as aforesaid to a penalty not exceeding 10,000 rupees. And in case such ship or vessel shall be lost or taken by the enemy, burnt, or broken up, or otherwise prevented from returning to the port at which she is registered, or shall on any account have lost and forfeited the privileges of a British ship, or shall have been seized and legally condemned for illicit trading, or shall have been taken in execution for debt and sold by due process of law, or shall have been sold to the Crown or the East India Company, or shall under any circumstances have been registered de novo, the certificate, if preserved, shall be delivered up, within one month after the arrival of the master in any port or place in the territories of the East India Company to the Registering Officer at such port, in default whereof the master or any of the owners shall be liable on conviction by information as aforesaid a penalty not exceeding 5,000 rupees. And if any person not being such subject as aforesaid shall purchase or otherwise become entitled to the whole or to any part or share or of any interest in such ship or vessel, and the same shall be within the limits of any port of the territories of the East India Company, then and such case the certificate of registry shall within seven days after such purchase or transfer of property in such ship or vessel, be delivered up to the Registering Officer at such port, and if such ship or vessel shall be in any place not within the territories of the East India Company when such purchase or transfer of property shall take place, then the certificate shall be delivered up within fourteen days after the arrival of such ship or vessel, or of the master thereof in any port of the territories of the East India Company to the Registering Officer at such port in default whereof the master or any of the owners shall be liable on conviction before any Justice of the Peace in a penalty not exceeding 5,000 rupees recoverable in manner provided by Act No. 2 of 1839.

XVI. And it is hereby enacted, that when and so often as the master of any ship or vessel registered in manner hereinbefore directed shall be changed the master or owner of such ship or vessel shall deliver to the person or persons hereinbefore authorized to make such registry and grant such certificates of registry at the port where such charge shall take place, if it be a port within the territories of the East India Company, the certificate of registry belonging to such ship or vessel, who shall thereupon indorse and subscribe a memorandum of such change, and shall forthwith give notice of the same to the proper officer of the port or place where such ship or vessel was last registered pursuant to this Act who shall likewise make a memorandum of the same in the book of registers which is hereby directed and required to be kept, and shall forthwith give notice thereof in like manner as of the original entry. But if the change do not take place in any port within the territories of the East India Company, then such delivery, memorandum and indorsement shall be made and notice given at the first port within the territories of the East India Company at which the new master shall arrive after such change. In default of which delivery of the certificate such new master or any of the owners shall be liable on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, to a penalty not exceeding 5,000 rupees recoverable as aforesaid.

XVII. And it is hereby enacted, that it shall not be lawful for any owner or owners of any ship or vessel, to give any name to such ship or vessel other than that by which she was first registered in pursuance of this Act, and that the owner or owners of all and every ship or vessel which shall be so registered shall, before such ship or vessel after such registry, shall begin to take in any cargo, paint, or cause to be painted, in white or yellow letters of a length of not less than four inches upon a black ground on some conspicuous part of the stern, the name by which such ship or vessel shall have been registered pursuant to this Act, and the port to which she belongs in a distinct and legible manner, and shall so keep and preserve the same, and that if such owner or owners, or master or other person having or taking the charge or command of such ship or vessel, shall permit such ship or vessel to begin to take in cargo before the name of such ship or vessel has been so painted as aforesaid, or shall wilfully alter, erase, obliterate, or in any wise hide or conceal, or cause or procure or permit the same to be done or shall in any written or printed paper, or other document describe such ship or vessel by any name other than that by which she was first registered pursuant to this Act, or shall verbally describe, or cause or procure or permit such ship or vessel to be described by any other name to any officer or Officers of Revenue in the due execution of his or their duty, then and in every such case the certificate of registry shall thenceforth become utterly void, and such owner or owners or Master or other person having or taking the charge or command of such ship or vessel shall be liable on information as aforesaid to a penalty not exceeding 10,000 rupees.

XVIII. And it is hereby enacted, that all and every person and persons who shall apply for a certificate of the registry of any ship or vessel shall, and they are hereby required to produce to the person or persons authorized to grant such certificate, a true and full particular under the hand of the builder of such ship or vessel, or in case the want of such certificate can be satisfactorily accounted for, then to produce other sufficient evidence of the proper denomination, and of the time when and the place where such ship or vessel was built, and also an exact account of the tonnage of such ship or vessel, and shall also make and subscribe a declaration before the person or persons hereinbefore authorized to grant such certificate that the ship or vessel for which such certificate is required is the same with that which is so described by the builder as aforesaid.

XIX. And it is hereby enacted, that if the certificate of registry of any ship or vessel shall be lost or mislaid, so that the same vessels when needful, and proof thereof shall be made to the satisfaction of the Registering Officer of the port at which the ship is registered, such Officer shall and may, where the certificate shall have been lost or mislaid, permit such ship or vessel to be registered de novo and a certificate thereof to be granted, Provided always that if such ship or vessel be absent and far distant from the port to which she belongs, or by reason of the absence of the owner or owners, or of any other impediment, registry of the same cannot then be made in sufficient time, such Registering Officer shall and may grant a license for the present use of such ship or vessel, which license shall for the time and to the extent specified therein and no longer, be of the same force and virtue as a certificate of registery granted under this Act. Provided always that if the certificate of registry shall at any time afterwards be found, the same shall be forthwith delivered to the proper Officers of Customs to be cancelled, and that no illegal use be made of the same, in default whereof the original certificate and the renewed certificate and license shall thenceforth become utterly void, and any person wilfully detaining the certificate so required to be cancelled, or making any illegal use thereof, shall be liable on conviction before any Justice in a penalty not exceeding 5000 rupees recoverable as aforesaid.

XX. And whereas it is not proper that any person under any pretence whatever should detain the certificate of registry of any ship or vessel, or hold the same for any purpose other than the lawful use and navigation of the ship or vessel for which it was granted, it is therefore hereby enacted, that in case any person who shall have received or obtained by any means or for purpose whatever the certificate of the registry of any such ship or any vessel (whether such person shall claim to be the master or to be the owner or one of the owners of such ship or vessel, or not,) shall wilfully detain and refuse to deliver up the same to the proper Officers of Customs, for the purposes of such ship or vessel, as occasion shall require, or to the person or persons having the actual command-possession, and management of such ship or vessel as the ostensible and reputed owner or owners thereof, it may and shall be lawful to and for any such last mentioned person to make complaint on oath of such detainer and refusal to any Justice of the Peace residing near to the place where such detainer and refusal shall be, and on such complaint the said Justice shall and is hereby required by warrant under his hand and seal, to cause the person so complained against to be brought before him to be examined touching such detainer and refusal, and if it shall appear to the said Justice on examination of such person or otherwise that the said certificate of registery is not lost or mislaid, but is wilfully detained by the said person, such person shall be subject on conviction before such Justice to a penalty not exceeding 1,000 rupees, recoverable as aforesaid and the said Justice shall, and he is hereby required to certify the aforesaid detainer, refusal, and conviction to the person or persons who granted such certificate of registry for such ship or vessel who shall, on the terms and conbitions of law being complied with make registry of such ship or vessel de novo, and grant a certificate thereof conformably to law, notifying on the back of such certificate the ground upon which the ship or vessel was so registered de novo; and if the person who shall have detained and refused to deliver up such certificate of registry as aforesaid, or shall be verily believed to have detained the same, shall have absconded so that the said warrant of the Justice cannot be executed upon him, and proof thereof shall be made to the satisfaction of the Registering Officer of the port at which the ship or vessel was registered, it shall be lawful for the said Officer to permit such ship or vessel to be registered de novo, or otherwise, in his discretion to grant a license for the present use of such ship or vessel in like manner as is herein before provided in the case wherein the certificate of registry is lost or mislaid.

XXI. And it is hereby enacted, that if any ship or vessel after she shall have been registered pursuant to the directions of this Act, shall in any manner whatever be altered so as not to correspond with all the particulars contained in the certificate of her registry, or if any alteration shall take place in the ownership of any ship or vessel, or of any share or shares thereof, in such cases such ship or vessel shall be registered de novo in manner hereinbefore required as soon as she returns to the port to which she belongs, or to any other port within the territories of the East India Company, on failure whereof such ship or vessel shall be deemed to be a ship or vessel not duly registered, and any person making use of a certificate for the purposes of any ship or vessel which has been granted in respect of the same, after the same ought to have been registered, de novo, shall be liable on conviction before any Justice to a penalty not exceeding 5,000 rupees recoverable as aforesaid.

XXII. And whereas great incovenience may arise from the Registering Officers being served with subpœnas requiring them to bring with them and produce, on trials in Courts of Law relative to the ownership of vessels, or otherwise the declaration required to be taken by the owners thereof prior to the registering thereof, and the books of registry, or copies or extracts therefrom. And whereas it would tend much to the dispatch of business if the attendance of such Registering Officers with the same upon such trials were dispensed with, it is therefore hereby enacted, that the Registering Officer at any port or place and the person or persons acting for them respectively, shall upon every reasonable request by any person or persons whomsoever, produce and exibit for his, her or their inspection and examination any declaration made by any such owner or owners, and also any register or entry in any book or books of registry required, and shall upon every reasonable request by any person or persons whomsoever, permit him, her, or them to take a copy or copies, or an extract or extracts thereof respectively, and that the copy and copies of any such oath or declaration, registry or entry, shall upon being proved to be true copy or copies thereof respectively, be allowed and received as evidence upon every trial at law, without the production of the original or originals, and without the testimony or attendance of any Registering Officer, or other person or persons acting for them respectively, in all cases, as fully and to all intents and purposes as such original or originals if produced by any Registering Officer, or other person or persons acting for them, could or might legally be admitted or received in evidence.

XXIII. And it is hereby enacted, that if any person or persons shall falsely make declaration to any of the matters hereinbefore required to be verified by declaration, or if any person or persons shall counterfeit, erase, alter or falsify any certificate or other instrument in writing required or directed to be obtained, granted, or produced by this Act, or shall knowingly or wilfully make use of any certificate or other instrument so counterfeited, erased, altered, falsified or shall wilfully grant such certificate or other instrument in writing, knowing it to be false, such person or persons shall for every such offence be liable on conviction upon information as aforesaid to a penalty not exceeding 10,000 rupees. And if any such offence be committed by the owner of any ship or vessel, the certificate of such ship or vessel shall henceforth be wholly void.

XXIV. And it is hereby enacted, that when any ship or vessel duly registered under this Act or sailing under the British Navigation Law, shall come to be owned by a Native Prince or State, or by any subject of such Native Prince or State as aforesaid, it shall be lawful for the Governor of Fort William in Bengal, or for the Governor in Council of any Presidency, to continue to such ship or vessel the privileges and advantages of a British ship for the purposes aforesaid by a pass to be issued under the Company's Seal and subscribed by a Secretary to Government stating the voyage or voyages for which the same is to have effect, and the period for which it is to last: and it shall be lawful for the Governor of Fort William in Bengal, or the Governor in Council of any Presidency, to issue a similar pass conferring the privileges and advantages of a British ship for the purposes aforesaid under this Act to any ship or vessel built within the dominions of such Native Prince or State, and owned by such Prince or State, or by any of their subjects, provided always, that the ships belonging to Native Princes or States, or their subjects, in respect of which passes may be granted under this Act shall, during the voyage or voyages, or the period for which any such pass shall be granted be commanded by a subject of Her Majesty for whom the Governor General in Council has power to legislate.

XXV. And it is hereby enacted, that the fees demandable in respect of the granting any certificate or pass under this Act shall be fixed from time to time according to the directions of the Governor General in Council, but so that the same shall not exceed the amount of fees now payable for registering or granting passes to ships or vessels at the different Presidencies.

XXVI. And it is hereby declared, and enacted, that all ships or vessels registered under this Act, shall be deemed to belong to the ports at which they shall be respectively registered. And all ships or vessels being registered or in respect of which passes may have been granted which are unexpired at this time of passing this Act, shall for the purpose of being deemed British ships be deemed to belong to the ports at which they may have been registered or when passes shall have been granted which are unexpired, at which such passes may have been respectively granted. And such ships or vessels built and owned as required by the Statute 3 and 4 Vict. Ch. 56, shall continue subject to all the rules in force at the respective Presidencies before the passing of this Act, touching the registering, measurement, granting passes or other requisitions in respect of the same, and shall not be subject to the provisions of this Act, or any provisions of the Statute law, a compliance with which may heretofore have been necessary in order that ships or vessels built and owned as aforesaid might be deemed British ships for the purposes of trade.

LXXXVIII. All the Members of a Court-martial are to behave with Decency;--to take their Seats according to Rank, and not quit them without Permission of the President;--who will clear the Court on any Discussion;--and in case of intemperate Words used by any Member of the Court, direct the same to be taken down in Writing, and reported to the Officer ordering the Court-martial to assemble;--no reproachful Words are to be used to Witnesses or Prisoners;--and the President is hereby held responsible that every Person attending such Court be treated with proper Respect;--and in taking the Votes of the Court, the President shall begin by that of the youngest Member.

XCII. The General, Governor, or other Officer having Power to appoint Courts-martial, shall appoint Court-martial, as Occasion may require, to be holden within the Territories of any Foreign State, or in any Country under the Protection of Us or the said Company, or at any Place (other than Prince of Wales' Island, Singapore, and Malacca) in the Territories under the Government of the said Company, situated above One hundred and twenty Miles from the Presidencies of Fort William Fort Saint George, and Bombay respectively, for the Trial of any Officer or Soldier under his Command, who shall be accused of Treason, Murder, Theft, Robbery, Rape, Coining or clipping the Coin of our Realm or of the said Company, or any Foreign Coin current in the Place where such Officer or Soldier may be serving;—or of any other Offence which if committed in England, would be a capital or other Felony,—or of having used Violence or committed any Offence against the Persons or Property of any of our Subject, or of any others entitled to the Protection of Us or the Government of the East India Company, or of any State in Alliance with the said Company, and any such Officer or Soldier shall be tried by a General Court-martial appointed as aforesaid by the Governor or Officer commanding in chief in such Place aforesaid for the time being;—and, if found guilty, shall suffer Death, or be liable to Transportation for life, or for a Term of Years, or to such other Punishment according to the Nature and Degree of the respective Offences as by such Sentence of any such General Court-martial shall be awarded;—such Sentence nevertheless to be in conformity to the Common and Statute Law of England, and shall not be carried into effect until approved and confirmed by the General, Governor, or other Officer by whom or under whose Authority such Court-martial was appointed;—provided that, in all cases where such Court-martial shall have convicted any Soldier of any Offence punishable with Death, it shall be lawful for such Court-martial, instead of sentencing the Offender to Death to adjudge him to be transported as a Felon for Life or for a certain Term of Years ,—and in every case wherein a Sentence of Death or Transportation shall be pronounced, or a Sentence of Death shall be commuted to Transportation, for any such Capital Offence committed at any Place situated as herein aforesaid, such Sentence, whether original, revised, or commuted, shall not be carried into execution until confirmed by the General or other Officer commanding in chief at the Presidency with the concurrence of the Governor General in Council, or Governor in Council, or Governor of the Presidency in the Territories subordinate to which the Offender shall have been tried, although such Offender may belong to the Forces of another Presidency ; provided always, that such Sentence shall have been regularly reported to and approved and confirmed by the General or other Officer commanding in chief the Forces of the Presidency to which the Offender shall belong, and by whom or under whose Authority the Court-martial by which such Offender shall have been tried was appointed.

ACTS OF PARLIAMENT.

ABRIDGMENT OF THE NEW LAW OF WILLS.

1, VICTORIA, C. 26.

With Notes of the Prominent alterations affected by it.

Sec. 1. Is the now usual provision for the interpretation of the act, giving to the word "will" its most popular and extensive meaning.

Sec. 2. Repeals the statutes of wills of the 32 H. 8. and 34 and 35 H. 8. and either wholly or partially nine other acts upon the same subject; excepting; however, so much of the 25 G. 2. c. 5. as applies to the Colonies.

Sec. 3. Enacts that a person may bequeath by will, executed in accordance with provisions of that act, all real estate and all personal estate which he shall be entitled to, either at law or in equity, at the time of his death, and which, if not so bequeathed, would devolve upon his heir or upon his administrator.

This power extends to copyhold property not surrendered to the use of a will, any custom to the contrary notwithstanding.

To estates pur autre vie, whether there shall be or shall not be any special occupant thereof, and whether a corporeal or an incorporeal hereditament.

To all contingent interest, rights of entry, &c. accruing after the execution of the will.

[Before this act, copyholds not being within the statute of wills, and consequently not within the statute of frauds, the will which devised them needed no attestation. A devise of copyholds acted only as an appointment directing the uses of a surrender which the law presumed. The alteration now made was recommended by Lord Macclesfield and Lord Hardwicke, See 2 P. Wms. 258, and 1 Ves. Sen. 227.

Estates pur autre vie were only rendered devisable by the statute of frauds. Upon this subject this Statute does not materially alter the provisions of the 14th Geo. II, c. 20.]

Sec. 4. Enacts that devises taking property under this act, not surrendered to the use of a will, shall pay all fees and fines attendant upon a surrender and admission.

Sec. 5. Enacts that wills, or extracts of wills of customary freehold or copyhold, shall be entered on the court rolls, and the lord shall be entitled to the same fine where estates are not now devisable, as he would have been from the heir in case of descent.

Sec. 6. Enacts, that if no disposition be made by will of any estate pur autre vie, of a freehold nature, and if it shall go to the heir by especial occupancy, it shall be chargeable in his hands as assets by descent. If there is no special occupant, the estate shall go to the executor, and if it go to the executor either by special occupancy, or by virtue of this act, it shall be distributed as the personal estate of the testator.

Sec. 7. Enacts that no will made by any person under the age of twenty-one years shall be valid.

[This, so far as it relates to real property wills, was the provision of the second statute of frauds. This incompetence of infants was held to be cured by a custom to the contrary — Perk, 221; M. 36. H. 56.

Personal property was devisable by females at 12, and males at 14, and at 17 a testator might appoint executors. But this clause, destroying all exceptions, lays down one clear and peremptory rule.]

Sec. 8. Enacts that no will made by any married woman shall be valid, except such a will as might have been made before the passing of this act.

Sec. 9. Enacts that no will shall be valid unless it shall be in writing, and signed at the foot by the testator, or by some other person in his presence, and by his direction, and unless such signature shall be made or acknowledged by the testator, in the presence of two or more witnesses present at the same time. Such witnesses to attest and subscribe the will in the presence of the testator, but no form of attestation is necessary.

[Therefore, devises of real property, which before required three witnesses, require now but two; and wills of personal property, which before required no witnessess, now require to. This statute, repealing the statute of frauds so far as it respects wills, destroys all distinction between wills of personal and of real property.]

Sec. 10. All appointments made by will are to be executed in this manner only, and not as required by the deed conferring the power.

Sec. 11. Provides that soldiers on actual service may make nuncupative wills as before.

[These were excepted from the statute of frauds, and the exception has been held by the courts to extend to merchant seamen---Morrell and Morrell, 1 Hagg.]

Sec. 12. Excepts the provisions of 11 Geo. IV. and 1 W. IV., c. 20, with respect to wills of petty officers and seamen and marines, from the operation of this act.

[The statute of frauds had already nearly prohibited nuncupative wills by laying upon them many restrictions which the courts of law strictly construed. The most fatal was that which restricted the amount of property so left to 30l. The 2 Geo. IV. only applies to seamen's wills that pass wages and lays down formalities as necessary to their validity.]

Sec. 13. Enacts that every will, executed in accordnance with sec. 9, still be valid without publication.

Sec. 14. Enacts that the will shall not be rendered void by the incompetency of attesting witness.

Sec. 15. Enacts that every beneficial devise to an attesting witness, or his or her wife or husband, shall be void, but that the will shall in order respects be valid.

Secs. 16. and 17. Enacts that a creditor attesting, and that an executor, may, prove the execution or validity of the will.

Sec. 18. Enacts that every will is revoked by a subsequent marriage. Except a will made in exercise of a power of appointment, when the real or personal estate would not in default of appointment pass to the heir at law or executor.

Sec. 19. Enacts that no will shall be revoked by any presumption of an intention on the ground of an alteration in circumstances.

[Secs. 18. and 19. These two sections work important alterations in the law of devises. The rule of presuming a revocation from an alteration in circumstances was first established by the ecclesiastical courts in bequest of personal property, and was afterwards applied to devises of land.

The courts of equity did not hold that marriage was a revocation of a will unless the testator had issue by his wife. The distinction is abolished. This revocation is absolute, and will take effect even if the will provide for the future wife and children. A great number of cases, restricting and enlarging this rule in points upon which the ecclesiastical and equity courts frequently differed, have happily been rendered useless by these clauses.

Another still more intricate question of revocation proceeded from the rule that a real or intended alteration in the estate of the devisor revoked the devise. This rule occasioned great difficulty in the investigation of titles. So far as it relates to intended alterations, it is now abolished; but the act does not appear to have completely met the question as to what alteration in the estate shall be sufficient to defeat the specific devise and render it residuary. Section 23, however, may, and no doubt will be construed to mean, that whatever estate in the thing devised remains to the testator at the time of his death, shall pass to the devisee.]

Sec. 20. Enacts that no will shall be revoked except by another will or codicil executed and attested in accordance with sec. 9, or by the testator destroying the former will.

Sec. 21. Enacts that no alteration in a will shall have any effect unless signed and attested as by sec. 9.

Sec. 22. Enacts that no revoked will shall be revived unless by a codicil executed as per sec. 9.

Sec. 23. Enacts that no devise shall be rendered inoperative by any subsequent conveyance or act.

Sec. 24. Enacts that every will shall be construed to speak from the death of testator, unless a contrary intention appears from the will.

Sec 25. Enacts that unless a contrary intention appear by the will, devise of real estates, lapsed by the death of devisee, void, shall be included in the residuary devise.

Sec 26. Enacts that a general devise of a testator's lands shall include copyhold and leasehold as well as freehold lands.

Sec. 27. Enacts that a general devise shall include estates over which the testator had a general power of appointment.

Sec. 28. Enacts that a devise without any words of limitation shall be construed to dispose of the whole interest which the testator had power to dispose of.

[This section creates a very material alteration in the law of devises. Nothing was better settled than that a devise of lands to a person without words of limitation (that is, to A, without the words "and his heirs"), conferred an estate for life only. Even notwithstanding that the testator had used expressions in the introductory part of the will denoting an intention to dispose of his whole estate Lord Mansfield attempted to effect by his own authority the change which is made by this section I.]

Sec. 29. Enacts that the words "die without issue," or "die without leaving issue" or "have no issue," shall be construed to mean issue living at the death.

Sec 30. Enacts that a devise to trustees, unless limited (and excepting a presentation to a church), shall be held to pass the fee.

Sec. 31. Enacts that a trustee under an unlimitted devise, where the trust may endure beyond the life of a person beneficially entitled for life, taken the fee simple.

Sec. 32. Enacts that devises of estates fail shall not lapse by death of the first devisee

Sec. 33. Enacts that gifts of real of personal estate to children or other issue who leave issue, shall not lapse by the death of the devisee in the lifetime of the testator, but shall be distributed as if the devisee had died immediately after the testator.

Sec. 34. Enacts that this act shall not extend to wills made before the 1st of January 1838, nor to estates pur autre vie, of any person dying before that date.

Sec. 35 and 36. Enacts that the act shall not extend to Scotland, and that it might be amended, &c. in the session in which it was passed.

Whereas by an Act Passed in the fourth year of the Reign of His late Majesty King William the Fourth, intituled. An act for the better administration of justice in his Majesty's Privy Council, it is amongst other things enacted, that 'it shall be lawful for His Majesty in Council from time to time to make any such rules and orders as may be thought fit, for the regulating the mode, form, and time of appeal to be made from the decisions of the Courts of Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, or any other Courts of Judicature, in India or elswhere, to the eastward of the Cape of Good Hope (from the decisions of which an appeal lies to His Majesty in Council). and in like manner from time to time to make such other regulations for the preventing delays in the making or hearing such appeals, and as to the expenses attending the said appeals, and as to the amount or value of property in respect of which any such appeal may be made.' And whereas His said late Majesty did, by his order in council, on the 16th day of January 1836, approve certain rules and orders for regulating the mode, form, and time of appeal from the decisions of the said Court of Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, and also certain regulations for the preventing delays in the making or hearing of such appeals, and as to the expenses attending such appeals; and the said rules, and orders, and regulations, were set forth in certain Schedules, A. and B. to and by the said order in council of the 16th of January annexed and approved. And whereas the Queen's Most Excellent Majesty in Council hath deemed expedient to cancel and rescind all the said rules, orders, and regulations, and to make and substitute others in lieu thereof.

Her Majesty is therefore pleased, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council to cancel and rescind all the said rules, orders, and regulations in the said recited orders in council of the 16th day of January 1836, and 10th day of Angust 1836, respectively contained, and thereby or by either of them approved, and to approve of the several rules, orders, and regulations contained in the Schedule hereunder written or hereunto annexed, and to order, that the same be respectively observed by Her Majesty's Supreme Courts of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal, Fort St. George and Bombay respectively, by the Court of Judicature of Prince of Wales' Island, Singapore and Malacca, and by the said several Courts of Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, and all other Courts of Judicature in the Territories under the Government of the East India Company, and by all persons whom it shall or may concern. FILLING UP VACANCIES IN THE CIVIL LINE.

LVII. And be it further enacted, that all Vacancies happening in any of the Office, Places, or Employments in the Civil line of the Company's Service in India (being under the degree of Councillor,) shall be from time to time filled up and supplied from amongst the Civil Servants of the said Company, belonging to the Presidency wherein such Vacancies shall respectively happen, subject only to the restrictions in this Act contained, and not otherwise (that is to say,) that in the filling up and supplying such Vacancies, no Office, Places, or Employment, the Salary, Perquisities, and Emoluments whereof shall exceed five hundred pounds per annum, shall be conferred upon or granted to any of the said Servants who shall have not been actually resident in India as Covenanted Servant of the said Company for the space of three years at the least in the whole, antecedent to such Vacancy, and if the Salary, Perquisities and Emoluments of any Office, Place, or Employment, shall exceed three thousand pounds per annum, the same shall not be granted to or conferred upon any of the said Servants who shall not have been actually resident in India in the said Service for the space of nine years at the least in the whole, antecedent to such Vacancy; and if the Salary, Perquisites, and Emoluments of any Office, Place, or Employment shall exceed three thousand pounds per annum, the same shall not be granted to or conferred upon any of the said Servants, who shall not have been actually resident in India in the said Company's Service for the space of nine years at the least in the whole; and if the Salary, Perquisites, and Emolument of any Office, Place, or Employment shall exceed four thousand pounds per annum, the same shall not be granted to or conferred upon any of the said Servants, who shall not have been actually resident in India in the Company's Ser-

EXTRACT FROM A PUBLIC GENERAL LETTER FROM THE HONORABLE COURT OF DIRECTORS, DATED THE 12TH OF JUNE, 1816.

PARA. 20. We perceive by the Abstract of Act LIII. of His present Majesty Chapter 155, annexed to your List of the Civil Servants dated the 31st of May 1814, that according to your construction of that Act, a Civil Servant may upon his arrival, in India, receive £1,500 a year, but this is most assuredly a mistake. The Act above mentioned, has shortened the period to two years which it was required previously to the passing of that Act, for a Servant to have resided in India, to enable him to receive more than £1,500, 3,000 or 4,000 a year, but it has not shortened the period which it was required, previously thereto for a servant to have resided above mentioned, to enable him to receive more than £500 a year consequently that remains the same as it was before the said Act was passed, namely three years, allowing with respect to the Servants educated at Hertford College, the time not exceeding two years passed in that Institution, after they were seventeen to be considered as time passed in India; and this will be your future guidance.

ACT LIII. OF GEORGE III CHAPTER CLV.

LXXXII. And whereas a strict adherence to the the Provisions contained in the said Act made in the thirty third Year of his present Majesty's Reign in respect to the filling up and supplying Vacancies in the Civil Service of the said Company has been found impracticable without detriment to the Public Service, or injury to the just claims and meritorious exertions of Individuals; and whereas a modification of the said Act has been in part, adopted in the Act of the forty-seventh Year of His present Majesty relative to the Scholars educated at Hertford College; be it therefore enacted, that from and after the passing of this Act any Office, Place, or Employment, the Salary and Perquisites whereof shall exceed the sum of fifteen hundred pounds, may be granted to and conferred upon the said Servants who shall have been actually resident in India in the said Company's Service for the space of four years at the least in the whole antecedent to such Vacancy, and if the Salary, Perquisites, and Emoluments of any Office, Place, or Employment shall exceed the sum of three thousand pounds per annum, such office may be conferred upon any of the said servants who shall have been actually resident in India seven years at the least in the whole; and if the Salary, Perquisities and Emoluments of any Office, Place or Employment, shall exceed four thousand pounds per annum, such Office, including that of the Council, may be granted to or conferred upon any of the said Servants who shall have been actually resident in India in the Company's Service for the space of ten years at least in the whole.

RANK OF CIVIL SERVANTS RETURNING TO INDIA AFTER FIVE YEARS ABSENCE IN EUROPE.

LXXXV. And be it further enacted, that when and as often any person having held any Civil Situation in India, in the Service of the said Company, and having departed from India by leave of the Governor General in Council, shall be restored to the Company's Service after an absence of Five Years from the time of such departure: such person from and after such restoration shall take Rank and Precedence on according to the time he shall have passed in the Service of the said Company at the period of his departure from India, and on his return to India, if any other Civil Servant or Servants at the Settlement to which he shall belong, shall have then passed a greater or the like length of time in the Service of the said Company, as the person so restored had passed when he left India, the person so restored shall be placed and take rank immediately below such other Civil Service or Servants; any matter thing to or the contrary not withstanding.

PRECEDENCE IN THE CIVIL SERVICE IN INDIA.

LXXXVI. And whereas by the said Act of the Parliament of Great Britain of the Thirty-third Year of his present Majesty's Reign it is enacted that all the Civil Servants of the said United Company in India, under the rank or degree of Member of Council shall have and be entitled to precedence in the Service of the said Company at their respective Stations according to the Seniority of their Appointment. And whereas the several Governments of the said Company are often prevented from appointing meritorious Servants of the said Company to be Members of Courts, Boards, and other Official Establishments, where Officer or Employments are exercised by several servants of the said Company collectively lest by such Appointment one or more Members of such Court, Board, or other Establishment should be superseded: be it therefore enacted that it shall and may be lawful for any Governor General in Council of the said Company if he shall think proper, upon application in writing for that purpose by any Civil Servant of the said Company desious of being appointed a Member of any such Court, Board, or other Establishment, by special order to direct that such Servant of the said Company on being appointed to any Office or Employment in any such Court, or other Establishment, although such Civil Servant, in respect of whom such order shall be made, may hereby not take Precedence at or in such Court, Board, or other Establishment, according to the Seniority of his Appointment to the service of the said Company; and such civil servant shall thereupon take Precedence at such Court, Board, or other Establishment accordingly; the said Act or any other matter or thing to the contrary notwithstanding.

ACT VII. OF GEORGE IV. CHAPTER LVI.

Extract from an Act to suspend the Provisions of an Act of His late Majesty respecting the Appointment of Writers in the Service of the East India Company, and to authorize the Payment of the Allowances of the Civil and Military Officers of the said Company dying while absent from India.

[26th May 1826.]

III. And whereas by an Act passed in the thirty-third year of the Reign of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled an Act for continuing in the East India Company for a further term the Possession of the British Territories in India, together with their exclusive Trade, under certain limitations; for establishing further Regulations for the Government of the said Territories, and the better administration of justice within the same; for appropriating to certain uses the revenues and profits of the said Company, and for making provision for the good order and government of the Towns of Calcutta, Madras and Bombay; it was enacted, that if any Governor General, or any other Officer whatever in the service of the Company, should quit or leave the Presidency or Settlement to which he should belong, other than in the known actual service of the said company, the Salary and Allowances appertaining to his Office should not be paid or payable during his absence to any agent or other person for his use; and in the event of his not returning back to his station at such Presidency or Settlement; or his coming to Europe, his Salary and Allowances should be deemed to have ceased from the day of his quitting such Presidency or Settlement, any law or usage to the contrary notwithstanding. And whereas it hath happened that Officers, as well Civil as Military, in the Service of the said Company, who have quitted the Presidencies or Settlements to which they respectively belonged in consequence of ill health with the intention of returning to their Stations at such Presidencies of Settlements without proceeding to Europe, have died during such temporary absence within the limits of the said Company's Charter, or at the Cape of Good Hope. And whereas it is just and reasonable that the representatives of such Officers should be entitled to the Salaries and Allowances of such Officers from the time of quitting their Stations. Be it therefore enacted, that it shall and may be lawful to and for the said Company to cause payment to be made to the representatives of Officers in their Service, Civil or Military, who having quitted or left their Stations, and not having proceeded or intended to proceed to Europe, but intending to return to their Stations, have died, or may hereafter happen to die, during their temporary absence within the limits of the said Company's Charter, or at the Cape of Good Hope, of such Salaries and Allowances, or such portion of Salaries and Allowances, as the Officers so dying would have been entitled to, if they had returned to their Stations.

IV. And whereas certain payments have heretofore been made under the circumstances aforesaid; be it further enacted, that at all such payments so made shall be deemed and taken to have been legally made; any thing in the said recited Act of Parliament to the contrary notwithstanding; Provided always, that nothing herein contained shall extend to authorize the said Company to make any such payment to the representatives of any such Officer who shall have quitted or left his Station prior to the Second Day of May, One Thousand Eight Hundred and Twenty One.

ACT X. OF GEORGE IV. CHAPTER XVI.

An Act to continue the operation of an Act of the seventh year of His present Majesty for suspending the Provisions of an Act of His late Majesty respecting the Appointment of Writers in the Service of the East India Company, and to amend the Provisions of an Act of the forty-seventh Year of his late Majesty so far as they relate to the period of Residence at Hertford College as a qualification for certain offices.

[14th May, 1820.]

Whereas an Act was passed in the seventh year of the Reign of His present Majesty intituled an Act to suspend the Provisions of an Act of His late Majesty respecting the Appointment of Writers in the Service of the East India Company, and to authorize the payment of the Allowances of the Civil and Military Officers of the said Company dying while absent from India. And whereas it is expedient to continue, for a time to be limited, the provisions of the said Act of the seventh year of His Majesty, so far as the same relate to the Appointment of Writers in the Service of the East India Company, and to the Establishment of Rules and Regulations respecting their qualifications. May it therefore please your Majesty that it may be enacted; and be it enacted by the King's Most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual Temporal and Commons in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, that the Provisions of the above-mentioned Act of the seventh year of His present Majesty, so far as the same relate to the Appointment of Writers in the Service of the East India Company, and to the Establishment of proper Rules and Regulations, respecting the qualifications of such Writers, shall continue and be in force until the Tenth Day of April, One Thousand Eight Hundred and Thirty-four.

And whereas by virtue of an Act passed in the forty seventh year of the Reign of His said late Majesty all such time as shall be bona fide spent in the College established in England by the East India Company for the Education of their Civil Servants, by any persons after they shall respectively have attained the age of seventeen years is accounted as to certain Offices, Places and Employments which such persons are entitled to hold in India, as so much time actually spent in India, provided that such persons shall either before or after seventeen years of age have spent two years at the least in the said College. And whereas it is expedient that the privileges so granted should under certain circumstances, be extended to young men who may have spent less time than two years in the regular course of Education at the said College; be it therefore enacted, that all such time not exceeding two years as shall have been or shall be bona finde spent in the said College in the regular course of such Education as aforesaid by any person after they shall respectively have attained the age of seventeen years who shall have proceeded or shall hereafter proceed to India in the Civil Service of the Company, shall be accounted as to all Offices, Places and Employments to which such persons are entitled to be appointed and to hold, the Salary, Perquisites and Emoluments whereof shall not exceed the sum of One Thousand Five Hundred Pounds, per annum, as so much time actually spent in India; any law or usage to the contrary thereof in any wise notwithstanding.

CIVIL ABSENTEE RULES.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT.

Bombay Castle, 21st February 1840.

The following Absentee Regulations established by the Government of India, and approved by the Hon'ble the Court of Directors, are declared applicable, to this Presidency, and are republished for general information :—

FORT WILLIAM.

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT.

THE 29TH JANUARY, 1840.

The following Rules for the grant of leave of absence and for regulating deductions from Salaries and Deputation Allowances having been approved and passed by the Hon'ble Court of Directors, are published for general information, and will take effect in all the Presidencies, Settlements and Stations under the Government of India from the date of the arrival of the Gazette containing them in respect to all leaves of absence granted after that date. The notes show the interpretation put by the Council of India upon the rules in their application to cases not specially mentioned.

Rules for application for leave of absence and for fixing the local limits within which it may be granted.

Section I. No leave of absence from any office or station can be granted, but by the Government of the Presidency under which the employment is held, and in the application of the party requiring such leave saving in such cases as may hereafter be specially excepted. The application must be made publicly through the regular channel in the Department which the applicant may belong.

Note.—This rule must be considered as superceding the rule under which Commissioners of the Land Revenue and other Officers have heretofore been allowed to grant leave of absence in Bengal.

Sec. II. The official allowances of the holder of a civil office quitting his station without leave will entirely cease from the date of his quitting until his return, or in the event of his subsequently obtaining leave to the date of such leave being granted to him.

Sec. III. No leave of absence shall have any retrospective effect except in cases of severe illness, to be attested by a medical certificate, conforming in every respect to the directions contained in Section V.

Sec. IV. Upon application duly made, the Government of each Presidency, may grant leave of absence to any place or places in the Continent of India whether within the Territories subject to the Government of the East India Company, or not, to any Civil or Military Servant holding a civil appointment, subject to all the conditions prescribed in the rules that may be applicable to his case. Upon similar application the Government of each Presidency may also grant leave to such persons subject to the like conditions, to proceed to the Island of St. Helena, the Colony of the Cape of Good Hope, or to any place situate between the 36th Degree of North Latitude, such place being likewise between the 30th and the 180th Degrees of Longitude East of Greenwich, excepting however any Islands in the Mediterranean or Levant, and excepting all places within the said Geographical limits which may form part of Europe. Provided also, that if at any time the Government of India shall deem it expedient to exclude any place or places within the limits above described from the operation of these rules, such exclusion shall be officially communicated to the subordinate Governments, and all leave subsequently granted shall be regulated accordingly. A Servant passing the limits herein prescribed will incur the immediate forfeiture of his office or employment, and of all official allowances whatever, from the date of his quitting India.

CHAPTER. 11.

Rules for Sick Leave:

Sec. V. When an application for leave of absence is made on the ground of ill health, it must be accompanied by a certificate from the Medical Officer by whom the applicant has been attended, distinctly stating from the personal observation, the nature of the disease, the symptoms by which it is manifested, the period during which it has existed as far as the knowledge of the Medical officer extends, and the necessity for temporary removal to some other place, either within the Territories subject to the Government of the East India Company or beyond them, but within the limits laid down in Section IV. as the case may be, and such certificate must be submitted to the consideration of the Medical Board, and if satisfactory, shall be countersigned by one of its Members. An application for an extension of leave must, if the applicant be in India, be accompanied by a certificate from the Medical Officer by whom the applicant is attended, shewing sufficient reason for the extension solicited, and such certificate like the former must be examined and countersigned by a Member of the Medical Board. If the applicant shall have proceeded beyond the Territories under the Government of the East India Company, he must furnish a certificate to the required effect from a Surgeon or Physician at the place of his temporary residence by whom he has been attended, such attendance and the period of it to be stated, and the certificate to be countersigned by the principal Medical Authority of the Colony or Country. When any of the required particulars are neglected leave will be refused.

Sec. VI. Civil Servants absent from their stations under medical certificate will be entitled to the salaries of their respective offices, subject to the following deductions. If the salary exceed Rupees 2,000 per mensem, one-sixth for the first year, and for the second year, one-fourth. If the salary do not exceed Rupees 2,000 per mensem, one-eighth for the first year, and one-sixth for the second. But if the salary of office be not more than Rupees 500 per mensem, no deduction shall be made for the first year; and if it be only so much more than the prescribed deduction of one eighth would reduce the allowance below Rupees 500 per mensem, only the excess beyond Rupees 500 shall be deducted. For the second year the Absentee shall become liable to the deduction of one-eighth. An absent Servant shall in no case retain any office or employment, nor be permitted to draw any portion of official salary for a longer period than two years, but a Civil Servant who may on account of sickness, duly certified, obtain an extension of leave beyond two years, will, if below the rank of a Senior Merchant, be allowed to draw the subsistence allowance of a Junior Merchant, and if a Senior Merchant, the subsistence allowance of his rank, but if he continue absent in disobedience of an order to return, or without sufficient cause shewn, that allowance also will be forfeited. The period of absence shall be computed from the date at which the Absentees shall quit the limits of the Territories subject to the Presidency to which he may belong, to the date of his return within such limits, or if he shall proceed beyond Sea from the date of his embarking at any place or port in India which is not more distant from his station than the ports of his own Presidency, but if the place to which he shall proceed shall be within the Territories subject to such Presidency, his period of absence shall be computed from the date of his quitting his station to the date of his return thereto.

Sec. VII. Civil Servants absent on leave on account of sickness, duly certified, if they proceed to England without returning to their Presidency, may, as heretofore, apply to be admitted to Furlough by the Hon'ble the Court of Directors, and the Furlough will in such cases take effect from the date of leaving their Presidency, consequently the allowances of office that may have been drawn by themselves or by their Agents after their departure, must in that case be re-adjusted, and the difference refunded.

Sec. VIII. No second leave will be granted to any Civil or Military Servant holding a civil appointment who has been absent under the above rules for two years, until three years at the least shall have passed after the date of such Servant's return, but if such a Servant is compelled by sickness again to absent himself from his station within three years after having

Note.—This rule applies to all descriptions of leave on account of health, excepting those granted under Sec: XII.

Thus a second leave within the Presidency, no less than a second leave to Sea will be computed as forming part of the period of two years, if taken before three years have elapsed since returned from the first leave, and the deductions will be made upon computation of the accumulated period of absence under all such leaves taken without the intervention of three years of consecutive service.

been absent under the above rule for less than two years, he will be allowed to complete that period, subject to the limitations and conditions heretofore prescribed drawing the proportion of salary allowed for the remaining time as if the leave had been continuous.

Sec. IX. Military Officers employed in the Civil Department and drawing a civil allowance may obtain leave under medical certificate on precisely the same conditions as Civil Servants, except as to allowances. Such officers, in common with those holding staff situations in the Military Department, will draw the Military Pay and Allowances of their rank while absent on leave under medical certificate, in the form and manner prescribed in General Orders in the Military Department, and likewise one-half of the difference between such allowances and the civil pay of the offices to which they stand appointed.

Sec. X. Civil or Military Servants holding civil appointments who may desire to avail themselves of the Act. 1. Vic. Cap. 47, and to draw their allowances while absent on account of sickness under the above rules, will be required to give security in such amount and form as may be fixed by the Government for the refund of any excess that may be drawn, either by the Agents at the Presidency or by themselves in case of their proceeding to Europe on Furlough or otherwise coming under retrenchment.

Sec. XI. The Government of each Presidency may grant to Civil or Military Servants holding civil appointments leave of absence for one month in each year without deduction from the salaries and emoluments drawn by such Servants. Such leave however will only be granted when the Government is satisfied that no inconvenience will arise from the departure of the Officer seeking it. No second leave can be granted under this rule until the completion of eleven months from the expiration of the last leave, but Servants not availing themselves of the indulgence in any one year may obtain, under the like conditions, leave of absence for two successive months, to commence at or after the expiration of 22 months from the termination of their former leave, and if two years elapse without enjoyment of the privilege, leave for three months may in like manner be granted at the expiration of 33 months from the termination of the last preceding leave. But no leave shall be granted under this rule for any period exceeding three months. If an Officer shall not return at the expiration of the period of leave granted him under this rule, he shall, if absent on private affairs, be subjected to the deduction of one-third of his salary and allowances for the entire term of absence, and if he shall continue absent for more than one month beyond the term granted, his office shall become vacant. If his protracted absence be occasioned by sickness, the case must be determined under the provisions of Chapter II.

Sec. XII. The Government of each Presidency may, on sufficient cause being shewn, grant to a Civil or Military Officer holding a civil office special leave of absence on private affairs. Provided however, that if any Officer to whom such leave shall be granted shall be absent from his station for any period exceeding that to which under the last rule he may be entitled without deduction, the absentee, if a Civil Servant, shall, for the period in excess, draw no more than one-half of his salary and allowances, and if a military officer, only so much of the salary and allowances of any civil officer to which he may stand appointed as added to the Military pay and allowances which he may be entitled to draw shall equal one-half of the emoluments of such civil office. After an absence of three months (exclusive of any period which may be granted under Sec. XI.) any office held by the absentee shall become vacant. No second leave under this rule can be granted until after the expiration of five years from the termination of the former leave, and the Government is specially to report each case with all the attendant circumstances to the Court of Directors.

CHAPTER. IV.

"Rules for leave preparatory to embarkation and for joining Stations."

Sec. XIII For embarkation to Europe on furlough, or with leave under medical certificate, or preparatory to retirement from the service, a Civil or Military Servant holding a civil appointment may take leave under such of the preceding rules as may apply to his case. If an Officer desirous of retiring or about to proceed to Europe on furlough, shall not under the previous rules be entitled to any leave of absence. Special leave may be granted him for one month if the distance of his station from the Presidency or the Port at which he shall intend to embark shall not exceed 300 miles—for two months if the distance be more than 300 and less than 600 miles, or if for three months if it shall exceed 600 miles, but such leave can only be granted under medical certificate—and the absentee, if a Civil Servant, shall be subjected to the deduction of one-third of his salary and allowances if not more than 2,000 Rupees per month, and of one half if they exceed that sum. At the expiration of such special leave it may be renewed for one month, subject to the same deductions on satisfactory evidence being produced that the Servant has been prevented leaving India either by severity of illness or by the difficulty of procuring a passage, but no further leave can under any circumstances be granted. A military officer holding civil employment who may obtain special leave under this rule shall draw only so much of the salary of his civil office as added to his Military pay and allowances will equal one-half of his civil emoluments. If a Civil or Military Servant holding civil office who may have obtained leave with the intention of embarking for Europe on furlough, retiring from the service, shall subsequently abandon the intention and return to his station, his absence will be regulated under such of the rules in Chapters 2 and 3 as may be applicable.

Note.—This rule is only applicable to Civil Servants, Military Officers appointed to Civil Office, will draw salary only from the date of joining as heretofore, the rule in force in respect to staff situations being applicable to them.

Section. XIV. There shall be allowed to Officers appointed to any new office the periods of one month, two months or three months for joining accordingly as the distance may not exceed 300 or 600 miles, or be in excess of the last mentioned distance. Officers not joining their station with the said periods respectively shall forfeit their salary for the time delayed in excess of the above periods, and if such excess shall exceed one month, the office shall be vacated unless otherwise specially ordered by Government.

Sec. XV. Upon the first appointment of any Civil Servant who shall be reported qualified for the public service by the Examiners appointed by the Government to any civil situation, there shall be allowed for travelling expenses to the station an allowance at the rate of 8 Annas per mile by the direct Post-road according to the Polymetrical Tables of the Post Office, the bill for which allowance will be passed by the Civil Auditor after the Officer shall have joined the station; if required in advance, an order of the Government shall be necessary.

Sec. XVI. The salary of office will be payable from the date only of the Officer joining, but in the case of junior Civil Servants, the salary of Assistants will be payable from the date of their being reported qualified for the public service, unless forfeited under the preceding rules through delay in joining the station to which they may be appointed.

Note.—This rule also is only applicable to Civil Servants. Military Servants drawing as in the case of staff situations, no civil salary from the time of leaving one office till the date of joining the other.

Sec. XVII. In case of a change of office when an Officer is appointed to a higher situation, he shall not draw the higher salary until he joins. For the period occupied in travelling, the Rule No. XIV. regulating the time and distance for joining station shall be applicable, and the Officer will, for the periods allowed in that rule respectively, draw out of the salary of the office he is about to join, a sum equal to that of his previous situation.

CHAPTER V.

"Rules for Deputation Allowances."

Sec. XVIII. The sum of Company's Rupees 52,200 per annum having been fixed under the orders of the Court of Directors as the maximum salary of civil office for the offices of Government under the situation of Member of Council—Civil and Military Servants holding office in the Political Department, who may draw larger allowances than this annual sum as a consolidated personal and sumptuary allowance in consideration of the necessary expences of their position will in all cases of absence, be treated in respect to deductions as drawing only

In cases where an Officer holding two appointments on being deputed to officiate for another, shall be relieved only from one he shall receive no deputation allowance unless the emoluments of the office in which he is deputed to act, exceed the united emoluments of his permanent appointments, and in that case the deputation allowance shall be limited to the difference.

Sec. XXI. No subordinate Officer acting for his Principal or for any other person holding a superior appointment in the same office or establishment, at the same station, shall be entitled to any deputation allowance until after the expiration of three months, and then the allowance is not to be drawn in arrear. When the entire sum received as deputation allowance may fall short of that which, according to the distance would be allowed for travelling expenses, the difference may be drawn. In all cases of absence under medical certificate, and in cases of absence on private affairs, when the absent Officer shall not be subject to deduction, such payments shall be made at the charge of the Government.

CHAPTER VI.

" Rules for Chaplains and Assistant Chaplains."

Sec. XXIII. Chaplains and Assistant Chaplains may, under medical certificate obtain leave of absence, subject to all the deduction, conditions and limitations prescribed in the case of civil servants, but no Chaplain or Assistant Chaplain can be permitted to draw any allowance, when his period of absence shall have exceeded two years.

Sec. XXIV. The Government of each Presidency may grant to Chaplains and Assistant Chaplains special leave of absence on private affairs, but if such absence shall exceed the period to which the Absentee may be entitled under the following rule, they shall for the period in excess be subjected to the deduction of one-half of their allowances, and after an absence of six months (in addition to any leave granted under the succeeding rule) all allowances shall be discontinued.

Sec. XXV. Leave of absence for one month in each year, or for two or three months as the case may be under the principle sanctioned in Sec. XI. may be granted to Chaplains or Assistant Chaplains by the Bishop of the Diocese, or when the Diocese may be vacant (but not otherwise) by the Archdeacon or other Ecclesiastical functionary performing the duties of an Archdeacon or Commissary; and such leave being consistent with the rule will be recognized by the Civil Auditor after it has been published in the Government Gazette of the Presidency with the authority of Government. Information of every leave so granted by the Bishop or other Ecclesiastical Officer abovementioned, shall be immediately transmitted to the proper Secretary to Government, for the purpose of notification in the Gazette.

Sec. XXVI. For embarkation on furlough, or sick leave, or with the intention of retiring from the service, Chaplains and Assistant Chaplains are entitled to the benefits of Sec. XIII, on the same conditions on which they are enjoyed by civil servants.

On any subsequent transfer from one station to another, the same allowance will be made if the transfer takes place not at the desire of the Chaplain removed, but by order of Government.

Officers of the Assay Department.

The Assay Master and Deputy or Assistant Assay Master of any Mint in India may obtain leave of absence under sick certificate, or on private affairs, subject to the conditions in the rules forming Chapters I. to V. The absentee, if in the enjoyment of any Military pay or allowance will during his absence, be subject to the deductions prescribed in the case of Military Officers holding civil employments. If not a Military Officer, the absentee will be subject to the same deductions as a civil servant under similar circumstance but no Officer of the Assay Department can be permitted to draw any portion of salary for a longer period than two years if absent under sick certificate, nor for a longer period than three months (exclusive of any period granted under Sec. XI) if absent on private affairs.

Resolution.—With a view to uniformity of practice at all the Presidencies, the following constructions of Rules of the Absentee Regulations, dated the 29th January, 1840, are ordered to be published for general information and guidance.

SECTION III.

SECTION III.

No leave of absence shall have any retrospective effect, except in cases of severe illness to be attested by Medical Certificate, conforming in every respect to the direction contained in section V.

1st.—The leave with retrospective effect referred to in this section is leave extending to absence antecedent to the permission of the Government—that is, to absence in anticipation of original leave without the excuse of sickness.

SECTION VI. AND VIII.

SECTION. VI.

Civil Servants absent from their stations under Medical certificate will be entitled to the salaries of their respective offices subject to the following deductions. If the salary exceed Rupees 2,000 per mensem, one sixth for the first year and for the second year one-fourth. If the salary do not exceed Rupees 2,000 per mensem, one-eight for the first year and one-sixth for the second. But if the salary of office be not more than Rupees 500 per mensem, no deduction shall be made for the first year, and if it be only so much more that the prescribed deduction of one-eighth would reduce the allowance below Rupees 500 per mensem only the excess beyond Rupees 500 shall be deducted. For the second year the absentee shall become liable to the deduction of one-eighth. An absent servant shall in no case retain any office or employment, nor be permitted to draw any portion of official salary for a longer period than two years; but a civil servant, who may, on account of sickness, duly certified, obtain an extension of leave beyond two years will if below the rank of a Senior Merchant be allowed to draw the subsistence allowances of a Junior Merchant, and if a Senior Merchant the subsistence allowances of his rank, but if he continue absent in disobedience of an order to return or without sufficient cause shewn, that allowance also will be forfeited. The period of absence shall be computed from the date at which the absentee shall quit the limits of the Territories, subject to the Presidency to which he may belong, to the date of his return within such limits, or if he shall proceeded beyond Sea, from the date of his embarking at any place or port in India, which is not more distant from his station than the Ports of his own Presi-

2.—A servant is not allowed to be absent, retaining "Office or Employment," or portion of Official Salary," for a period exceeding two years; but extension of leave may be obtained on account of sickness duly certified, and during such extension the Absentee is authorized to draw the subsistence allowance of the rank. If the absence be beyond the Territories of the Presidency to which the servant belongs, it is to be computed from the date of his quitting the limits of his Presidency to the date of his return with those limits, if beyond Sea, from the date of his embarkation from the port of his Presidency or from any port not more distant than the port of his Presidency to the date of his return within the limits of his Presidency. If the place to which he shall proceed be within the Territories subject to his Presidency, his period of absence shall be computed from the date of his quitting his stadency; but if the place to which he shall proceed shall be within the Territories subject to such Presidency, his period of absence shall be computed from the date of his quitting his station to the date of his return thereto.

SECTION VIII.

NOTE.—This Rule applies to all descriptions of leave on account of health, excepting those granted under section XII.

Thus a second leave within the Presidency no less than a second leave to Sea will be computed as forming part of the period of two years, if taken before three years have elapsed since return from the first leave and the deductions will be made upon computation of the accumulated period of absence under all such leaves taken without the intervention of three years of consecutive service.

No second leave will be granted to any civil or military servant holding a civil appointment, who has been absent under the above rules for two years until three years at the least shall have passed after the date of such servant's return, but if such servant is compelled by sickness again to absent himself from his station within three years after having been absent under the above rule for less than two years, he will be allowed to complete that period, subject to the limitations and conditions heretofore prescribed, drawing the proportion of salary allowed for the remaining time as if the leave had been continuous.

A second leave of this kind cannot be granted until three years at the least shall have passed after the date of such servant's return, but any time short of two years in a previous absence may be subsequently allowed in completion of two years. The Note attached to section VIII. specifies that this Rule applies to all descriptions of leave on account of health excepting those granted under section XII.

After two years of absence, continuous or accumulated, under these Rules if a servant obtain leave of absence on sick certificate before an interval has passed of three years, he cannot retain office or employment, or any portion of official salary, but he is entitled to the subsistence allowance of his rank. The Rule in section VI., if literally interpreted, would require the servant returning from beyond Sea, whose full period of two years has expired between the date of his embarkation, and the date of his return within the limits of his Presidency to be re-appointed to his Office. For the time spent in joining his station in excess of two years, he is entitled to draw only the subsistence allowance of his rank.

* "An absent servant shall in no case retain any office or employment, nor be permitted to draw any portion of official salary, for a longer period than two years."

It is not provided that in cases in which the full period of two years absence is composed of accumulated leaves, the intervals of time passed in the performance of duty shall be reckoned in part of the three years which must expire before a servant is eligible to a new series of leave.

But if this were not allowed, the operation of the Rule might be unintentionally severe on a servant, whose health should compel him to obtain leave of absence for a portion of the two years, say for only a month at the extremity of the three years after the date of his return, the same servant having been already absent for 23 months either all at once, or his absence at different times having accumulated to 23 months; it would not have been intended by the Rule that after 25 months of duty being entitled to one month on account of the old score, a new series of leave or a single instance of leave on sick certificate should not be obtainable for three years from the expiration of that one or 30th month.

The Rules do not prescribe any different rate of deduction from allowances during absence on sick certificate within the Territories of the East India company and during similar absence at the Cape of Good Hope, or within the limits out of the Territories of the East India Company declared in section IV. But they fix the computation of the servant's absence beyond the Presidencies to be from the date of leaving to the date of returning to the Port of his Presidency.

The Rules provide sufficiently for the audit of his allowances after two year's absence beyond Sea, until the servant re-joins his station, but they do not specify what rate of deduction is to be made from the Absentee's allowance for the time elapsing after departure from station and before embarkation. This therefore has required to be provided for by a new Regulation, or by some exposition of the existing rules.

The Rule that admits of an absence of two years enable a sick servant to reside sufficiently long in another climate under ordinary circumstance to re-establish his health ; for which object that protracted absence is permitted, when certified to be necessary. Forfeiture of appointment, therefore, does not take place till a full two years have transpired between embarkation and return to Port. If the latter part of the section VI. be taken to apply only to computation of absence as respects appointment, the course of the audit will be easy : For two years, reckoning from departure from station, to return to station, the deduction will be as laid down at the commencement of the section, and for any excess whether occasioned by the time elapsing before embarkation or after return to station, the servant will be entitled to subsistence allowance without losing his appointment.

SECTION XI.

The Government of each Presidency may grant to Civil or Military servants holding Civil Appointments, leave of absence for one month in each year, without deduction from the salaries and emoluments drawn by such servant, such leave, however, will only be granted when the Government is satisfied that no inconvenience will arise from the departure of the Officer seeking it. No second leave can be granted under this rule until the completion of eleven months, from the expiration of the last leave, but the servants not availing themselves of the indulgence in any one year may obtain under the like conditions leave of absence for two successive months, to commence at or after the expiration of 22 months, from the termination of their former leave, and if two years elapse without enjoyment of the privilege, leave for three months may in like manner be granted at the expiration of 33 months from the termination of the last preceding leave. But no leave shall be granted under this rule for any period exceeding three months. If an Officer shall not return at the expiration of the period of leave granted him under this rule, he shall, if absent on private affairs, be subjected to the deduction of one third of his salary and allowances for the entire term of absence, and if he shall continue absent for more than one month beyond the term granted, his office shall become vacant. If his protracted absence be occasioned by sickness, the case must be determined under the Provision of Chapter

SECTION XI.

3d.—The design of this Rule is to grant one leave of absence without loss of salary to the servant who is present at his duty for the periods specified.

The Hon'ble the Governor in Council is pleased to publish for general information, the following Extract from a Resolution passed on the 16th ultimo, by the Right Hon'ble the Governor General of India in Council, on the subject of the Allowances of Officers appointed to new situations, but who by the express order of Government may be prevented from entering immediately upon the duties thereof.

NOTIFICATION
FORT WILLIAM.

Financial Department, the 16th June 1841.

RESOLUTION.

The Governor General in Council remarks, that the Rule referred to No XVI. of the Regulations of the 29th January 1840 requires, in case of a change of Office when an Officer is appointed to a higher situation, that he shall not draw the higher salary until he joins.

His Lordship in Council considers it expedient strictly to maintain this Rule as one of general practice, and that no exception ought to be allowed otherwise than under special circumstances and exigencies of the public service.

His Lordship in Council is further of opinion, that as a general rule. Officers ought not to be appointed to situations for the duties of which they are not immediately available.

When an Officer for the convenience of the public service has been detained by an order of the Government in a situation of inferior emolument after he has been promoted, in such case the practice under the Bengal Presidency is to pass to him the higher salary of his new appointment, during the period of his being so detained. This exception to the Rule XVI corresponds with the exception provided for in Rule XX under the Chapter for Deputation Allowances, in which it is declared that no Civil Servant temporarily officiating for another shall draw an amount larger than the entire emoluments of the office in which he is officiating, but that the prohibition does not apply to the case of an Officer who may be deputed for special reasons to act in an office of inferior emoluments to his own.

In order to ensure uniformity of practice at all the Presidencies in the application of Rules XIV, XVI and XVII, it is hereby explained that Rule XIV refers to the appointment of Civil Servants previously not holding any permanent situation, such Servants for the first time appointed to a fixed situation after their return from furlough.

These Servants are entitled under Rule XIV to the allowances of their new office from the day of appointment, provided they do not come under forfeiture by exceeding the time prescribed for joining their station.

And Rules XVI and XVII are to be construed as applying to cases where there is a change of office, with increase of salary, a special course being prescribed with regard to Junior Civil Servanst ; they under Rule XVI are authorized to draw the salary of Assistant from the date of their being reported qualified for the public service, unless forfeited through delay in joining the station to which they have been appointed.

The Hon'ble the Governor in Council is pleased to publish the following Extract, Para: 2d, from a letter, (No. 19) dated the 2nd ultimo, from the Honorable the Court of Directors, for general information.

Extract from a letter from the Honorable the Court of Directors in the Public Department (No. 19) dated the 2nd July 1841.

Para. 2nd. We have to remark, that the Absentee Regulations, sanctioned by our dispatch in this Department dated the 31st December 1824, never intended that a Civil Servant having once drawn the furlough allowance of £250 per annum should be again allowed, under any circumstances, to receive an allowance from the Company if he should come to this country a second time before completing an actual residence in India of ten years.

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT, THE 29TH SEPT. 1841.

Conformably with a Rule prescribed by the Honorable the Court of Directors, the Right Honorable the Governor General in Council is pleased to determine, and to notify for general information, that no Civil Servant or Military Servant holding a Civil appointment, required by the exigencies of the service, to discharge the duties of a second office, will be entitled to draw the salary of the two offices.

NOTIFICATION.

General Department.

The sudden departure of any Civil Servant from his station on sick certificate having been found to be productive of great inconvenience to the Public Service, the Honorable the Governor in Council is pleased to establish it as a Rule, that in all cases the receipt of the sanction of Government should be awaited unless the Medical Attendant should certify his opinion that the delay would be prejudicial to the health of the party. It is often necessary that measures should be adopted for supplying the place of the Absentee, and unless the disease be of an alarming and urgent nature but little inconvenience can arise to the party being obliged to wait the orders of Government.

By order of the Hon'ble the Governor in Council.

Every Member who shall have been appointed and duly authorized to act as proxy, for any one or more absent Members, shall before he is allowed to act as such proxy, signify to the Meeting at the commencement thereof his intention of so doing, and shall produce the required authorities to act as proxy, and the same shall be registered with the names of the Members present.

SEC. 14th. No one Member shall, at such General Meeting, be allowed to vote as proxy for more than three absent Members.

SEC. 15th. ARTICLE V.

FUND.

SEC. 1st. The objects of the Institution and Fund are fourfold :—

1st. To provide for those Members who are obliged by ill health to leave India for a time the means of doing so, in case their furlough allowance and passage money, when entitled to them from Government, or their private fortunes, are inadequate to the expense.

2ndly. To provide for those Members who, by unavoidable accident or misfortune, are compelled to renounce the Service.

3rdly. To provide for the Widows and children of deceased Members. And, 4thly. To give all those Members who have served in the Civil Service 25 years, and actually resided 22 years of that period in India, or if compelled by ill health to quit India before completing that period, after a residence of fifteen or ten years as the case may be, Annuities on their retiring from the Service.

SEC. 2nd. In order to secure to each its proper attention, the Fund shall be divided into two branches—the Provident Branch and the Annuity Branch—and the Accountant shall separate and keep the accounts under these two distinct heads.

SEC. 3rd. In addition to the monthly contributions of the Subscribers, the Provident Branch shall be credited with the remainder of the balance of the Old Fund as it stood on the 1st May 1825, after deducting the sum of Rupees 5,33,333 to be transferred from that date to the Annuity Branch, together with the difference between 8 and 6 per cent interest on the capital of the Annuity Branch of Rupees 5,33,333—and with interest at 8 per cent. per annum as allowed by the Honorable Court of Directors.

SEC. 4th. The Provident Branch shall be applicable to the payment of all demands arising from the three first objects of the Institution, as likewise for the payment of all extra charges of management, Establishment Printing, &c., an annual credit of Rupees 4,500 being on that account given to the Provident Branch by a debit to the Annuity Branch.

SEC. 6th. The Annuity Branch shall be made applicable for the payment to retired servants, of all Annuities of £1,000, £500, and £250 as well as that of £400, with a distinct understanding that the capital transferred on account of the Annuities of the old Fund is finally to merge in the New Fund; that the number of Annuities of £400 shall at no time exceeding eighteen; and that so soon as all claims upon the Old Fund are satisfied, the contribution from the Honorable Company of £2,800 per annum shall entirely cease.

ARTICLE. VI.

SEC. 5TH.—Subscribers, who have remained on the Old Fund, shall be considered in respect to their personal privileges and those of their Widows and children as Members of the Fund under the Regulations that were in force on the 30th April 1825, but subscribers, who have reverted to the Old Fund under the concluding clause of the preceding section, will, in the settlement to be effected for their personal privileges, only be entitled to credit for the contributions made to the Annuity Branch of the Fund, the Subscriptions paid to the Provident Branch being reserved for the claims of the Widows and Children, and being further increased by the adoption of the course prescribed in Article VIII. of the Regulations.

ARTICLE VII.

CONTRIBUTION OF MEMBERS.

SEC. 1st. The Subscribers shall contribute from the 1st May 1825, for the purposes of the Annuity Branch, four per cent. upon their Salaries and authorized emoluments however denominated; compensation for travelling expences, House Rent, Tentage, and temporary deputation allowance excepted.

SEC. 2nd. In addition to the four per cent. subscriptions to the Annuity Branch, the Subscribers shall contribute at the following rates upon their salaries and allowances as above, for the purposes of the Provident Branch.

Married Members	3 per cent.
Widowers and Unmarried Members	2 per cent.

the subscriptions on this account being liable to be increased or decreased agreeably to the apparent necessities of this Branch of the Institution, as deduced by a quinquennial adjustment of its assets and liabilities, and it being incumbent on each Member to intimate the date of his Marriage.

SEC. 3rd.—Married Members with Families may also at their option contribute at the following rates for their Children, the benefits of the Institution being dependant on the rate at which the subscription is paid, as hereinafter defined.

For Daughters at ½, or ¼, of 1 per cent.

For Sons at ½ of 1 per cent.

on their salaries and allowances, as above, the rates being liable in like manner to be increased or decreased.

SEC. 4th.—Members desirous of securing these benefits should intimate their intention to the Secretary to the Fund within one month from the date of the birth of the child. In failure of such intimation within the prescribed time, but if made within three months, the subscriptions will be levied with interest at 8 per cent. and with a fine of Rupees (50) fifty; and if made within six months, with interest at 8 per cent., and with a fine of Rupees (100) one hundred; after which latter interval the admission of the Child to the extended benefits will be dependant on the decision of a General Meeting and subject to such penalty as they may choose to fix. Members, absent in Europe, should in like manner intimate their intentions to the Agents of the Fund.

SEC. 5th. Should the amount of the subscriptions with interest levied under the foregoing sections on account of the Provident Branch fall short of one third of the value of the Annuity or Annuities granted by the Institution, a deduction at the rate of one-sixth is to be made from the Annuity or Annuities allowed by the Fund, until the minimum amount, payment of one third has been completed. In calculating this minimum amount, though the Annuity to each child is, as herein provided, to depend on the contribution paid, the subscriptions received are to be taken collectively, and the deduction to be made is to be determined in the like manner. In cases of second or other Marriages, the Subscriptions, in estimating the minimum demand, are to date from the previous Wife's decease, but in the adjustment of the minimum payment, the subscriptions paid during a first, second, or other marriage are to be taken as a deduction for the claims of the children born during the existence of each marriage respectively.

SEC. 6th. Payment of the several contributions shall be made on the 1st day of each month, and shall be deducted from the Abstract of Civil Servants by the Disbursing Officers at each Station.

SEC. 7th. SEC. 8th. When a Member of the Institution shall return to the Civil Service of Bombay, he shall resume his contributions.

SEC. 9th. The following officers shall be and accordingly are requested to collect and remit to the Secretary for the time being to the Civil Fund, the contributions which may be due from Civil Servants within their respective stations, viz: at the Presidency, the Sub-Treasurer and General Paymaster; at all Revenue stations, the Collector; at all Political or other stations, the Resident, or other Disbursing Officer.

SEC. 10th. Any Subscriber in India who shall omit to pay his contributions for the period of four months in succession, shall be required to discharge all such arrears and forfeit to the Provident Branch a sum equal to one half of the amount, and if such omission shall continue for eight months, the sum forfeited in addition to arrears shall be equal to the whole amount of his unpaid subscriptions.

SEC. 11th. The word contribution is to be understood only as including the monthly contributions of a Member according to the rates hereinbefore specified, and not any sum which he may have paid as penalty or repayment of any former sum granted, lent, or advanced by way of Pension, Allowance, or former Annuity.

ARTICLE VIII.

MEMBERS RETIRING FROM INDIA.

SEC. 1st.—Annuitants of £1,000 wishing to secure to their Widows and Children the benefits of the Provident Branch of the Institution may continue their contributions at the same rates on their annuities as those levied from Members in the Service on their allowances and under the same conditions in regard to minimum payments and liability to increase of rates, an option being allowed to each Annuitant to pay up at the period of resigning the Service in lieu of all claims on account of contributions to the Provident Branch a sum equal to the rate of percentage levied from the Service for Widow and Children, calculated according to the value of an Annuity on the Joint Lives of Husband and Wife and of Father and Child at 8 per cent but the settlement being open to future adjustment in the event of the necessities of the Fund requiring an enhanced rate of contribution, and the Annuitant being liable to pay up in the same manner for each Child subsequently born, and the additional premium as a Married Member in case of subsequent marriage.

subscriptions paid to the Provident Branch, may continue his contributions to secure to himself and his Family the benefits of the Provident Branch of th Institution.

SEC. 4th.—If he die in such retirement, his Widow and children shall be entitled to the benefit of the Fund the same as those of a Member continuing in India, in the event of his having paid to the Fund a monthly contribution to the Provident Branch of Rupees fifteen, twenty, thirty, or forty, according to rank or in direct contribution the sum of Rupees five thousand, inclusive of subscriptions previously paid. If he be in the receipt of the smaller Annuity he may, after paying the amount prescribed for non annuitants, in direct contribution, continue his subscription on his Annuity in the manner laid down for the larger Annuities, the optional subscription for Children being equally available to him.

SEC. 5th.—The resumption of the payment of contributions as provided in the preceding Section is to commence from the close of the third year from the date of the Member quitting India, or from the commencement of the smaller Annuity, if the latter period be earlier.

SEC. 6th.—If a Member or smaller Annuitant die in such retirement having ceased to subscribe to the Fund and not having contributed the sum of Rupees five thousand to the Provident Branch, it shall be at the option of the Subscribers at large to admit his Family to the benefit of the Fund or otherwise, all right and title thereto having by such omission of payment lapsed.

SEC. 3rd—The interest of any Subscriber who may be suspended from the Honorable Company's Service, shall be in abeyance, but shall revive on his restoration. If he be permitted (whether the permission be granted at the time of, or during his suspension, or at the time of his restoration) to draw salary from the period of his suspension, then his contributions to the Fund for that period shall be claimable and the intervening time shall be reckoned as actual service, but if he be not allowed salary for the period of his suspension, then no contribution shall be claimable from him for that period, and which in that case is not to be computed in the term of service necessary to qualify him for the acceptance of an Annuity.

SEC. 4th.—Should any Subscriber be engaged in India in private business and thereby voluntarily exclude himself from public employ, his Subscriptions to the Fund shall cease, and in the event of his thereafter relinquishing such private business and resuming employ in the service, his subscriptions may be resumed, but the intervening period shall not be reckoned in the time necessary to qualify him to become an Annuitant; and this rule shall be equally applicable to all persons now in the Service who may have been, or may be engaged in private business.

SEC. 11th. The actual value of all Annuities granted under this and the preceding Article, as well as those already granted, shall be passed to a separate account on the Books of the Institution under the head of "Appropriated Funds of the Provident Fund," agreeably to the value shewn in the annexed Tables, and by which Tables the one third minimum value is also to be determined.

SEC. 12th.—At the close of every fifth year the Trustees shall, according to these Tables, calculate the actual values of the pending Annuities to Widows and Children of deceased Members, and shall then compare the total of their values with the assets belonging to the appropriated Funds of the Provident Branch of the Institution—Should these assets exceed in value of the said total the difference shall be transferred back to the credit of the Unappropriated Funds of the Provident Branch, and be available for the purposes of the Institution; on the other hand, should the value of the said assets be less than the total aforesaid, the deficiency shall be supplied by a transfer from the latter Branch to the former.

SEC. 13th.—At the same period, or quinquennially, the Trustees shall prepare and submit a complete valuation of the Assets and Liabilities of the Unappropriated Funds of the Provident Branch, and found thereon a recommendation for an increase or decrease of the contributions according to the apparent necessities of the Institution.

ARTICLE XIII.

SEC. 1st. All applications for admission to the benefits of the Fund shall be made to the Committee of Managers and Trustees for the time being, accompanied with the necessary documents, proofs, and informations, to enable the Committee to ascertain the situation and circumstances of the party in whose behalf the application is made.

SEC. 2nd. The Committee of Managers and Trustees after calling for any further information or evidence which may appear to them to be requisite, may admit the claim if in every respect conformable to the Regulations; but if there be any irregularity they are to submit the application with the whole of the papers received by them for the determination of the Members, at the next General Meeting.

SEC. 3rd. In cases of emergency or distress however, when the Committee may consider that the party for whom application is made is entitled to the benefits of the Fund, notwithstanding any irregularity in the application, the Committee shall have the authority to advance such proportion of the allowances hereinbefore fixed and specified, as may appear to them indispensably requisite, till a determination can be finally made upon the application by the General Meeting.

SEC. 4th. It shall be requisite in all cases of application made to the Fund for assistance to the Children of a deceased Subscriber, subject to the restriction in regard to property and coming under the Provisions of Section III. of the preceding Article, that an authenticated copy of the Will of the deceased or if he shall have died intestate, that a full and authentic statement of any property left by him, and of the legal claimants thereto, be submitted for the information of the Managers and Trustees.

ARTICLE XIV.

Right of Members to Annuities.

Sec. 1st.—Every Member who has been actually twenty five years in the Service including one furlough to England, not exceeding three years absence from India, and who has resided twenty two years in India, shall be entitled in turn to the offer of any Annuity of £1000 which may be vacant, according to his seniority in the Service, and his right of precedence from which seniority shall not be barred by his refusal in a preceding year, whether he is resident at the time in India or in England.

Sec. 2nd.—In case of an equivalent amount of the foregoing Annuities, within the limits prescribed by the Honorable Court, remaining unappropriated, Annuities will be granted at the following rates of Members, who, after a residence in India as therein stated, shall previously to completing the prescribed term of twenty two years' residence, be compelled by illness to leave India with the intention of quitting the Service, such illness to be certified by the Medical Attendant of the Subscriber, and countersigned by a Member of the Medical Board, and confirmed in each instance of retirement by the Examining Physician to the Honorable Company after the Member shall have completed a subsequent residence in England of at least twelve months.

After a residence of ten years.....£250 per annum.
If before ten years' residence.....a donation of £500.

Sec. 3rd.—The period of Service commences with the date of appointment as a Writer, or the date of the Covenant, which ever is prior. The period of residence from the date of arrival at the Presidency.

Sec. 4th.—A Member of the Service, who, being in England or on the way to England when New Regulations were assented to at Bombay, and not having therefore yet assented to them and who shall not be in India or on the way thither on or before the first day of March, 1827, shall not be entitled to hold an Annuity until he shall have resided five years in India after his return to the Service.

Sec. 5th.—Any Subscriber who may accept the tender of an Annuity of £1000, or who may apply for one of the smaller Annuities, shall be required to entitle him to such Annuity to pay to the Institution previous to the date at which the Annuity is to commence, the difference between one half (temporarily one fourth in the case of the Annuity of £1000 as sanctioned in the Honorable Court's Dispatches of the 27th May 1835, and 20th March 1838) of the actual value of the Annuity on his life, in Sicca Rupees, and the accumulated value of his contributions, with interest at 6 per cent. per annum, in case the latter quantity shall be less than the former, but should the contributions be in excess, such excess shall be refunded. Such Annuity, if required may be made payable either to the date of decease only, or quarterly and to the date of decease, the benefit of the quarterly issue of the Annuity not being available singly, upon the payment of the full value, of the increased advantage, as shewn in the annexed Tables.

Sec. 6th. Any Member so choosing, may decline paying the difference defined in the foregoing rule, and shall in such case be entitled to an Annuity diminished in proportion to the sum by which the accumulated value of his contributions is less than one half (temporarily one fourth) of the actual value of an Annuity on his life.

Sec. 7th. The declaration of the willingness of any subscriber to accept an Annuity must be stated "on honor," and a subscriber so accepting the Annuity shall at the same time furnish the Secretary and Accountant to the Fund with his Baptismal Certificate or a declaration "upon honor" of his age.

Sec. 8th. The resignation of the Honorable Company's Service is an essential condition to entitle an individual to an Annuity from the Institution, and Annuitants will not be permitted to return to the Service. It is therefore provided that when a Member accepting an Annuity shall resign the Service after the first day of May of the year within which the said Annuity is made to commence, he shall in such case at the close of that year only draw the Annuity from the date of his resignation, a sum proportionate to the time intervening between the first day of May and that date, being deducted for the benefit of the Institution, and the premium which was due on the first day of May preceding being paid.

SEC. 9th. The Annuities are fixed at Rupees 10,000, Rupees 5,000, and Rupees 2,500, payable in England at 2s. the Rupee being respectively, unless made payable quarterly, and to the day of death, £1,000, £500, and £250 Sterling.

SEC. 10th. The number of Annuities offered shall not be more than may complete three (3) per annum from the 1st of May 1826, which number is also to include any of £400 to persons, who on the 1st of May 1825, had not retired from the Service, either by resignation or by an absentee of more than five years from India, but this number is not intended to include the smaller Annuities granted to Invalids. Temporarily, and whilst allowed at one fourth value one third of the Unappropriated Annuities lapse to the Fund.

SEC. 11th. The Annuities shall commence on the first of May in each year, beginning with the year 1826, that is to say, shall fall due at the end of the said official years, and in like manner the succeeding Annuities shall commence on the 1st day of the following official year, and fall due at the close of each year respectively. The quarterly payments will be made on the 1st days of February, May, August, and November in each year.

SEC. 12th. No Annuity shall be tendered for acceptance to any Member who may be at the time of its falling vacant, under temporary suspension by order of the Government or of the Court of Directors, but in such case, it shall pass on to the next Member in succession who may be entitled to the acceptance of it, unless such Member shall have been restored to the Service before it shall come to his turn to have it tendered to him for his acceptance.

SEC. 13th. At a convenient period before the close of each year the Trustees of the Fund shall require, according to seniority, a sufficient number of Subscribers to signify their willingness or otherwise to retire on the Annuity to be granted by the Fund, and in case of the absence from India of Members, such requisition shall be made to their constituted Agents in Bombay. It will of course be incumbent on the Members duly qualified to become Annuitants previous to leaving India to empower one or more persons in Bombay to act on their behalf, and to communicate to the Trustees the names of such Agents. Such Members previous to quitting India must leave information of their age either in the Civil Fund Office, or with their Agents, agreeably to Section 7 of this Article, and should likewise intimate in what manner they wish to draw their Annuities, whether annually, annually and to the day of death, or quarterly and to the day of death, to enable the amount of fine chargeable to them on their accepting Annuities to be calculated.

SEC. 14th. Those Members, to whom a requisition may be made as above provided, and on whose part no reply may be received on or before the 1st day of November of the year preceding that in which the Annuities intended to be granted may commence, and those who may have quitted India and failed to empower any Resident in Bombay to act for them during their absence, shall be regarded as having virtually intimated for the time being, their unwillingness to retire on the Annuity.

SEC. 15th. Should any Subscriber, having resided in India in the Civil Service not less than 22 years, and been a Member of it the full period of 25 years, retire from the Service before the option of an Annuity may devolve on him, he shall be entitled to the same in his proper turn without any payment to the Fund, save what may be claimable from him to complete the fine of one half (or one fourth) of the actual value of the Annuity on his life, on taking up such Annuity.

SEC. 16th.—The right of an Annuitant to receive the Annuity for any particular year shall depend on his having survived that year, unless the same has been secured to the date of decease, as provided for in Section 5 of this Article.

SEC. 17th.—The actual value of Annuities, tendered and accepted as above, shall be passed to a separate account on the books of the Institution, under the head of "Appropriated Funds," and to the debit of this account shall be entered all payments in satisfaction of Annuities.

SEC. 18th.—At the close of every third year the Managers shall, according to the Annexed Tables, G. H. and I calculate the actual values of the pending Annuities, and shall then compare the total of their values with the assets belonging to the Appropriated Funds of the Institution—Should those assets exceed in value the said total, the difference shall be carried to the credit of the Unappropriated Funds of the Annuity Fund, and be available for the purposes of the Institution; on the other hand, should the value of the said assets be less than the total aforesaid, the deficiency shall be supplied by a transfer from the latter Fund to the former.

SEC. 19th.--In discharge of each Annuity of Rupees 10,000, Rupees 5,000, or Rupees 2,500, granted by the Fund, the sum of £1,000, £500, or £250 as the case may be, shall be paid to the Annuitant through the Company's Treasury in London, at the close of the year in which the Annuity may commence or according as the instalments may fall due in the case of quarterly payments, the Trustees of the Fund undertaking at the like periods to pay over to the Government of Bombay the equivalent sums for each Annuity so payable under the principles upon which the Company's contribution is to be regulated--including the payments for the quarterly issues and for the payments to the date of decease.

SEC. 20th.--The actual value of an Annuity of any Subscriber, as well as the additional payments for its continuance to the date of decease, or for its quarterly issue and continuance to the date of decease, shall be determined by the annexed Tables.

SEC. 21st.--In computing the amount of fine to be paid into the Treasury by a Subscriber previous to his becoming an Annuitant, credit shall be given him for the total amount of his Subscriptions to the New Fund since the 1st of May 1825, with compound interest at the rate of 6 per cent, together with his subscriptions to the Old Fund without interest up to the 1st May 1825, in the same proportion as the Capital transferred to meet the Annuities bears to the whole Capital of the Fund.

SEC. 22nd. To determine the accumulated value of the contributions of any Subscriber, the Accountant shall keep separate accounts of each Member, and these accounts shall be annually made up with the rate of interest allowed by the Company.

SEC. 23rd. A Member upon becoming an Annuitant, and expressing his wish to receive his Annuity in England, shall be furnished with a formal certificate declaratory of his admission to the Annuity, and of the manner in which it is to be drawn by him under the hands of not less than five Members of the Committee of which the Secretary shall be one. A duplicate of this Certificate shall be furnished to the Government for transmission to the Honorable Court of Directors in London.

GENERAL ORDERS BY THE HONORABLE THE PRESIDENT IN COUNCIL.

Fort William, 9th December 1837.

The Honorable the President in Council, has much pleasure in publishing to the Army, the following Extract. Paras. 2, to 5, of a Letter from the Court of Directors, to the Government of India, No. 5. dated 20th September 1837, announcing the grant of additional advantages to the Senior Officers of the Army, in respect of Retiring Pension.

In our letter of the 23d December 1835 we announced to you, that as we considered it hopeless to expect, that any military retiring fund could be successfully formed, we had thought it right, so far as we could feel justified in doing so, to provide for the object contemplated in schemes of that nature, by an enlargement of the Retiring Regulations, and that we had in consequence, resolved to grant the full pay of captain to every Officer who should have served in India 23 years (3 years furlough), where he had attained that rank Regimentally or not, and the full pay of each of the superior ranks of Major, Lieutenant colonel, after the completion of an additional period of five years service for each of those ranks in succession viz.

For Major's pay.....28 years service, including 3 years for a furlough.
For Lieutenant Colonel's pay 33.....ditto.....ditto.
For Colonel's pay.....38.....ditto.....ditto.

2d. Being now of opinion, that some additional advantage in respect to the periods of retirement, may properly be granted to the senior officers who would havee been more especially the immediate objects of benefit from a retiring fund, had such a fund, been established, we have resolved, that the period of service to qualify an officer for the pay of each advanced rank after that of Captain, shall be reduced from five to four years; the periods of service in India required for each rank, being consequently hereafter as follows, vizt.

Every officer who shall have served 23 years (3 years furlough included), shall be allowed to retire on the pay of Captain, whether he shall have attained that rank Regimentally or not.

Every Officer who shall have served 31 years (3 years furlough included,) shall be allowed to retire on the pay of a Major, whether he shall have attained that rank or not.

Every officer who shall have served 35 years, (3 years furlough included.) shall be allowed, to retire on the pay of a Lieutenant Colonel, whether he shall have attained that rank or not.

4th. These arrangements to have effect without prejudice to any claims arising out of the Retiring Regulations as established in the year 1796.

5th. We desire that it may be distinctly understood, that the present is a final measure. You will accordingly decline to forward to us any application which may have in view a further extension of the Regulations now established with regard to the retirement of our military servants.

We are, &c.

(Signed) J. STUART, Lieut. Col.

Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of India, Military Department.

London, 20th Sept 1837.

Officers coming to England on furlough, are immediately to report their arrival by letter to the Secretary, stating the name of the ship in which they came and their address, forwarding at the same time the certificates they received in India.

The period of furlough is three years, reckoning from its date to the day of the return of the Officer to his Presidency.

Officers are required to join the establishment to which they belong at the expiration of three years furlough, unless they shall have obtained an extension of leave from the Court, six months before the expiration of that period. No furlough will be extended, except in cases of sickness, certified in the manner hereafter mentioned, or in cases which it shall be proved to the Court that a further residence in Europe is indispensably necessary.

All officers finding it necessary to solicit a further leave of absence on account of sickness must, if resident in London or its vicinity, appear before the Company's examining physician who will report to the Court of Directors his opinion on the state of such officer's health. And if resident in the country in any part of the United Kingdom, they must transmit, with their letter of application for such leave a certificate of the following form, signed by at least two gentlemen, eminent in the medical profession:—

I hereby certify, that I have carefully examined (state the nature of the case as well as the name of the party) and I declare, upon my honor, that, according to the best of my judgment and belief —is at present unfit for Military duty, and it is absolutely necessary for the recovery of his health, that he should remain at least — longer in this Country.

Also, previously to such extension of furlough being granted, such further proof shall be adduced by personal examination, or by such other evidence as shall be deemed satisfactory.

Officers abroad in any part of Europe applying to remain a further time from their duty, on account of sickness, are to furnish a certificate of two eminent physicians, in the above form with the attestation of a Magistrate that the persons who signed the certificate are physicians.

Officers having obtained an extension of furlough to a given period, must, at its expiration, apply for permission, either to return to their duty, or to reside a further time in England.

No Officer who has failed to obtain an extension of furlough will be considered eligible to return to the service after five years absence, under the Act of the Geo. III, cap 52, sec. 70.

Every Officer upon leaving India will receive a printed copy of the General Orders on this subject, published agreeably to the Court's instructions, and the plea of ignorance of the regulations will not be admitted as any justification of the breach of them: officers, therefore, who shall come home on furlough and who shall not in due time apply, as to effect their return to the Presidency to which they belong within the period of three years, from the commencement of their furlough will subject themselves to the loss of the service, unless they shall be permitted by the Court to remain a further time in Europe.

No officer on furlough can receive pay for more than two years and half from the period of his quitting India, excepting Colonels of Regiments, and those of the rank of Lieutenant Colonels regimentally, when promoted to that of Major General, they are then allowed to draw the pay of their rank beyond the above period.

All Officers who quit India on furlough, shall, for the period during, which by existing regulations they receive pay, be allowed at the following rates.

SECTION. IV.

CAUSE OF EXCLUSION FROM THE BENEFITS OF THE FUND.

1. A Subscriber prior to the orders of the Hon'ble Court, withdrawing from the Fund, forfeits ipso facto, all claims to the benefits derivable from it, as also the amount of his donation and subscription, and all other sums which he may have paid up to the period of secession.

2. The non payment of donation, subscription, or any other sums demanded from them in conformity to the Regulations, shall exclude Subscribers from all the benefits derivable from the Fund.

3. Also the non-compliance with any Regulation of the Military Fund or the bringing under litigation any decision which has been passed in conformity to these Regulations.

4. All income derived from the Bombay Military Fund is declared to be unalienable, and the fact of attempting the alienation of such income in any manner, or under any pretence, shall be deemed in itself a forfeiture of all future benefits from the Fund.

5. The widow of a Subscriber who shall have been legally divorced or separated from her husband, or who shall, at the time of his death, have quitted his protection, or shall be living in a state of adultery, though not legally separated or divorced, shall not be entitled to any benefits from the Fund, under any circumstances whatever.

6. If, after the widow of a Subscriber shall have been admitted to the benefits of the Fund, it shall at any time appear to the satisfaction of the Directors, that she is living in a state of incontinence, or in a manner discreditable to the memory of her husband, she shall forfeit all claims to the benefits derivable from the Fund, and shall in future be deprived of her annuity.

SECTION V.

EVENTUAL BENEFITS OF THE FUND.

1. Independent of the benefits which have been recited, the Bombay Military Fund is considered as holding out the prospect of eventual benefits under the following circumstances:—

2. If at any future period it shall be found that the fund of the Institution afford a considerable surplus, after providing for the actual and probable applications for relief under preceding articles, it shall then, and not otherwise, be competent for the Directors of the Institution, provided the permission of the Hon'ble Court of Directors be obtained, to afford the aid of the Fund in the following cases:—

First. To Subscribers compelled by ill-health to abandon the country after ten years service, and before they are entitled to retire on full pay, the regulated passage money of their rank and an annuity which shall render their total income, from whatever source derived, equal to the full pay of their rank.

(a) These, comprise Passage money Equipment and Income allowances.

Second.—To Officers who may have served twenty-two years in India, and may be compelled by ill-health to retire from the service, without having attained the rank of Major, the regulated passage money of their rank, and such assistance from the Fund, as will tender their whole income, from whatever source, equal to the pay of Major; and, as in the case of widows, the possession of an income not exceeding half the pay of a Major of Infantry, shall not occasion abatement from the provision to be made from the Fund.

Third.—In the event of a still further surplus, it shall be competent for the Directors of the Military Fund at their discretion, to assist Officers retiring from the service on full pay, in limited circumstances, with a sum equal to the regulated passage money of their rank, provided always that the resignation of such Officer shall actually have been accepted, previously to his embarkation.

Fourth.—Should the Fund, however, at any period fall short of the demands upon it, so that the annual income will not defray the amount of the annuities and other claims, then it shall be in the power of the Directors to make a proportionate deduction from the annuity of each annuitant, and from the payments to other claimants above the rank of Subaltern, until the state of the Fund shall afford the means of complete payment; when, if a surplus income exists, the arrears shall be made good from the amount of surplus, but not otherwise.

ALTERATIONS IN THE SERVICE

Superintendent's Office, Bombay 19th July 1839.

The Superintendent publishes for the general information of the service, the following extracts from the letters of the Hon'ble the Court of Directors under dates the 28th February and 9th of May last, relative to the substituting Steam for Sailing vessels in the Indian Navy.

"The Conveyance of Mails for packet Service being already provided for, the remaining purposes for which the Indian Navy would be required, are against an enemy in case of War, for the transport of Troops, Stores, and Treasure, the protection of the trade from piracy and for Surveying, and as we have no doubt that all these objects would be attained more effectually by Steam than by sailing Vessels it is our intention to effect the arrangement with the least possible delay, and as a first step towards it we have resolved to build two suitable Steam Vessels of War."

We shall hereafter take into consideration the alteration which may be necessary in the establishment of Officers, consequent on the substitution of Steam Vessels for sailing in the Indian Navy, in the mean while, we think it desirable that an opportunity should be afforded to the officer if possible of obtaining information and experience upon the subject of Steam Navigation and Marine Engineers which will in the altered state of the service to which they belong be expected of them in addition to the ordinary professional acquirements of Naval Officers, and you have our authority to make such arrangement as may appear to you calculated to encourage and facilitate the attainment of the desirable qualification.

"The Establishment for our Steamers employed as vessels of War must of course differ in the grade as well as in number from the Establishments of your Steamers employed as Packets under the same difference existing in the Royal Navy. The accommodations for the officers in the Packets, cannot consistently with the purpose of such Vessels be so convenient as they are in Vessels of War, but so long as the officers employed are all members of the same Service and have relative rank, according to seniority in the list of the Indian Navy, there can be no distinction between the commander and officers of a War Vessel and of a Packet except that which naturally arises from the dates of their respective commissions; but in order to remove any ground of complaint upon that head we direct that the command, of the Steam Vessels when employed as Packets, be restricted to Lieutenants, unless an officer holding the rank of commander shall be desirous of such command, and that in selecting the officers for the command due regard be had in all cases to seniority when combined with efficiency: we however positively interdict the employment of mates of merchantmen or any other than commissioned or Warrant officers of the Indian Navy in any situation of command or responsibility on board any of our Vessels excepting in the Engine room."

"In the event of any of the officers being desirous of quitting the Indian Navy, in consequence of the altered condition of that service, we have resolved to permit them to retire from it upon the following scale of Pensions, provided however that the total number of the officers who may be desirous of availing themselves of this permission do not exceed one-third of the present strength of the Indian Navy, and that preference given to the Senior grades, vizt :—

To the Captain £360 per annum, the amount of the retired Pay fixed for that rank by the regulation without prejudice, however, to succession to the Pension of the Senior List as vacancies occur therein.

The Commanders £360 per annum (the present retiring pay of Captain) but without further prospect.

To Lieutenants who have actually served 15 years in India £290 per annum (the present retired pay of Commander) but without further prospect, and to Lieutenants who have not served actually 15 years India £190 per annum being the retiring pay of Lieutenant after 22 years service without further prospect.

"The offer of retirement is to be made to each Captain, Commander and Lieutenant who must signify his determination thereon within three Calendar months from the receipt of such offer.

"You will forthwith promulgate this arrangement, but you are not to make any promotion on the vacancies occasioned by its operation until you shall have received our further instructions."

BY THE SUPERINTENDENT OF THE INDIAN NAVY.

Superintendent's Office, Bombay 9th November 1839.

The Superintendent desires to notify to the service that in pursuance of an order from the Hon'ble the Court of Directors, the Hon'ble Governor in Council is pleased to direct that the measure of placing the Steam Packet Vessels on the footing therein ordered be carried into effect vizt:—that Lieutenants shall be appointed to command them unless a commander shall specially apply for the appointment.

This arrangement to be accomplished by placing passed Midshipmen in charge of watches.

The assistant Surgeon is by the Regulations of the service entitled to mess with the Lieutenant and to be admitted to the commander's Table, on the sum denominated subsistance or net pay.

The Hon'ble the Governor in Council is pleased to sanction the following scale of pay to passed Midshipmen and Clerks in charge on board the Steam Packet Vessels.

Passed Midshipmen the usual Batta viz :—Two Rupees per diem in addition to their pay.

Clerks in charge performing the duties of Purser to receive the same rate of pay as at present.

To the Midshipmen who have not passed Rupees (20) Twenty per monnth in addition to their pay.

SHIPS WITH PACKETS.

A ship bound to Madras and Calcutta, and bringing the E. I. Company's Box Packets to both, will receive 100 Rs. for all those packets delivered at Madras, and an additional 50 for all those brought on to Calcutta.

A ship bound to Madras only, or Calcutta only, will receive 100 Rs. for all her E. I. Company's box packets delivered at the port to which they are destined.

For bringing E I. Company's box packets from Madras to Calcutta, 50 Rs. are allowed.

On the occasion of a person claiming the usual compensation for having brought out Government Despatches from Sydney, Melbourne, and Adelaide, he was told that the Governor of Bengal could find no precedent for paying gratuity upon the packets of Her Majesty's Colonial Governments, the usage in respect to packets brought from England referring only to packets contained in boxes delivered for conveyance for the East India House, not upon terms of freight, or under any fixed law or regulation.

An appeal having been made at Bombay, against the enforcement of the penalty prescribed in Clause XVI. of Act XVII. of 1837 or the Post Office Act, ordered to be levied from a commander of a vessel, by whom the mails for the General Post Office were detained for some days after the arrival of his vessel in port, and the ground on which the appeal was founded being, that the practice in Calcutta was never to levy the fine unless it could be proved that the delay had arisen from wilful detention, and information being requested as to the interpretation to be assigned to the clause above quoted, especially as regards the word, 'wilful,' as used in that clause, and its application to cases of carelessness and oversight, it was ruled that if it became necessary to procure the conviction of the offender before a magistrate, as provided for in Section 8, of Act XX. of 1838, the Magistrate would have to put his own interpretation on the meaning of the word, 'wilful,' as used in the clause referred to.

112. The Right Hon'ble the Lord Commissioners of the Admiralty, having signified their wish that we should consider the expediency of augmenting the allowance made by the Company to the Commander-in-Chief of His Majesty's ships in India, after an attentive perusal of our former Proceedings on this subject, we have resolved that the allowance to a Commander-in-Chief of His Majesty's ships in the East Indies, who shall be specially appointed from home for that purpose, be augmented from £1,500 to £3,000 per annum and we therefore direct, that Commodore Cornwallis be allowed to draw such augmentation of allowance, from the time of his arrival in India.

NAVY TREASURE FREIGHT.

The Government allow the commanders of sea-going steamers ½ per cent., i. e. two annas in the rupee per cent. The rates on board H. M. S. are :

	Crown Treasure.	*Private Gold	Silver.
Distance not exceeding 600 leagues and less than 2000, per cent	1	1½	1½

The Crown Regulations divide Treasure Freight as follow : ¼ to the Admiral ¼ to the Captain and ¼ to Greenwich Hospital.

NAVY CHARGES.

Her Majesty's Ships, when placed at the disposal of the Government of India, under its requisition stand on the same footing in respect to Pilotage charges as the Public Vessels of the Government. The Pilot charges incurred by such vessels are credited in account against the expenses of the Pilot Establishment, but are not paid of course by the Government to which the sevice is rendeed The Pilotage charges of H. Majesty's Ships are similaly exhibited in account, and entered as a charge of the Government instead of being paid as at present by bills on Her Majesty's Treasury, and so charged on the General Revenues of Great Britain.

In this view the Marine Board, upon the arrival of any of Her Majesty's Ships at the Port, apply to Government to ascertain whether the vessel is here under Government requisition, and assigned for Government employ, or is a visitor at the Port, upon duty unconnected with the Government, so as to be liable as heretofore to Pilotage charges, payable by Bill on Her Majesty's Treasure.

NAVY.

A Bill was presented by the Commander of the Pilot despatch vessel for Table allowance on account of Nine Officers of H. M. S. Favorite, who were conveyed to Diamond Harbour, where H. M. Ship was lying. The Government would not admit the claim of Officers coming up to Town from a Ship of War, or rejoining their vessels in the River, otherwise than on duty (which was not the case on this instance) to have the table money on account of their passages provided for them in Government Vessels, defrayed by Government.

NOTES ON SPECIAL CASES.

AFFECTING PERSONS INTERESTED

IN

EXCHANGE OF PAPER.—No. 1.

On an application being made by a party to be allowed, in lieu of certain Government Notes of the five per cent loan paid off, a similar amount in the new 4 per cent. loan, bearing the same date which they would have borne, if a constitutional transfer had been made before the liquidation of the loan, it was ruled that the transfer, should take effect only from the day of presentation.

FORCE OF COPIES OF BILLS.—No. 2.

Mr. A. B. applied for acceptance of copies of thirds of seven sets of bills drawn on the Government, the originals being on board a ship from China which was overdue ; and the first and second supposed to be lost in another vessel.

Acceptance was declined ; but Mr. A B. was informed that the presentation might be noted to give the holder the advantage of time as to date of sight, and that at the proper time payment might be ordered should there be good reason to believe all the originals lost, upon certificates from the Financial Agents at Canton, and under the guarantee of an established house.

ADMISSION OF LETTERS AS POWER OF ATTORNEY.—No. 3.

On an application from Mr. A. B. that certain letters from Mr. C. D. might be admitted as a power of attorney, to enable him to receive the principal of a Govt. Promissory Note of 1823, standing in the name of Mr. E. F. (deceased) Mr. C. D. and Mr. A. B. (the applicant), his request was complied with under general guarantee.

RECOGNITION OF TRUSTEES.

It has been ruled that no account shall be opened on the Stock Books recognizing parties as trustees, and that promissory Notes, and Bills of Exchange, thus describing parties, should not be issued.

PROMISSORY NOTES NOT SUSSEPTIBLE OF SEQUESTRATION.—No. 5.

On a notice being received from the Sheriff of Calcutta under writ of Sequestration, demanding an account and possession of certain Company's paper the Accountant General was instructed to reply that Promissory notes being negociable securities, the Govt. would be under obligation to pay to the person to whom they might be assigned, and that Govt. held nothing susceptible of sequestration by a notice of the kind received.

TRANSMISSION OF GOVERNMENT PROMISSORY NOTES BY DAK.—No. 6.

Two or three instances having come to light of the abstractions of parcels containing Govt. Promissory notes in course of transit through the Post Office, arrangements have been made to guard against such occurrences, by issuing notes with signatures and numbers in Duplicate, to enable them to be divided and forwarded by separate daks, the 2d half after the acknowledgenment of the receipt of the 1st.

INTEREST.—No. 7.

Mr. A. B. claimed the difference between 5 and 6 per cent. interest from the 31st December 1834, to the date of declared payment of certain 6 per cent Remittable Notes transferred to 5 per cent. Loan, and not subsequently to either of the book debts. It appeared that the 6 per cent. remittable notes were advertized for discharge in two portions—the notice for the discharge of the first expiring on the 10th of August 1835. The property of Mr. A. B. in one of the two notes, upon which he claimed the difference of interest, was stated to have been acquired on the 22nd March 1836, in the other on the 16th November of the same year. As in both instances his right did not accrue until sometime after all claims to interest at the rate of 6 per cent, had ceased, it was ruled by the home authorities in concurrence with the opinion of the advocate general at Calcutta, that Mr. A. B.'s application ought not to be complied with.

INTERESET.—No. 8.

In a case where interest was due on account of stock transferred, the question arose whether the transfer conveyed interest since the last half-yearly payment up to the period of transfer. This question was referred to the advocate general who decided in the negative. The local and home governments concurred in that decision.

ADMINISTRATION TO ESTATES.—No. 9.

An application in 1838, from the Governor of Serampore, in connexion with the estate of a deceased native of Denmark, for permission to administrators of estates at that settlement to administer to property situated within the British territories without taking out letters of administration in the Supreme Court was refused, on the ground that the Government had no power to interfere with the process of administration prescribed by law, except by an act of the Legislative Council.

DITTO.— 10.

Joykissan Doss was a banker in the city of Benares. By his will, executed in Aug. 1832, he bequeathed the whole of his property to any son that might thereafter be born to him, and in the event of his having no son, to his daughter, an only child, then in the fourth year of her age, and to his wife, and any wives and grandsons in the female line that he might subsequently have. It his daughter should have a son, such son was to be entitled to the whole property on his attaining his sixteenth year. Certain monthly allowances were to be paid to his wife and daughter, a house was assigned for their residence, and ornaments of a certain value bequeathed to them. The will also appropriated sums for the performance of the testator's obsequies, and those of his wife, for the marriage of his daughter, and for allowances to other parties, as well as a number of directions on various points. To carry into effect the trusts and bequests of the will, the testator appointed the company his attorney and manager, and in the failure of descendants from him, either in the first or second generation, and the death of his wife, the company were to succeed to the entire property, subject to the payment of a monthly allowance to his father, provided he had not swerved from a certain stipulation, and to the payment on his death of the expenses of his funeral rites. By a codicil executed in September 1834, he referred specially to the three Government Agents for the time being, as the officers of the company, who would become charged with the execution of the trusts of his will, and the administration of his effects, and provided that if they should decline the duty, the Ecclesiastical Register of the Supreme Court should become his executor. Joykissen Doss died in December 1835, leaving a widow and the daughter above referred to, his only child.

It appears that on the above facts being brought to the notice of Government it called upon its agents to administer to the will of Joykissen Doss as executors These gentlemen prayed to be absolved from undertaking this duty; and it was ruled at home that the functions of an executor to a will formed no part of the duties of Government. Further, that in the case of parties dying intestate, it was necessary indeed that the law should interfere to prevent property being wasted or diverted to improper channels, and this duty has been assigned to a particular officer. But that if the practice were sanctioned, of Government undertaking the onerous, difficult, and frequently dangerous office of executor, it was not easy to determine how far it might be carried.

In addition to these general objections, the particular case of Joykissen Doss was open to several special ones. The trusts under the will were numerous and complicated, the property though nominally large, appeared to be scattered in a variety of quarters, and much of it to be not very easily capable of realization. There were large claims upon the firms which had become insolvent, other large portions were involved in what appeared an almost inextricable mass of litigation and might perhaps be further embarrassed by the hostile disposition said to be entertained towards the deceased by his surviving relations. Under such circumstances it was ruled that the Government would be justified in acceding to the request of the Government Agents to be permitted to renounce the executorship. Further that the duty of the Government Agents to execute the will under review did not necessarily appertain to their public character, and its discharge involved personal liability which could not descend to their successors. Other reasons were stated, and orders issued from home against Government taking upon itself in future such cases as that under review.

OMISSION TO ENDORSE BILLS.—No. 11.

Messrs. A. B. and Co. applied to Government for an order for payment of 4 accepted bills for Sa. Rs 60,000, which Capt. C. D. of the ship E. F., by whom they were transmitted had omitted to endorse. The application was complied with, on receiving a guarantee from messrs A. B. and Co. to produce a power of attorney from Capt. C. D., and on his letter to the firm, being deposited an interim with the Government. It has however been decided that this case is not to form a precedent, and that further and most complete security must be taken in further similar cases.

RATE OF EXCHANGE FOR H. M.'S SERVICE FOR 1840-41.—No. 12.

The rate of exchange for bills to be drawn in the official year 1840-41, in repayment of advance for the Queen's service in the East Indies has been fixed with the concurrence of the Lord Commissisners of Her M.'s Treasury, at two shillings and one half penny, 2s. ½d. the C's. Rupee.

CONSTRUCTION AS TO AUDITED SALARY BILLS.—No. 13.

On the question whether the Government in the case of its having a claim against the drawer of an audited salary bill, would recognize the bonâ fide transfer by endorsement to a third party, it was stated to the Secretary to the Bank of Bengal, that it was the practice of the Government to order retranchments to be made through the civil auditor, prospectively upon the bills that might be subsequently brought for audit. It was added that the Government could scarcely imagine the case in which it could interfere between the audit and payment of a bill passed to an officer to whom the sum passed was absolutely due at the time of audit

BANK OF BENGAL POST BILLS.—No. 14.

It has been ruled by the Home authorities that Bank Post Bills are to be received at Mofussil Treasuries on precisely the same conditions as Bank Notes.

A DETAIL OF BENGBL GOVERNMENT SECURITIES AS AT PRESENT OPEN.

INTRODUCTION.

THE only explanation which is conceived necessary, to render the scheme of the following Calendar fully understood, is that the Christian Months indicated at the top of each page, divide the Native Months as they appear, represented in the space below allotted to their names; January, for example, partakes of the Hindoo months, Murroo, Poush and Magh; Guzeratt, Duxun, and Concan; Poush and Magh; and Malabar, Dhanuh and Magaram; the Parsee months Saharsoyee, TEER and AMOORDAD; Chureegur, AMOORDAD and SHARAVER; and the date of Nowroz 125 to 155; and the Mahommedan months, Zilkad and Zilhuz.

From the columns is to be collected that the 1st of January corresponds with the 1st of Poush Shood Marroo; and Guzeratt, Duxun, and Concan; and the 19th of Dhanuh Malabar; the 5th of Teer Saharsoyee; the 5th of Amoordad Chureegur; and the 125th day of Nowroz or Chureegur; and the 29th of Zilkad Mahommedan; and so throughout the year.

There is a third mode of reckoning time among the Hindoos called Marroo, which has been introduced according to the style practised in the Eastern and Northern parts of Hindoostan; the new year of Vekramajit commences with their month of Chyter Sood corresponding with the Chyter Sood of the Guzeratt style.

It may here be observed that the Hindoos employ a mode of computing time peculiar to themselves, dividing the month into thirty parts each equal to the time occupied by the Moon in passing through an Arc of her orbit of 12 degrees; hence these parts are unequal to each other and not reconciled to our days; thirty of them, which, they call Tiths, being equal only to twenty nine days and a half; which and their inequality to each other, have obliged us occasionally to retrench or repeat one of them, as we have found it most expedient, in adjusting them to our reckoning.—It is also to be noted, that the increase of the Moon they call Sood, and the decrease Vud, counting as we have done.

The present scheme also embraces the Parsee Æra of Yezde zerd commonly styled Chureegur or Dureeayee Nowroz or Sea-reckoning, the same being made use of in all nautical calculations among the Asiatic Mariners, the year of which commences, with the month of Furverdeen or August; the Parsees established in India, having in the disorders and troubles incident to the earlier days of their emigration to this Country, lost a month in their calculation of time, reckon the Nowroz to fall in September, and term the discordant style Saharsoyee.

We have also endeavoured to discriminate the Feasts and Festivals of each Nation by different sorts of Type; the Hindoos for example, we have distinguished by Roman small letters, as Poush Sood; the name of the Malabar month by Roman capitals, as MAGARAM: the Parsees by the small capitals as AMOORDAD; and the Mussulman, by Italic small letters, as Rumzan.

Every Monday is a fast day with the Hindoos, but not rigidly observed.
